An Analysis of Six Thousand Contemporary Religions Movements* David B. Barrett, 1968      The Fifohazana Cynthia Holder Rich, 2008

In 1894 Jesus appeared in a dream to Rainisoalambo during a period of intense national crisis shortly before the French colonial invasion of Madagascar. An educated member of the southern highlands aristocracy, Rainisoalambo was also a traditional medicine man who had fallen into grave difficulty. Being stricken with a case of then rampant leprosy, his business had vanished and he and his family were starving. In this vision, Jesus told Rainisoalambo to put away his sampe, the small idols and charms he used for his traditional divining and healing. When he awoke, he found that he was healed. He quickly got rid of his charms and began a new life of fervent prayer, witnessing to his neighbors about what had happened and reading the gospels with new eyes as current reality rather than ancient reports of the far away dealings of the white man's god. A group of believers soon gathered around him. Within a year of intense activity, they had formally organized themselves at Soatanana into what we would now call a base community, the Disciples of the Lord. Their simple rules called them to lives of economic sharing and self-sufficiency, cleanliness and orderliness in their persons, houses and lands, learning to read the Bible, daily communal prayers and study, and sending out apostles and evangelists to establish other such households and communities. This was the beginning of what is now called the Fifohazana or Awakening. More than a century later, the movement comprises several tobys or base communities following the appearance of several more prophets, female and male, and their miracle working. The members of the movement or mpiandry live throughout the island, some in the tobys but most in the cities and villages as members of a variety of churches. The Fifohazana continues to stress spiritual healings, exorcisms, personal service to the poor and sick, cleanliness, prayer, Bible study, and witnessing. This volume provides the reader with a very clear understanding of what the Fifohazanamovement is all about, historically, theologically, in terms of the main characters involved, its tremendous contributions to what a Christian healing ministry might ideally be, and as it relates to the larger world of church and society. The book is strengthened by the contributions of a diverse international group of scholars and participants in the movement. This has fostered the creation of an authentic piece of research which combines the actual voices of participants within the movement itself along with the perspectives of scholars who analyze the movement from the external periphery. This is the first book-length treatment of the Fifohazana in English. Editor Cynthia Holder Rich has gathered contributions from authors from five countries, including several members of the movement, to offer several perspectives onto the history and current life of the movement. Articles include analysis of major movement leaders, the place of healing in the movement, history of the conflict between the missions and the movement the significance of oral expression in proclamation and as a means of revival the role of women as leaders in the movement and theological issues The Fifohazana is one of the most intriguing current instances of indigenous Christianity in the world While the movement has greatly evolved and changed in over a century Jesus continues to appear and raise up new leaders Various branches of the movement have developed a variety of institutions but the movement has not lost its power of transformation and change The Fifohazana Madagascar s Indigenous Christian Movement is an important volume for research libraries universities African studies institutions and theological schools

Christian Remnant - African Folk Church Stefan Hörschele, 2007-11-30 The growth of Christianity in Africa during the twentieth century is one of the most fascinating shifts in the history of religions This book presents a history of the Tanzanian Seventh day Adventist Church which is representative of this shift in many respects slow beginnings struggles over cultural issues the emergence of a unique church life combining denominational heritage and African elements frictions with governments and the development of popular theology Yet Tanzanian Adventism also exemplifies an important phenomenon which has been given little attention so far the transformation of minority denominations to dominant religions This study breaks new ground in analyzing how the Adventist remnant developed into an African folk church while attempting to remain true to its original ethos

Towards a Christian Theology of African Ancestors Thomas Ochieng Otanga, 2023-04-21 This book examines the similarities and relationship between Christian saints and African ancestors Further it analyzes the deep cultural roots of African peoples and the ancestral frame as a point of departure for developing an indigenous African theology Questions dealt with include Does the conversion of Africans to Christianity require a break with their African cultural heritage Who is an African ancestor Is syncretism a good thing for an African Christian What contribution can the African church make to the universal church The author argues that rather than being antithetical to formal Christianity an African Christian theology of ancestors is an example of how an indigenous African tradition can best express Christianity as well as make considerable impact on world Christianity

The Public Face of African New Religious Movements in Diaspora Afe Adogame, 2016-02-24 The growing pace of international migration technological revolution in media and travel generate circumstances that provide opportunities for the mobility of African new religious movements ANRMs within Africa and beyond ANRMs are furthering their self assertion and self insertion into the religious landscapes of Europe the Americas and Asia Their growing presence and public visibility seem to be more robustly captured by the popular media than by scholars of NRMs historians of religion and social scientists a tendency that has probably shaped the public mental picture and understanding of the phenomena This book provides new theoretical and methodological insights for understanding and interpreting ANRMs and African derived religions in diaspora Contributors focus on individual groups and movements drawn from Christian Islamic Jewish and African derived religious movements and explore their provenance and patterns of emergence their belief systems and ritual practices their public civic roles group self definition public perceptions and responses tendencies towards integration segregation organisational networks gender orientations and the implications of interactions within and between the groups and with the host societies The book includes contributions from scholars and religious practitioners thus offering new insights into how ANRMs can be better defined approached and interpreted by scholars policy makers and media practitioners alike African Biblical Studies Andrew M. Mbuvi, 2022-09-22 Andrew M Mbuvi makes the case for African biblical studies as a vibrant and important emerging distinct discipline while also using its postcolonial optic to critique biblical studies for its continued underlying racially and imperialistically motivated tendencies Mbuvi argues that the emergence of biblical studies as a discipline in the West coincides with and benefits from the establishment of the colonial project that included African colonization At the heart of the colonial project was the Bible not only as ferried by missionaries who often espoused racialized views to convert heathens in the distant lands but as the text used in the racialized justification of the colonial violence Interpretive approaches established within these racist and colonialist matrices continue to dominate the discipline perpetuating racialized interpretive methodology and frameworks On these grounds Mbuvi makes the case that the continued marginalization of non western approaches is a reflection of the continuing colonialist structure and presuppositions in the discipline of biblical studies African Biblical Studies not only exposes and critiques these persistent oppressive and subjugating tendencies but showcases how African postcolonial methodologies and studies that prioritize readings from the perspective of the marginalized and oppressed offer an alternative framework for the discipline These readings while destabilizing and undermining the predominantly white Euro American approaches and their ingrained prejudices and problematizing the biblical text itself posit the need for biblical interpretation that is anti colonial and anti racist African Reformation Allan Anderson, 2001 This study provides an overview of the numerous African initiated churches that came into being during the 20th century in the various different parts of Sub Saharan Africa Written by an acknowledged expert on Christianity in Africa it also examines the reasons for the emergence of these religious centres that have resulted from the interaction between Christianity and African pre Christian religions A Synopsis of Racism in the African Christian Mission of 19th and 20th Centuries Andrew Ratanya Mukaria, 2020-01-01 This book is not out to condemn or blame any European person but rather understand the world from its past misdeeds lest we forget After all history is the backbone of society and we cannot hide the past no matter how painful it is Although there were bad intentions to the mission drive of the 19th and 20th Centuries we also experienced positive achievements Sometimes blessings can come out of the worst situations or encounters Such missionary activities coupled with imperialism are the cause of the global union The world is a global family even with all the differences and inequalities still so visible under globalization Yet racism like white supremacy was a theme surrounding the 19th and 20th century European mission to Africa Perhaps it is good to understand that no other continent has suffered due to racism a result of Eurocentrism and imperialism as Africa did Africa lost its culture people and resources The continent and her people have stagnated for decades even after years of assuming self rule own leadership in most sectors of the society The reason behind it is that its structures were eroded and those introduced served one purpose to satisfy and justify imperialism and its core to civilizing mission Cases of Rwanda and Burundi genocide are historical seeds of hatred planted by explorers such as Speke s Hamitic theory The imperialism past of the Democratic Republic of Congo holds a symbol of rape and cruelty despite its vast resources Nevertheless we cannot blame everything that contemporary Africa is suffering from on Imperialism and Eurocentrism The current crop of leaders must take the blame too Most have seen debts accumulate The mismanagement of the economies and embezzlement of the resources only replicates the colonial past The fact is that most do not invest in people but themselves The majority lack basics in the likes of education health care and improvement of knowledge skills and technology They have left Africa to further exploit in the hands of neo imperialism in terms of globalization capitalism cultural imperialism and conditional aid These bring little to no gain in Africa and instead escalate the suffering This book unearths the legacy of the racism mission and colonialism a terrible part of Africa history It is a legacy of dehumanization wars and human sufferings If we ignore such history we might forget and likely repeat it

Andrew Ratanya Mukaria Dr The Transformation of African Christianity Sunday Jide Komolafe, 2013-02-14 The explosion of the church in Nigeria is phenomenal with a forward momentum that is as remarkable as the missionary optimism of the first century Church The history reveals a tightly woven narrative of the process of beginnings growth and change

Genesis of a New Religion Benjamin Simon, 2024-12-30 In recent years Kimbanguism has developed from an ecumenically oriented African instituted church into a new religion Accordingly their membership with the World Council of Churches was discontinued in 2021 This process of theological change and reorientation is clearly traced and illustrated on the basis of previously unseen WCC archive materials The six chapters also show the six phases how the process of disengagement from a religious belief is progressing to start a new religion Christianity in Tropical Africa C. G. Baëta, 2018-08-16 Originally published in 1968 this volume discusses the issues and problems relevant to Christianity in Tropical Africa It includes historical studies of the earlier Catholic and Protestant missions and their relationship with African communities traders and colonial administrations the social and psychological aspects of conversion and responses to the teaching of the gospel and the impact of Christian teaching on indigenous beliefs the analysis of modern trends such as separatism Mission and Church in Malawi Christoff Martin Pauw, 2016-05-01 Martin Pauw was born in 1940 at Madzimoyo Mission Eastern Zambia where both his grandparents and parents had served as missionaries After completing his theological studies at the University of Stellenbosch he was ordained in Malawi in the Church of Central Africa Presbyterian CCAP in 1965 Like his great grandfather grandfather and father he became a missionary the fourth generation

Majority World Theology Gene L. Green, Stephen T. Pardue, K. K. Yeo, 2020-12-01 More Christians live in the Majority World than in Europe and North America Yet most theological literature does not reflect the rising tide of Christian reflection coming from these regions Bringing together theological resources from past and present East and West this work engages conversations with leading global scholars on theology faith and mission for the enrichment of the entire church
