S Andrea In Mantua The Building History:

S. Andrea in Mantua Eugene J. Johnson, 1975 S Andrea in Mantua is the final architectural work and the masterpiece of Leon Battista Alberti the great 15th century Italian humanist As a key monument of Renaissance architecture and a seminal work for later developments including the work of Bramante and endless repetitions in Baroque Europe the novelty of the spatial creation in S Andrea has long been recognized What has been obscured by the long period of construction over 300 years is the extent to which the existing building reflects Alberti s plan This book through a careful investigation of the church fabric and a sound interpretation of all relevant documents demonstrates the fidelity of the current building to Alberti s original design The author publishes all known documents relating to the building including previously unpublished material and presents new photographic documentation The book also discusses the place of the church in Alberti s work sources for its design in ancient medieval and Renaissance architecture and its role in the dynastic and civic ambitions of the ruling family of Mantua the Gonzaga The changes made in Alberti s plan particularly those of the 18th century Juvarras dome and Pozzo s neo quattrocento restoration of the interior are re evaluated This is the first extensive treatment of the building in English and the first serious monograph on S Andrea since the 19th century

On Alberti and the Art of Building Robert Tavernor, 1998-01-01 Leon Battista Alberti 1404-72 writer painter and sculptor mathematician and most famously architectural theorist and architect came closer than anyone to the Renaissance ideal of the complete man Recognised by his contemporaries as an extraordinary person he helped to shape through his writings and his practical example in the arts the way in which the natural and artificial world was perceived and represented during the Renaissance

The Court Cities of Northern Italy Charles M. Rosenberg, 2010-06-21 This volume examines the painting sculpture decorative arts and architecture produced in nine important court cities of Italy during the course of the fourteenth fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Although each chapter represents a separate study of a particular geographical locale many common themes emerge This volume gives a multifaceted consideration of the art created for princes prelates confraternities and civic authorities works displayed in public squares private palaces churches and town halls Including six essays specially commissioned that explore the interaction of artists and their civic and or courtly patrons within the context of prevailing cultural political and religious circumstances The Court Cities of Northern Italy provides a rich supplement to traditional accounts of the artistic heritage of the Italian Renaissance which has traditionally focused on the Florentine Venetian and Roman traditions The book includes 35 color plates and 221 black and white illustrations

Music and Patronage in Sixteenth-Century Mantua: Volume 1 Iain Fenlon, 2008-10-30 Viewed traditionally the history of sixteenth century Mantuan music is almost a catalogue of some of the most distinguished composers of the age from Tromboncino and Cara via Jacquet of Mantua to Wert Palestrina Marenzio Pallavicino Gastoldi Rossi and Monteverdi The remarkable achievements of composers under Gonzaga patronage practically synonymous with Mantuan patronage during this period are treated here in their social context The arguments proceed not just from the music itself but from detailed examination of archival sources from which Dr Fenlon reconstructs employment patterns and describes the social structure and institutional life of the city The aim of the book is to show how the patterns of patronage and music and musicians reflect and illuminate the temperaments and prime preoccupations of successive rulers The book contains a substantial appendix of unpublished archival documents a small proportion only of the scholarly and comparative sources on which the study is based

A History of Architectural Development ... Frederick Moore Simpson, 1913

The Books and the Life of Judith of Flanders Mary Dockray-Miller, 2016-12-05 In the first full length study of Judith of Flanders c 1032-1094 Mary Dockray Miller provides a narrative of Judith's life through analysis of the books and art objects she commissioned and collected Organizing her book chronologically by Judith's marriages and commissions Dockray Miller argues that Judith consciously and successfully deployed patronage to support her political and marital maneuverings in the eleventh century European political theater During her marriage to Tostig Godwinson Earl of Northumbria she commissioned at least four Gospel books for herself in addition to the numerous art objects that she gave to English churches as part of her devotional practices The multiple treasures Judith donated to Weingarten Abbey while she was married to Welf of Bavaria culminated in the posthumous gift of the relic of the Holy Blood still celebrated as the Abbey's most important holding Lavishly illustrated with never before published full color reproductions from Monte Cassino MS 437 and Fulda Landesbibliothek MS Aa 21 The Books and the Life of Judith of Flanders features English translations of relevant excerpts from the Vita Oswinii and De Translatione Sanguinis Christi Dockray Miller's book is a fascinating account of this intriguing woman who successfully negotiated the pitfalls of being on the losing side of both the Norman Conquest and the Investiture Controversy

Mantegna and Painting as Historical Narrative Jack M. Greenstein, 1992-06 In this study Jack M Greenstein draws on Early Renaissance art theory modern narratology translation studies critical theory the philosophy of history and biblical hermeneutics to explicate the sense and significance of one of Andrea Mantegna's most enigmatic and influential works the Uffizi Circumcision of Christ Faced with a work that resists established methods of iconographical analysis Greenstein reassesses the nature and goals of high humanist narrative painting The result is a new historically grounded theory of iconography that calls into question many widely held assumptions about the social and intellectual value of Early Renaissance art Greenstein's theory rests on a careful analysis of Leon Battista Alberti's commentary On Painting which equated both the form and the content of artistically composed painting with historia Situating this equation within a centuries old discourse on the multivalent significance of the Bible Greenstein shows that for Alberti historia was a mode of artistic narrative common to literature and painting in which moral truths were presented to the corporeal senses particularly to vision in the guise of plausible human actions In Greenstein's reading the painter's primary task was the construction of a visually plausible narrative that effectively conveyed the higher meanings of historia Having thus delineated the structure of significance in Albertian painting Greenstein shows what was at stake when a painter of Mantegna's historical bent undertook to produce a historia. As one of the leading historical thinkers of his age Mantegna imbued his depicted scenes with the plausibility of historical events by employing those codes of evidence, causality and historical distance that underlay the Renaissance sense of the past. But the Circumcision of Christ resisted such treatment because the symbolic conventions developed by earlier artists for conveying the higher theological meanings of the theme were incompatible with the representational fidelity embraced by painters of historia. Mantegna overcame these difficulties by arriving at a new understanding of the Circumcision which remained faithful to the narrative structure as well as the theological content of the biblical account. His interpretation was widely adopted by later artists but was so pictorial in nature that despite its consistency with the biblical account it remained without parallel in theological literature. Greenstein's discovery that artistic production of Albertian painting was a specialized and singularly visual form of thinking whose roots lay more in readerly hermeneutics than in perception, commerce or common visual experience raises questions about narrative representation and the textuality of art that will interest a wide array of scholars.

Architecture in Italy, 1400-1500 Karl Heinrich Heydenreich, Ludwig Heinrich Heydenreich, Paul Davies, 1996-01-01 Brunelleschi, Ghiberti and Donatello, Alberti, Florence 1450-1480, Urbino, Venice, Lombardy, Leonardo da Vinci

Approaches to Drawing in Architectural and Urban Design Fabio Colonnese, Nuno Grancho, Robin Schaeffer, 2024-04-04 Architects draw for a variety of purposes: they draw to assimilate places and precedents to generate ideas; to develop a concept into a consistent project; in a team to communicate ideas and solutions to patrons and clients; and to guide building contractors during the construction stages as well as to produce further elaborations in order to publish their project in a treatise, a journal or their own portfolio. Most importantly, architects draw to think and to manage complexity in a visual way. By taking into account innovative and interdisciplinary uses of architectural drawing in the design process, both historical and current, the collection of chapters and interviews in this book frames a new critical perspective and a uniquely contextual appreciation of drawing as a way to encourage spatial thinking and practice in architecture and urbanism. The authors take the discussion to a new level of philosophical sophistication while also considering drawing in relation to a series of specific engagements with urban development, planning and architecture.
