Modern Chinese Women Writers Critical Appraisals:

Modern Chinese Women Writers Michael S. Duke, 1989-11-22 The essays in this volume consider the state of current writing of the world's best Chinese women writers. All the contributors relate their authors to the life and work of other contemporary Chinese women writers and compare work coming from PRC, Taiwan, and overseas Chinese. The essays make a contribution to the fields of Modern Chinese literature and women's studies and although they are primarily intended to bear witness to the quality of women's writing, they also attempt to elucidate the complex issues of Chinese women's lives in the contemporary world.

Modern Chinese Writers Helmut Martin, Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2016-09-16 This volume gathers personal reflections on life and literature by 44 of China's leading authors. It aims to illustrate how Chinese society and its creative writing have supported, competed, and fought with each other for the past 40 years and more. Much of what is revealed here is mundane, but the pressure of bringing art to social and political causes, indeed the universal pressure to survive, forges this collection into a very human document. The strengths and weaknesses of these essays offer a window on those of modern Chinese literature itself. Realism was the favoured literary doctrine of the day, and reflecting this, most of these essays speak for themselves about war, revolution, betrayal, and commitment.

Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women Lily Xiao Hong Lee, A. D. Stefanowska, Sue Wiles, Clara Wing-chung Ho, 1998 The first biographical dictionary in any Western language devoted solely to Chinese women. Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women is the product of years of research, translation, and writing by scores of China scholars from around the world. Volume II, Twentieth Century, includes a far greater range of women than would have been previously possible because of the enormous amount of historical material and scholarly research that has become available recently. They include scientists, businesswomen, sportswomen, military officers, writers, scholars, revolutionary heroines, politicians, musicians, opera stars, film stars, artists, educators, nuns, and more.

Writing Women in Modern China Amy D. Dooling, 2005 From succinct reportage of contemporary historical circumstances to comic accounts of twentieth-century urban living to carefully stylized modernist works of fiction, the selections in this anthology reflect the diversity, liveliness, humor, and surprising cosmopolitanism of women's writing from the period. This collection also reveals the ways in which women writers imagined and inscribed new meanings to Chinese feminism. Also included are biographical information on the writers, bibliographical materials, and a critical introduction by Dooling.

Chinese Modern Xiaobing Tang, 2000-04-03 An analysis of the Chinese experience of modernity through the literary works, films, and other cultural artifacts that represent it.

Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female sexuality and subjectivity in contemporary Chinese fiction by three women writers published from 1986 to 2000 from the perspective of poststructuralist feminism. It discusses the representative works of authors Wang Anyi, Tie Ning, and Chi Li, who are well known in the Chinese literary field. However, their works have not to date been analysed through the poststructuralist feminism's notions of subjectivity, femininity, and transgression This book then provides detailed analysis of each writer and draws comparisons between their works to provide an extended consideration of female sexuality and subjectivity within post Mao Chinese fiction In this respect this book not only offers fresh insights into the three authors fiction but also contributes to the feminist study of Chinese women s writing Additionally the research contributes to a better understanding of contemporary Chinese culture in relation to patriarchy misogyny feminism differences and resistance It is relevant to scholars in the fields of China studies Chinese literature feminist literature and gender studies

Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women: v. 2: Twentieth Century Lily Xiao Hong Lee, 2016-07-08 The first biographical dictionary in any Western language devoted solely to Chinese women Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women is the product of years of research translation and writing by scores of China scholars from around the world Volume II Twentieth Century includes a far greater range of women than would have been previously possible because of the enormous amount of historical material and scholarly research that has become available recently They include scientists businesswomen sportswomen military officers writers scholars revolutionary heroines politicians musicians opera stars film stars artists educators nuns and more

New Woman in Early Twentieth-Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng, 2004-07-30 In The New Woman in Early Twentieth Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng proposes that representation of the new woman in Communist Chinese fiction of the earlier twentieth century was paradoxically one of the ways in which male writers of the era explored negotiated and laid claim to their own emerging identity as modern intellectuals Specifically Feng argues that male writers such as Lu Xun Yu Dafu Ba Jin and Mao Dun created fictional women as mirror images of their own political inadequacy but that at the same time this was also an egocentric ploy to affirm and highlight the modernity of the male author This gender biased attitude was translated into reality when women writers emerged Whereas unfair gender biased criticism all but stifled the creative output of Bing Xin Fang Yuanjun and Lu Yin Ding Ling s dogged attention to narrative strategy allowed her to maintain subjectivity and independence in her writings that is until all writers were forced to write for the collective Feng addresses both the general and the specialized audience of fiction in early twentieth century Chinese fiction in three ways for scholars of the May Fourth period Feng redresses the emphasis on the simplistic gender neutral representation of the new women by re reading selected texts in the light of marginalized discourse and by an analysis of the evolving strategies of narrative deployment for those working in the area of feminism and literary studies Feng develops a new method of studying the representation of Chinese women through an interrogation of narrative permutations ideological discourses and gender relationships and for studies of modernity and modernization the author presents a more complex picture of the relationships of modern Chinese intellectuals to their cultural past and of women writers to a literary tradition dominated by men China Exchange News, 1990

Women's Literary Feminism in Twentieth-Century China A. Dooling, 2005-02-18 This is a critical inquiry into the connections between emergent feminist ideologies in China and the production of modern women s writing from the demise of the last imperial dynasty to the founding of the PRC It accentuates both well known and under represented literary voices who intervened in the gender debates of their generation as well as contextualises the strategies used in imagining alternative stories of female experience and potential It asks two questions first how did the advent of enlightened views of gender relations and sexuality influence literary practices of new women in terms of narrative forms and strategies readership and publication venues Second how do these representations attest to the way these female intellectuals engaged and expanded social and political concerns from the personal to the national

Theorising Chinese Masculinity Kam Louie, 2002-04 This book is the first comprehensive analysis of Chinese masculinity Kam Louie uses the concepts of wen cultural attainment and wu martial valour to explain attitudes to masculinity This revises most Western analyses of Asian masculinity that rely on the yin yang binary Examining classical and contemporary Chinese literature and film the book also looks at the Chinese diaspora to consider Chinese masculinity within and outside China
