Modern Egypt Vol 6 Pt 2 Orientalism:

Working with A Secular Age Florian Zemmin, Colin Jager, Guido Vanheeswijck, 2016-03-21 Charles Taylor's monumental book A Secular Age has been extensively discussed, criticized and worked on. This volume by contrast explores ways of working with Taylor's book especially its potentials and limits for individual research projects. Due to its wide reception it has initiated a truly interdisciplinary object of study with essays drawn from various research fields; this volume fosters substantial conversation across disciplines.

Islam and Modernity Muhammad Khalid Masud, 2009-08-18 Recent events have focused attention on the perceived differences and tensions between the Muslim world and the modern West. As a major strand of Western public discourse has it, Islam appears resistant to internal development and remains inherently pre-modern. However, Muslim societies have experienced most of the same structural changes that have impacted upon all societies: massive urbanisation, mass education, dramatically increased communication, the emergence of new types of institutions and associations, some measure of political mobilisation and major transformations of the economy. These developments are accompanied by a wide range of social movements and by complex and varied religious and ideological debates. This textbook is a pioneering study providing an introduction to and overview of the debates and questions that have emerged regarding Islam and modernity. Key issues are selected to give readers an understanding of the complexity of the phenomenon from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. The various manifestations of modernity in Muslim life discussed include social change and the transformation of political and religious institutions, gender politics, changing legal regimes, devotional practices and forms of religious association, shifts in religious authority and modern developments in Muslim religious thought.

Alexandrian Cosmopolitanism Hala Halim, 2013-09-19 Interrogating how Alexandria became enshrined as the exemplary cosmopolitan space in the Middle East, this book mounts a radical critique of Eurocentric conceptions of cosmopolitanism. The dominant account of Alexandrian cosmopolitanism elevates things European in the city's culture and simultaneously places things Egyptian under the sign of decline. The book goes beyond this civilization/barbarism binary to trace other modes of intercultural solidarity. Halim presents a comparative study of literary representations addressing poetry, fiction, guidebooks and operettas among other genres. She reappraises three writers: C. P. Cavafy, E. M. Forster and Lawrence Durrell, who she maintains have been cast as the canon of Alexandria. Attending to issues of genre, gender, ethnicity and class, she refutes the view that these writers' representations are largely congruent and uncovers a variety of positions ranging from Orientalist to anticolonial. The book then turns to Bernard de Zogheb, a virtually unpublished writer, and elicits his camp parodies of elite Levantine mores in operettas, one of which centers on Cavafy. Drawing on Arabic critical and historical texts as well as contemporary writers and filmmakers' engagement with the canonical triumvirate, Halim orchestrates an Egyptian dialogue with the European representations.

Reform and Modernity in Islam Safdar Ahmed, 2013-05-30 The debate over Islam and modernity tends to be approached from a Eurocentric perspective that presents Western norms as a template for progress against which Islamic societies can be measured This misses the historical development of Muslim reformist thought that actively engages with the world around it and seeks to reconfigure Islam within the diverse conditions of modernity Safdar Ahmed paints a complex and nuanced picture that goes beyond the idea that Muslim reformers have either reproduced or reacted against Western ideas Rather Ahmed argues they have reconstructed and appropriated these ideas and so the thread of Western influence runs through modern Islamic thought on nationalism and sovereignty femininity and gender Ahmed uncovers new historiographical perspectives by critically examining the work of prominent intellectuals such as Muhammad Abduh Qasim Amin and Abdul A la Maududi

The Promise and Peril of Credit Francesca Trivellato, 2019 How an antisemitic legend gave voice to widespread fears surrounding the expansion of private credit in Western capitalism The Promise and Peril of Credit takes an incisive look at pivotal episodes in the West's centuries long struggle to define the place of private finance in the social and political order It does so through the lens of a persistent legend about Jews and money that reflected the anxieties surrounding the rise of impersonal credit markets By the close of the Middle Ages new and sophisticated credit instruments made it easier for European merchants to move funds across the globe Bills of exchange were by far the most arcane of these financial innovations Intangible and written in a cryptic language they fueled world trade but also lured naive investors into risky businesses Francesca Trivellato recounts how the invention of these abstruse credit contracts was falsely attributed to Jews and how this story gave voice to deep seated fears about the unseen perils of the new paper economy She locates the legend's earliest version in a seventeenth century handbook on maritime law and traces its legacy all the way to the work of the founders of modern social theory from Marx to Weber and Sombart Deftly weaving together economic legal social cultural and intellectual history Trivellato vividly describes how Christian writers drew on the story to define and redefine what constituted the proper boundaries of credit in a modern world increasingly dominated by finance

Specters of World Literature Mattar Karim Mattar, 2020-04-02 At the heart of this book is a spectral theory of world literature that draws on Edward Said Aamir Mufti Jacques Derrida and world systems theory to assess how the field produces local literature as an other that haunts its universalising assimilative imperative with the force of the uncanny It takes the Middle Eastern novel as both metonym and metaphor of a spectral world literature It explores the worlding of novels from the Middle East in recent years and focusing on the pivotal sites of Middle Eastern modernity Egypt Turkey Iran argues that lost to their global production circulation and reception is their constitution in the logic of spectrality With the intention of redressing this imbalance it critically restores their engagements with the others of Middle Eastern modernity and shows through a new reading of the Middle Eastern novel that world literature is always already haunted by its others the ghosts of modernity

Masculinities in Politics and War Stefan Dudink, Karen Hagemann, John Tosh, 2004-07-23 Politics and war are crucial to the history of masculinity yet have been neglected in the emergent historiography of masculinity This book opens up new avenues in gender history by mapping masculinity's part in making revolution, waging war, building nations and constructing welfare states. Preceded by extensive historical and theoretical introductions, the volume is clearly divided into sections on revolution, nation, politics and subjectivity. An innovative collection with contributions from an international group of eminent historians who are recognised experts in their fields, with essays on Europe, the United States, Latin America, Australia, Africa and Asia. Written in a highly accessible style targeted at both students, professional historians and the interested general reader. Books in Print Supplement, 2002. Out of Line Susan Edmunds, 1994. Drawing on archival materials, biography, war journalism and theoretical texts, the author argues that the visionary politics of H.D.'s long poems cannot be reconciled with the feminist agendas currently attributed to them. Routledge Revivals: Medieval Islamic Civilization (2006) Josef Meri, 2018-01-12. Islamic civilization flourished in the Middle Ages across a vast geographical area that spans today's Middle and Near East. First published in 2006, Medieval Islamic Civilization examines the socio-cultural history of the regions where Islam took hold between the 7th and 16th centuries. This important two-volume work contains over 700 alphabetically arranged entries contributed and signed by international scholars and experts in fields such as Arabic languages, Arabic literature, architecture, history of science, Islamic arts, Islamic studies, Middle Eastern studies, Near Eastern studies, politics, religion, Semitic studies, theology and more. Entries also explore the importance of interfaith relations and the permeation of persons, ideas and objects across geographical and intellectual boundaries between Europe and the Islamic world. This reference work provides an exhaustive and vivid portrait of Islamic civilization and brings together in one authoritative text all aspects of Islamic civilization during the Middle Ages. Accessible to scholars, students and non-specialists, this resource will be of great use in research and understanding of the roots of today's Islamic society as well as the rich and vivid culture of medieval Islamic civilization. Nurturing the Nation Lisa Pollard, 2005-01-31. Focusing on gender and the family, this erudite and innovative history reconsiders the origins of Egyptian nationalism and the revolution of 1919 by linking social changes in class and household structure to the politics of engagement with British colonial rule. Lisa Pollard deftly argues that the Egyptian state's modernizing projects in the nineteenth century reinforced ideals of monogamy and bourgeois domesticity among Egypt's elite classes and connected those ideals with political and economic success. At the same time, the British used domestic and personal practices such as polygamy, the harem and the veiling of women to claim that the ruling classes had become corrupt and therefore to legitimize an open-ended tenure for themselves in Egypt. To rid themselves of British rule, bourgeois Egyptian nationalists constructed a familial political culture that trained new generations of nationalists and used them to demonstrate to the British that it was time for the occupation to end. That culture was put to use in the 1919 Egyptian revolution in which the reformed bourgeois family was exhibited as the standard for modern Egypt. A History of Anthropological Theory, Sixth Edition Paul A. Erickson, Liam D. Murphy, 2021-03-01. For over twenty years A History of Anthropological Theory has provided a strong foundation for understanding anthropological thinking, tracing how the discipline has evolved from its origins to the present day The sixth edition of this important text offers substantial updates throughout including more balanced coverage of the four fields of anthropology an entirely new section on the Anthropocene and significantly revised discussions of public anthropology gender and sexuality and race and ethnicity Written in accessible prose and enhanced with illustrations key terms and study questions in each section this text remains essential reading for those interested in studying the history of anthropology On its own or used with the companion volume Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory sixth edition this text provides comprehensive coverage in a flexible and easy to use format for teaching in the anthropology classroom

Artbibliographies Modern ,2004 Identity and Civilization Mordechai Nisan,1999 Based on the premise that politics is not primary but rather based on religion philosophy and culture treats these topics in relation to the three religions Ch 5 pp 127 162 War The Islamic Assault on the West and Israel concludes that the Muslims have a natural lust for power and that from the mid 20th century there has been a clash between the Arab world which is seeking hegemony and the West in general and Israel in particular Focuses on the jihad or religious war of Islamic fundamentalism and of the PLO Notes the desire of Muslim fundamentalists to eliminate the last Jew and to de Judaize Jerusalem so that it will become the world capital of militant Islam

Egyptian Belly Dance in Transition Heather D. Ward,2018-01-25 Raqs sharqi the Egyptian dance form also known as belly dance has for generations captured imaginations around the globe Yet its origins have been obscured by misinformation and conjecture rooted in Orientalist attitudes about the Middle East a widely accepted narrative suggests the dance was created in response to Western influences and desires Drawing on an array of primary sources the author traces the early development of raqs sharqi in the context of contemporary trends in Egyptian arts and entertainment The dance is revealed to be a hybrid cultural expression emerging with the formation of Egyptian national identity at the end of the 19th century when Egypt was occupied by the British

Blake, Nation and Empire D. Worrall,S. Clark,2006-09-24 This book examines Blake s work in the context of discourses of nation and empire of the construction of a public sphere and restores the longevity to his artistic career by placing emphasis on his work in the 1820s Relevant contexts include technology sentimentalism Ireland and Catholic Emancipation missionary prospectuses and body politics

Britain and the Regency of Tripoli Sara M. ElGaddari,2022-12-15 By the early 1820s British policy in the Eastern Mediterranean was at a crossroads Historically shaped by the rivalry with France the course of Britain s future role in the region was increasingly affected by concern about the future of the Ottoman Empire and fears over Russia s ambitions in the Balkans and the Middle East The Regency of Tripoli was at this time establishing a new era in foreign and commercial relations with Europe and the United States Among the most important of these relationships was that with Britain Using the National Archive records of correspondence of the British consuls and diplomats from 1795 to 1832 and within the context of the wider Eastern Question this book reconstructs the the Anglo Tripolitanian relationship and argues that the Regency played a vital role in Britain s imperial strategy during and after the

Napoleonic Wars Including the perspective of Tripolitanian notables and British diplomats it contends that the activities of British consuls in Tripoli and the networks they fostered around themselves reshaped the nature and extent of British imperial activity in the region Consuming Tradition, Manufacturing Heritage Nezar Alsayyad, 2013-12-16 From the Grand Tour to today's packages holidays the last two centuries have witnessed an exponential growth in travel and tourism and as the twenty first century unfolds people of every class and from every country will be wandering to every part of the planet Meanwhile tourist destinations throughout the world find themselves in ever more fierce competition those places marginalized in today's global industrial and information economy perceiving tourism as perhaps the only means of surviving But mass tourism has raised the local and international passions as people decry the irreversible destruction of traditional places and historic sites Against these trends and at a time when standardized products and services are marketed worldwide there is an increasing demand for built environments that promise unique cultural experiences This has led many nations and groups to engage in the parallel processes of facilitating the consumption of tradition and of manufacturing tradition The contributors to this volume drawn from a wide range of disciplines address these themes within the following sections Traditions and Tourism Rethinking the Other Imaging and Manufacturing Heritage Manufacturing and Consuming Global and Local Their studies dealing with very different times environments and geographic locales will shed new light on how tourist gaze transforms the reality of built spaces into cultural imagery The Muslim World Book Review, 1980

Feminism and Islamic Fundamentalism Haideh Moghissi, 1999-07 A highly controversial intervention into the debate on postmodernism and feminism this book looks at what happens when these modes of analysis are jointly employed to illuminate the sexual politics of Islam As a religion Islam has been demonized for its gender practices like no other This book analyzes that Orientalism with particular reference to representations of Muslim women and describes the real sexual politics of Islam The author goes on to describe the rise of Islamic fundamentalism and the West's response to it She argues that regardless of the sophisticated argument of postmodernists and their suspicion of power as an intellectual and political movement postmodernism has put itself in the service of power and the status quo Moghissi brilliantly demonstrates how this trend has given rise to a neo conservative feminism A major feminist critique of Islamic fundamentalism this book asks some hard questions of those who in denouncing the racism of Western feminism have taken up an uncritical embrace of the Islamic identity of Muslim women It is urgent reading for all those concerned about human rights as well as for students and academics of women's studies political science social theory and religious studies
