Painful Inheritance:

Pain Genetics Inna Belfer, Luda Diatchenko, 2013-11-15 Pain Genetics Basic to Translational Science is a timely synthesis of the key areas of research informing our understanding of the genetic basis of pain. The book opens with foundational information on basic genetic mechanisms underlying pain perception and progresses recently discovered complex concepts facing the field. The coverage is wide ranging and will serve as an excellent entry point into understating the genetics of pain as well as providing a single resource for established researchers looking for a better understanding of the diverse strands of research going on in the area. With contributors painstakingly selected to provide a broad range of perspectives and research Pain Genetics will be a valuable resource for geneticists, neuroscientists and biomedical professionals alike. Unpalatable

Carrie Helms Tippen, 2025-01-15 The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success. From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective rich ingredient lists, the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure. Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain, loss, privation, exploitation, poverty and suffering of various kinds. While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past, others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity. Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation, reparation or apology for past wrongs. In Unpalatable Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks, author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience, one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain. Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present, Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed, some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence, and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation. Feminist Spiritualities Joshua R. Deckman, 2023-07-01 Feminist Spiritualities aims to complicate contemporary debates surrounding Black Latinx experiences within a critical framework of decolonial thought. Women of color feminisms politicized emotional structures and anti-imperial politics. Joshua R. Deckman considers literary and cultural productions from Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba and their diasporas in the United States, exploring epistemic spaces that have historically been marked as irrational and inconsequential for the production of knowledge, including social media posts, song lyrics, public writings, speeches and personal interviews. Analyzing works by Yolanda Arroyo Pizarro, Mayra Santos Febres, Rita Indiana, Hernández Ana, Maurine Lara, Elizabeth Acevedo, María Teresa Fernández Nitty Scott, Lxs Krudxs Cubensi and Ibeyi, Deckman shows how these authors develop afro epistemologies grounded in Caribbean feminist spiritualities and manifest a commitment to finding joy and love in difference. Literary anthropological and more Feminist Spiritualities weaves through a series of fields and methodologies in an undisciplined way to contribute new close readings of recent works and fresh assessments of well-known ones. Transforming Pain to Power Daniel
