Reasonably Radical:

Recognizing Justice for Citizens with Cognitive Disabilities Kacey Brooke Warren, 2015-01-30 Although undeniably subject to the coercive political institutions of a liberal state citizens with cognitive disabilities have frequently and without justification been denied political equality and political liberty Rather than opposing this treatment philosophers have tacitly condoned it often by silence and other times by explicitly neglecting the concerns for justice that these citizens have In Recognizing Justice for Citizens with Cognitive Disabilities Kacey Brooke Warren searches for a theory of justice that can adequately address these concerns Students and scholars of philosophy political theory and disability studies will benefit from Warren's discussion of four of the most influential contemporary theories of justice and her analysis of which of the four is most promising for extending political equality and political liberty to citizens with cognitive disabilities Building Capitalism Anders Åslund, 2002 The Oxford Handbook of Environmental Political Theory Teena Gabrielson, Cheryl Hall, John M. Meyer, David Schlosberg, 2016-01-07 Set at the intersection of political theory and environmental politics yet with broad engagement across the environmental social sciences and humanities The Oxford Handbook of Environmental Political Theory defines illustrates and challenges the field of environmental political theory EPT Featuring contributions from distinguished political scientists working in this field this volume addresses canonical theorists and contemporary environmental problems with a diversity of theoretical approaches The initial volume focuses on EPT as a field of inquiry engaging both traditions of political thought and the academy In the second section the handbook explores conceptualizations of nature and the environment as well as the nature of political subjects communities and boundaries within our environments A third section addresses the values that motivate environmental theorists including justice responsibility rights limits and flourishing and the potential conflicts that can emerge within between and against these ideals The final section examines the primary structures that constrain or enable the achievement of environmental ends as well as theorizations of environmental movements citizenship and the potential for on going environmental action and change

Europe's Constitutional Mosaic Neil Walker, Josephine Shaw, Stephen Tierney, 2011-06-14 This book emerged from an extended seminar series held in Edinburgh Law School which sought to explore the complex constitutional arrangements of the European legal space as an inter connected mosaic There has been much recent debate concerning the constitutional future of Europe focusing almost exclusively upon the EU in the context of the failed Constitutional Treaty of 2003 5 and the subsequent Treaty of Lisbon The premise of the book is that this focus while indispensable offers only a partial vision of the complex constitutional terrain of contemporary Europe In addition it is essential to explore other threads of normative authority within and across states embracing internal challenges to state level constitutional regimes the growing jurisprudential assertiveness of the Council of Europe regime through the ECHR and various democracy building measures as well as Europe's ever thicker relations both with its border regions and with broader international institutions especially those of the United Nations Together these developments create increasingly dense networks of constitutional authority within the European space This fluid and multi dimensional dynamic is difficult to classify and indeed may seem in many ways impenetrable but that makes the explanatory challenge all the more important and pressing Without this fuller picture it becomes impossible to understand the legal context of Europe today or the prospects of ongoing changes The book brings together a range of experts in law legal theory and political science from across Europe in order to address these complex issues and to supply illustrative case studies in the topical areas of the constitutionalisation of European labour law and European criminal law

Spaces of Global Knowledge Diarmid A. Finnegan, Jonathan Jeffrey Wright, 2016-03-09 Global knowledge was constructed communicated and contested during the long nineteenth century in numerous ways and places This book focuses on the life geographies material practices and varied contributions to knowledge be they medical or botanical cartographic or cultural of actors whose lives crisscrossed an increasingly connected world Integrating detailed archival research with broader thematic and conceptual reflection the individual case studies use local specificity to shed light on global structures and processes revealing the latter to be lived and experienced phenomena rather than abstract historiographical categories This volume makes an original and compelling contribution to a growing body of scholarship on the global history of knowledge Given its wide geographic disciplinary and thematic range this book will appeal to a broad readership including historical geographers and specialists in history of science and medicine imperial history museum studies and book history Political Exclusion and Domination American Society for Political and Legal Philosophy. Meeting, 2005 The contributors to this volume explore the concepts of exclusion and domination from a wide array of theoretical approaches liberal and republican feminist and pluralist They address topics ranging from racial segregation to criminal sanctions from the role of the political philosopher to the instruments of genocide They disagree sometimes mildly and sometimes profoundly over how we should construe the forms of exclusion and domination that most command our attention Ultimately these authors shed important light on the meaning of justice and injustice in contemporary society

Negotiating Diversity Matthew Festenstein, 2005 Debates about cultural diversity have become an important controversial and inescapable features of the politics of modern democracies Negotiating Diversity offers a lucid and accessible analysis of the political theory of multiculturalism It is an ideal text for students looking for an overview of the state of play in this area The book explores the ways the concept of culture has been used in political theory and critically evaluates contemporary liberal responses to multiculturalism including the work of key political philosophers such as Will Kymlicka Brian Barry and Chandran Kukathas drawing on a range of real world examples to illustrate its arguments It provides critique of the tendency to reify cultural identity in political thinking particularly through an examination of contemporary liberalism In its place the author develops a deliberative alternative which views the politics of cultural diversity as a fallible process of negotiation argument and compromise He confronts objections that this alternative itself offers an unrealistic or oppressive vision of politics and explores the fragility of trust in the politics of multicultural societies

Criticism of Earth Roland Boer, 2012-06-08 Criticism of Earth thoroughly reassesses Marx and Engels's engagement with theology drawing on largely ignored texts Thus alongside opium of the people Hegel's philosophy of law and the Feuerbach theses other works are also central These include Marx's early pieces on theology continual transformations of fetishism and lengthy treatments of Bruno Bauer and Max Stirner Engels too is given serious attention since he moved beyond Marx in appreciating theology's revolutionary possibilities Engels's Calvinism is discussed his treatments of biblical criticism and theology and his later writings on early Christianity's revolutionary nature The book continues the project for a renewed and enlivened interaction between Marxism and religion being the fourth of five volumes in the Criticism of Heaven and Earth series

Queer Ministers' Voices from the Global South Lisa Isherwood, Hugo Córdova Quero, 2023-10-13 This book brings together the narratives of diverse ministers from the Global South in order to show that queer theologies are impacting many parts of the world and queer lives are molding and enriching Christian ministry Across Asia Africa and Latin America we are witnessing the emergence of queer faith based communities in very different contexts and with very different histories The perspectives included in the book form a tapestry that honors diversity among the Global South's queer communities and ministries They demonstrate the various ways in which queer ministry challenges and changes theological understanding as well as religious practice Each chapter highlights issues pertaining to liturgy sacraments pastoral rites and the personal faith journey that each minister underwent to foster pastoral queer theologies Contributors focus on their understanding of the relationship between faith and sexuality how rituals relate to the daily lives of queer believers and the struggles they face within the political structures of religious institutions The narratives highlight some of the challenges and mechanisms deployed to cope with ingrained LGBTIQ phobia They also evidence how communities enact interreligious and multi religious dialog and rituals while honoring faith and activism and how prophetic ministries counter oppressive discourses and colonial performativities This is a valuable resource for academics and religious leaders interested in the study of queer theologies Asian African and Latin American Christianity as well as ecclesiastical and liturgical issues

Politicizing Political Liberalism Gabriele Badano, Alasia Nuti, 2024-10-22 How should broadly liberal democratic societies stop illiberal and antidemocratic views from gaining influence while honouring liberal democratic values This question has become particularly pressing after the recent successes of right wing populist leaders and parties across Europe in the US and beyond This book develops a normative account of liberal democratic self defence that denounces the failures of real world societies without excusing those supporting illiberal and antidemocratic political actors This account is innovative in focusing not only on the role of the state but also on the duties of nonstate actors including citizens partisans and municipalities Consequently it also addresses cases where the central government has at least been partly captured by illiberal and antidemocratic agents Gabriele Badano and Alasia Nuti's approach builds on John Rawls's treatment of political liberalism and his awareness of the need to contain unreasonable views that is views denying that society should treat every person as free and equal through a mutually acceptable system of social cooperation where pluralism is to be expected The authors offer original solutions to vexed problems within political liberalism by putting forward a new account of the relation between ideal and non ideal theory explaining why it is justifiable to exclude unreasonable persons from the constituency of public reason and showing that the strictures of public reason do not apply to those suffering from severe injustice In doing so the book further politicizes political liberalism and turns it into a framework that can insightfully respond to the challenges of real politics
