Conflicting Stories Elizabeth Ammons, 1992-10-01 The early 1890s through the late 1920s saw an explosion in serious long fiction by women in the United States Considering a wide range of authors African American Asian American white American and Native American this book looks at the work of seventeen writers from that period Frances Ellen Harper Charlotte Perkins Gilman Sarah Orne Jewett Alice Dunbar Nelson Kate Chopin Pauline Hopkins Gertrude Stein Mary Austin Sui Sin Far Willa Cather Humishuma Jessie Fauset Edith Wharton Ellen Glasgow Anzia Yezierska Edith Summers Kelley and Nella Larsen The discussion focuses on the differences in their work and the similarities that unite them particularly their determination to experiment with narrative form as they explored and voiced issues of power for women Analyzing the historical context that both enabled and limited American women writers at the turn of the century Ammons provides detailed readings of many texts and offers extensive commentary on the interaction between race and gender This book joins the deepening discussion of modern women writers creation of themselves as artists and raises fundamental questions about the shape of American literary history as it has been constructed in the academy

My Antonia Willa Cather, 2006-02-09 As I looked about me I felt that the grass was the country as the water is the sea The red of the grass made all the great prairie the colour of wine stains And there was so much motion in it the whole country seemed somehow to be running My Antonia 1918 depicts the pioneering period of European settlement on the tall grass prairie of the American midwest with its beautiful yet terrifying landscape rich ethnic mix of immigrants and native born Americans and communities who share life's joys and sorrows Jim Burden recounts his memories of Antonia Shimerda whose family settle in Nebraska from Bohemia Together they share childhoods spent in a new world Jim leaves the prairie for college and a career in the east while Antonia devotes herself to her large family and productive farm Her story is that of the land itself a moving portrait of endurance and strength Described on publication as one of the best novels that any American has ever done My Antonia paradoxically took Cather out of the rank of provincial novelists as the same time that it celebrated the provinces and mythologized a period of American history that had to be lost before its value could be understood

From Alice to Algernon Holly Blackford, 2024-01-12 During the late Victorian period Charles Darwin's theories took the world by storm and the impact of evolution on research into the developing human mind was impossible to overlook Thereafter the study of children and childhood became a means to theorize imagine and apply the concept of evolution in a broad range of cultural productions Beginning with the watershed Victorian era From Alice to Algernon The Evolution of Child Consciousness in the Novel examines the creative transformation these theories underwent as they filtered through the modern novel especially those that examined the mind of the child By examining the connection between authors and trends in child psychology author Holly Blackford explains why many modern novels began to focus on child cognition as a site for intellectual and artistic exploration In each chapter of this book select novels of the late nineteenth or twentieth century are paired with a specific moment or movement from the history of developmental psychology Novels such as Mark Twain's Huckleberry Finn and Henry James's What Maisie Knew or Radclyffe Hall's less canonical The Well of Loneliness and even Mark Haddon's The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night Time showcase major questions about human epistemology through their child characters From Lewis Carroll's Alice and her looking glass to Richard Wright's Bigger Thomas and the murder of Mary Dalton to the chaotic Neverland symbolizing the unmappable child's brain a literary tradition of child consciousness has emerged as an experimental site for the unstable concepts of evolution civilization and development By situating literature about children within concurrent psychological discourses Blackford demonstrates how the modern novel contributed to the world's understanding of the boundless wonders and discernible limits of child consciousness
