¹ Those who describe their religion as "nothing in particular" are subdivided into two groups. The "religion not important" group includes those who say (in Q.F2) religion is "not too" or "not at all" important in their lives as well as those who decline to answer the question about religion's importance. The "religion important" category includes those who say religion is "very" or "somewhat" important in their lives.

Political Attitudes In America Myth And Reality Sa:

Handbook on Political Trust Sonja Zmerli, Tom W.G. van der Meer, 2017-01-27 Political trust in government parliament or political parties has taken centre stage in political science for more than half a century reflecting ongoing concerns with the legitimacy and functioning of representative democracy To provide scholars students and policy makers with a tool to navigate through the complexity of causes and consequences of political trust this Handbook offers an excellent overview of the conceptual theoretical methodological and empirical state of the art complemented by accounts of regional particularities and authored by international experts in this field International Bibliography of Social Science International Committee for Social Science Information and Documentation, 1984-03-15 First published in 1984 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor

Francis an informa company Eliminating Racism Phyllis A. Katz, Dalmas A. Taylor, 2013-06-29 The chapters presented here provide the reader with an awareness of the divergent views of what constitutes racism and frameworks for reducing it This book points out that the dialogue and research on this subject since the mid 1970s have yielded increased controversy over the theories foundation and continued existence of racism Ironically what we viewed in the 1954 Brown decision and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 as the beginning of the end of racism turned out to be the beginning of confusion over the course of action to ensure societal acceptance of political mandates Hence the title of this book captures the essence of the emotional core of any forum for examining racism past and present One of the most controversial forums has been that of education beginning with the US Supreme Court's 1954 ruling in Brown v Board of Education Behind every event that has spawned controversy is a profile in courage It was not a simple decision for the players in the scenario of the Brown v Board of Education case to step forward and present themselves as evidence of discrimination Black parents supported by black organizations viewed this legal action as a chance for equal opportunity Yet the 1950s were a time when black communities were pained by the thought that bigotry and institutional racism would forever stand in the way of their achieving equality

Tweeting to Power Jason Gainous, Kevin M. Wagner, 2013-11-29 Using theory and data Gainous and Wagner illustrate how online social media is bypassing traditional media and creating new forums for the exchange of political information and campaigning The authors illustrate how political actors utilized these networks to control the flow of information and garner votes in the 2010 congressional elections Re-examining Liberation in Namibia Henning Melber, 2003 From 1960 SWAPO of Namibia led the organised and later armed struggle for independence In late 1989 the liberation movement was finally elected to power under United Nations supervision as the legitimate government When the Republic of Namibia was proclaimed on 21 March 1990 the long and bitter struggle for sovereignty came to an end This volume takes stock of emerging trends in the country's political culture since independence The contributions mainly by authors from Namibia and Southern Africa who supported the anti colonial movements critically explore the achievements and shortcomings that have been part of liberation in Namibia Henning Melber was Director of the Namibian Economic Policy Research Unit NEPRU in
