Germaine Tailleferre
(1892-1983)

[♩ = c.88]

The image shows the first 15 measures of a piano sonata. The music is written for piano in G major (one sharp) and 2/4 time. It features a lively, rhythmic melody in the right hand, often using triplets and sixteenth notes, and a more active bass line. The score is divided into four systems, with measure numbers 1, 5, 9, and 13 indicated at the start of their respective systems. A large, diagonal 'PREVIEW' watermark is overlaid across the center of the page.

Germaine Tailleferre was at the heart of French artistic life as a member of Les Six – a group of composers that also featured Georges Auric, Louis Durey, Arthur Honegger, Darius Milhaud and Francis Poulenc. She was a prolific, popular and often-performed composer during her lifetime, working as a musician up to the last few days of her life.

This upbeat, optimistic neo-Baroque piece is in her typical crisp, clear style. It was influenced by her early study of the harpsichord, and is rhythmically regular, requiring a light touch and delicate, accurate playing throughout. Dynamics are left to the player's discretion, since there are none provided by the composer.
