

Standards for School Age Child Care Programs

(Revised July 2012) (www.qualitystepsny.org)

Learning Environment

There is substantial evidence that:

- Program environment/features are critical to program quality and there is limited evidence that method and appropriate program materials support children's development.
- Quality of staff-child interactions contributes to quality of child-reared care settings and sustained evidence that children with enriched and responsive environments show better outcomes across a wide range of child development domains.
- Developmentally appropriate curriculum is related to better measures of program quality.
- Developmentally appropriate curriculum is related to positive child and youth outcomes.

There is a moderate amount of evidence that:

- Developmentally appropriate curriculum is associated with improved child and youth development outcomes.

Program Environment	Measurement ¹
