Multitude Cross Cultural Readings For Writers:

Multitude Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni, 1993 Known for its upbeat approach MULTITUDE brings together a diverse spectrum of voices and issues that reflect our society This anthology is divided into 10 broad themes and provides a variety of perspectives on the ways people connect across boundaries of ethnicity class gender age and geography The 84 readings include essays student essays fiction poetry letters and journals and includes a diversity of lengths and difficulty The second edition features 40% new selections and more writing activities and assignments that incorporate collaboration and research

Literature and Ethnic Discrimination Michael J. Meyer, 2023-11-27 Even though universities and colleges make a concerted effort to foster unity and worldwide acceptance of different ethnicities by including politically correct literature in their curriculums their attempts to protect students from being exposed to texts that portray discrimination and exhibit racial insensitivity are futile and ill advised Texts that contain biases based on otherness continue to be written and those produced in the past remain relevant and still demand the attention of an audience of reader In order to see the full picture of the world in which they live students must face even that which is uncomfortable and disturbing To think otherwise is to create an academic environment that is totally idealistic and distorts the fact that ethnic discrimination has been a potent reality in every society in history and remains so today These studies in this volume allow readers to meet writers from the traditional American and European canon while also being exposed to third world writers whose work may be unfamiliar They include memoirs of Holocaust survivors and even record the silencing of Italian women Apartheid in South Africa and tribal conflict in Nigeria as well as transplanted Asian culture in Canada and the idolization of the black body in Japan The collection permits a viewing of the ethnic other not merely in a politically correct way in which one samples the differences and nods approvingly Rather its intent is to offer opportunities for contemplative assessment of authorial motives and goals thereby engendering a wealth of understanding based on active engagement rather than passive acceptance of the status quo

Adult Esl Trudy Smoke, 2013-05-13 The essays in this book focus on political strategies pedagogical models and community programs that enable adult ESL learners to become vital members of North American society This is particularly important in our present time of contraction and downsizing in the education of non native speakers The authors represent a broad range of programs and perspectives but they all have in common the goal of enabling both faculty and students to become full participants in our society and thereby to gain control over their futures Readers of this book will develop an understanding of the ways in which innovative educators are creating strategies for maintaining language programs and services

The Columbia Companion to the Twentieth-Century American Short Story Blanche H. Gelfant, 2004-04-21 Esteemed critic Blanche Gelfant's brilliant companion gathers together lucid essays on major writers and themes by some of the best literary critics in the United States Part 1 is comprised of articles on stories that share a particular theme such as Working Class Stories or Gay and Lesbian Stories The heart of the book however lies in Part 2 which contains more than one hundred pieces on individual writers and their work including Fitzgerald Hemingway Richard Ford Raymond Carver Eudora Welty Andre Debus Zora Neal Hurston Anne Beattie Bharati Mukherjee J D Salinger and Jamaica Kincaid as well as engaging pieces on the promising new writers to come on the scene

Critical Perspectives on Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni

Robin E. Field, Amritjit Singh, Samina Najmi, 2022-02-15 Critical Perspectives on Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni Feminism and Diaspora offers insights into Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni's provocative and popular fiction In their engaging and comprehensive introduction editors Amritjit Singh and Robin Field explore how Divakaruni's short stories and novels have been shaped by her own struggles as a new immigrant and by the influences she imbibed from academic mentors and feminist writers of color Twelve critical essays by both aspiring and experienced scholars explore Divakaruni's aesthetic of interconnectivity and wholeness as she links generations races ethnicities and nations in her depictions of the diversity of religious and ethnic affiliations within the Indian diaspora The contributors offer a range of critical perspectives on Divakaruni's growth as a novelist of historical mythic and political motifs The volume includes two extended interviews with Divakaruni offering insights into her personal inspirations and social concerns while also revealing her deep affection for South Asian communities as well as an essay by Divakaruni herself a candid expression of her artistic independence in response to the didactic expectations of her many South Asian readers

Asian American Poets Guiyou

Huang, 2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet's major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet's critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography

Blood Into Ink Miriam Cooke,2018-10-08 The experiences of women in twentieth century wars in South Asia and the Middle East challenge the concept of the separation of front and homefront and of family and society common to most modern western wars Women there have not only entered into what was once considered male only territory in men s roles wearing men s clothing but more important they have entered explicitly as women playing a variety of roles in the conflicts surrounding them Their self conscious self confident presence has changed the nature of that territory This anthology reflects the realization that through their writing women have created a new mythology of the war peace paradox one that is grounded in the reality of their own lives The works collected here illustrate the many ways in which women have become active participants in social conflict and military battles speaking of war not only as an extraordinary but also as an ordinary experience of coping with violence and conflict on a daily basis Women s involvement with the rituals of violence does not begin or end with traditional war their daily struggles for survival stretch seamlessly into the more public arena of political war In this anthology Drs Cooke and Rustomji Kerns offer a collection of journal entries interviews fiction and poetry by twentieth century Middle Eastern and South Asian women writing about war and political conflicts Some of the works were written in English but the majority were translated specifically for this anthology and are published here for the first time in English Blood Into Ink is an important and much needed addition to the rapidly growing literature on war and peace The anthology will greatly enlarge our understanding of the role of women in one of the most central of human concerns

Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon,2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author s earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics

Words Matter King-Kok Cheung,2000-02-01 In this age of rapid transition Asian American studies and American studies in general are being reconfigured to reflect global migrations and the diverse populations of the United States Asian American literature in particular has embodied the crisis of identity that is at the heart of larger academic and political debates surrounding diversity and the inclusion and exclusion of immigrant and refugee groups These issues underlie the very principles on which literature culture and art are produced preserved taught and critiqued Words Matter is the first collection of interviews with 20th century Asian American writers The conversations that have been gathered here interviews with twenty writers possessing unique backgrounds perspectives thematic concerns and artistic priorities effectively dispel any easy

categorizations of people of Asian descent These writers comment on their own work and speak frankly about aesthetics politics and the challenges they have encountered in pursuing a writing career They address among other issues the expectations attached to the label Asian American the burden of representation shouldered by ethnic artists and the different demands of mainstream and ethnic audiences
