MacLeod, 1999-12-31 In 1995 the fiftieth anniversary of the end of the Second World War occasioned many reflections on the place of science and technology in the conflict That the war ended with Allied victory in the Pacific theatre inevitably focussed attention upon the Pacific region and particularly upon the Manhattan project and its outcome It was in the Pacific that Western physics and engineering gave birth to the Atomic Age However the Pacific war had also proved a testing time and a testing space for other disciplines and institutions Extreme environments and operational distances and the fundamental demands of logistics required the Allies and the Japanese to innovate many scientific and technological practices Just as medicine and botany were called upon to fight tropical diseases and insect pests so engineers anthropologists and geographers were called upon to understand local conditions and climates and to work with local peoples whose traditional lives were changed forever by the experience At the same time the war played midwife to a host of new developments not least in scientific intelligence and in chemical and biological weapons which were to acquire far greater importance after 1945 The Solomon Islands Campaign, Guadalcanal to Rabaul Eugene L. Rasor, 1997-01-28 Beginning in August 1942 and continuing through the end of 1943 when the Japanese base at Rabaul was isolated and bypassed the Solomon Islands Campaign was conducted with combined Allied forces from the Southwest Pacific and Central Pacific commands and included several major amphibious landings a dozen naval battles and continuous air attacks A comprehensive bibliography on the Solomon Islands Campaign this book includes an historiographical narrative and an annotated bibliography of over 500 entries The historiographical section reviews the works in the bibliography section and provides appropriate cross references while the bibliography

Sbrega, 2021-03-11

The 4 volumes in this set originally published between 1980 and 1983 bring to light and focus on the conflict between Japan and Australia and Japan and the USA Timothy Hall's volumes richly illustrated with black white photographs used highly contentious documents as their sources and give fascinating insights into a period of Australian history which is sometimes less than glorious John J Sbrega's tour de force is not only one of the most extensive annotated bibliographies on the USA and Japan in World War 2 ever published but it also provides invaluable information on lesser known but no less important aspects of the conflict LIGHTNING OVER BOUGAINVILLE R. Cargill Hall, 1991-05-17

Based on a retrospective at the Admiral Nimitz Museum in Texas this volume marshals the recollections of American and Japanese aviators and the thoughts of academics to address the military political ethical and historical issues of the famous and controversial wartime special operation that saw the US Air Force intercept and shoot down a bomber carrying the commander in chief of the Japanese Combined Fleet Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Third
