Ooh-la-la Lise McClendon, SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE FESTIVITIES FUN FOOD AND FRAUD It's Bridget Jones does Christmas in Manhattan plus a dash of international espionage in this romantic cozy mystery that mixes sisterly love with a world-famous drag queen a shameful family past and an irresistible French investigator Christmas in the Big Apple promises to be especially festive as all five Bennett sisters are in town for a very special occasion Annie the oldest Bennett is engaged at the tender age of fifty-five to a charming Scottish man who's crazy about her But while Bohemian Annie is securely and happily in love with a devoted fiancé Merle in the middle is navigating the roller coaster of her own love life Pascal her one-time French summer fling has unexpectedly flown to New York for the holidays and now she's waiting for him in the bustling lobby of the New York City Hilton Hotel the very same venue as her family's engagement festivities Pascal says he's come to see Merle and her son Tristan and he's staying in town through the New Year but why? A relationship ultimatum. Or is there something more mysterious in the works? Because Pascal is a very mysterious dude. On the walk back from engagement cocktails at a romantic bistro, Pascal asks Merle, Annie, and her fiancé to accompany him to a little-known club where he promised his brother he'd look up a friend of his. Intrigued, Merle and company follow him to the village where they're treated to a drag revue. Turns out the friend is a drag queen, a Marilyn Monroe look-alike who goes by the name Bosom Drearie. But later Francie, the next to youngest Bennett sister, says she's seen Bosom Drearie before and she looked different from her sister's description, plus Francie'd heard the performer got fired and had to reinvent herself. That gets the sisters' sleuth sense up. Could it be the Bosom Drearie Pascal was searching for is an imposter? Perhaps a wanted one? The truth starts to come out when Pascal admits to Merle that Bosom Drearie is a person of interest to the French Police Nationale and Merle begins to question his intentions. Is he in New York solely on police business? But it may not be so simple; her own family may be involved. She learns the French police are reopening the investigation into a defunct wine business once owned by her late husband's father 50 years after a questionable deal and can't help but worry her family's shameful past is tied to her romantic interest. A romantic interest she can't seem to resist. Festivities, fun, food, and fraud, not to mention mystery and romance abound in this delicious holiday installment of the Bennett sisters' cozy adventures.

Lost in Lavender Lise McClendon, 2023-05-22. Mystery, romance, adventure, and more are in store for the youngest of five sisters, lawyers all, when she signs up to work at a lavender farm in Provence. In Lost in Lavender, a Bennett Sisters Mystery, facing a crossroads both career and personal, the youngest of the five Bennett Sisters, Elise, does what she does best: she runs away to think. This time she runs to a farm in Provence that produces heaven-scented lavender for oils. The area is famous for the beautiful purple flower, the symbol of this southern region of France. Her sisters are stumped. Elise never seemed like the farming type or even gardening for that matter. But she's signed up for a farm stay vacation, an idea she got from an unlikely source: the trophy wife of one of her law partners. When she arrives, courtesy her older sister Merle, who drives her to the Luberon from the Dordogne, she discovers she is the only guest at the picturesque family farm who is not a college student. The rest are all doing a French language exchange program and are 20 years younger than Elise, leaving her feeling like an outsider and wondering about her life choices. Not only is her judgment in men and careers awful, but she can't even plan a decent vacation. Meanwhile, in the Dordogne, Merle's niece Willow arrives for some R.R. before she starts law school. But she brings a few surprises with her: a boyfriend, plus Elise's fiancé. Or is it ex-fiancé? It will take several sisters, and of course Pascal, to unravel the facts as all descend on southern France for July in the heat and lavender. Suspense, romance, intrigue, and humor as the summer heats up for the Bennett Sisters again. Another delicious adventure in international travel and cozy mystery as the Bennett Sisters fight their way to truth, justice, and a perhaps a summer fling deep in the French countryside. A summer fling in France never hurt anyone, now did it.

Butman, 2006-05-04 The essential follow up to the BusinessWeek bestseller Trading Up A BMW in a Costco parking lot A working class family with a 50 inch plasma TV What s going on in the mind of the new consumer Today s consumers can seem impossible to understand and even harder to please For instance the average mall shopper will spend about 100 then leave when she hits that limit She ll probably buy shoes rather than clothing because she doesn t want to think about her dress size And the store most likely to get her money isn t the one with the nicest display or the deepest discounts it s the one closest to her parking spot In his consulting with dozens of leading companies Michael J Silverstein has interviewed thousands of customers extracting fascinating patterns about what really drives their purchase decisions His first book the acclaimed bestseller Trading Up has taught a generation of marketers about the new luxury phenomenon and why consumers will happily pay a steep premium for goods and services that are emotionally satisfying from golf clubs to bathroom fixtures to beauty products But Trading Up revealed only part of the story of the new consumer The same middle class people who are happily trading up at Victoria s Secret and Panera are going on treasure hunts at Costco and Home Depot And they are often getting as much emotional satisfaction in the discount stores as in the luxury stores TREASURE HUNT shows how even the most mundane shopping for things like paper towels and pet food has become an adventure rather than a tedious chore In just about every category both the high end and the low end are growing and innovation rich Many middle class consumers gladly spend 5 a day for a Starbucks venti latte others spend forty cents a day on home brewed coffee feel good about their frugality and save up the difference to buy Apple s newest Nano TREASURE HUNT explains the success of companies as diverse as Dollar General H E Butt eBay Commerce Bank and Tchibo But beware in our bifurcated global market businesses need a clear strategy for aiming high or low while avoiding the treacherous middle where so many have recently stumbled If your offering isn't exciting enough to inspire trading up but not enough of a bargain to satisfy the treasure hunters you'll have no emotional connection with your target audience And then as many fallen companies have discovered your tried and true marketing strategies will go into a severe stall TREASURE HUNT takes us into the homes of real people making real decisions and into the CEO's offices of innovative companies finding new ways to accommodate them Written with the same flair empathy and intelligence that made Trading Up an instant classic this is an essential guide to the moods and habits of the constantly changing consumer
