Earth Jurisprudence Peter D. Burdon, 2014-09-19 The idea of human dominion over nature has become entrenched by the dominant rights based interpretation of private property Accordingly nature is not attributed any inherent value and becomes merely the matter of a human property relationship Earth Jurisprudence Private Property and the Environment explores how an alternative conception of property might be instead grounded in the ecocentric concept of an Earth community Recognising that human beings are deeply interconnected with and dependent on nature this concept is proposed as a standard and measure for human law This book argues that the anthropocentric institution of private property needs to be reconceived drawing on international case law indigenous views of property and the land use practices of agrarian communities Peter Burdon considers how private property can be reformulated in a way that fosters duties towards nature Using the theory of earth jurisprudence as a guide he outlines an alternative ecocentric description of private property as a relationship between and among members of the Earth community This book will appeal to those researching in law justice and ecology as well as anyone pursuing an interest more particularly in earth jurisprudence

Forese-Carlo Wezel,2005 Coming Home to Earth Mark S. Bocker,2016-09-13 As a young Norwegian Lutheran teenager in rural Wisconsin Bocker lay awake one night worrying whether he believed in Jesus enough to get to heaven This getting to heaven anxiety reflected an excessive focus on individual salvation and a loss of concern for the well being of the Earth community A faith journey that leaves Earth behind is misguided Ever since those early teen years Bocker has been on a journey to come home to Earth Coming Home to Earth makes the case that there is no salvation apart from Earth and that Earth care is at the core of our identity and mission as followers of Jesus The ecological consequences of a loss of concern for the well being of Earth have been devastating Bocker is especially concerned to determine what will motivate followers of Jesus to make radical changes in our way of life so that we can participate in the healing of wounded Earth and all of its inhabitants both human and nonhuman We are far more likely to make needed sacrifices for our fellow creatures if we share God's delight in and affection for them and cherish Earth as our home Peace on Earth Thomas Matyók, Maureen Flaherty, Hamdesa Tusó, Jessica Senehi, Sean Byrne, 2013-12-16 Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies provides a critical analysis of faith and religious institutions in peacebuilding practice and pedagogy The work captures the synergistic relationships among faith traditions and how multiple approaches to conflict transformation and peacebuilding result in a creative process that has the potential to achieve a more detailed view of peace on earth containing breadth as well as depth Library and bookstore shelves are filled with critiques of the negative impacts of religion in conflict scenarios Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies offers an alternate view that suggests religious organizations play a more complex role in conflict than a simply negative one Faith based organizations and their workers are often found on the frontlines of conflict throughout the world conducting conflict management and resolution activities as well as advancing peacebuilding initiatives A Precarious Balance: Seeking the Harmony Between Humanity and Earth Pasquale De Marco, 2025-08-11 In the face of an impending ecological collapse humanity stands at a crossroads Are we with our insatiable consumption and disregard for the natural world a planetary disease Or can we transform ourselves into stewards of the Earth living in harmony with its delicate ecosystems A Precarious Balance Seeking the Harmony Between Humanity and Earth embarks on a profound exploration of these questions delving into the depths of human nature the flaws of our current systems and the transformative power of spirituality Drawing inspiration from the unfinished work of the brilliant scientist Dr Lucille Boggs this book invites readers on a journey of discovery that challenges long held beliefs and illuminates a path toward a sustainable future Through thought provoking chapters A Precarious Balance Seeking the Harmony Between Humanity and Earth delves into the complex relationship between humanity and the Earth It examines the roots of our destructive tendencies the interconnectedness of all life and the sacredness of nature It exposes the flaws of our economic and political systems which prioritize profit over the well being of the planet and envisions a future where these systems are transformed to promote sustainability and justice With eloquence and passion A Precarious Balance Seeking the Contesting Earth's Future Michael E. Zimmerman, 2023-11-15 Radical ecology typically brings to mind media images of ecological activists standing before loggers saws staging anti nuclear marches and confronting polluters on the high seas Yet for more than twenty years the activities of organizations such as the Greens and Earth First have been influenced by a diverse less publicized group of radical ecological philosophers. It is their work, the philosophical underpinnings of the radical ecological movement, that is the subject of Contesting Earth's Future. The book offers a much needed balanced appraisal of radical ecology's principles, goals, and limitations. Michael Zimmerman critically examines the movement's three major branches: deep ecology, social ecology, and ecofeminism. He also situates radical ecology within the complex cultural and political terrain of the late twentieth century, showing its relation to Martin Heidegger's anti-technological thought, 1960s counterculturalism, and contemporary theories of poststructuralism and postmodernity. An early and influential ecological thinker, Zimmerman is uniquely qualified to provide a broad overview of radical environmentalism and delineate its various schools of thought. He clearly describes their defining arguments and internecine disputes, among them the charge that deep ecology is an anti-modern, proto-fascist ideology. Reflecting both the movement's promise and its dangers, this book is essential reading for all those concerned with the worldwide ecological crisis. Radical ecology typically brings to mind media images of ecological activists standing before loggers' saws, staging anti-nuclear marches, and confronting polluters on the high seas. Yet for more than twenty years, the activities of organizations such as Self, Earth, and Society (Thomas N. Finger, 2020-03-12) are experiencing unparalleled and rapid transience. The twentieth century began with the telephone and ended with e-mail. People change jobs and homes a half-dozen times or more in their lives. Air and water pollution are threatening the well-being of the earth itself. Wars, their multiplying refugees, and political crises are tearing societies apart. If there is a key word for our era, it might be alienation. Amid increasing and often chaotic complexity, individuals struggle to attain an integrated, stable self with durable relationships. An expanding ecological consciousness reveals our estrangement from the earth. Societies are internally divided by clashing political and economic perspectives and processes. This profound and important book recognizes and reveals the connections among these three alienations. Thomas Finger undertakes a probing, critical conversation with culture and develops his own public theology. Each alienation is analyzed in depth through the writings of secular authors. His theological construction draws neither on modern philosophy nor worldviews but perhaps surprisingly on Scripture. To support his emphasis on Christ, Finger engages the skepticism of the much-celebrated Jesus Seminar. He rejects the widespread claim that Christianity's transcendent God is largely absent from the world and legitimates human exploitation of it. For transcendence means that God is different but not distant from the world. Finger then examines the roles of Jesus, Father, and Spirit in his earthly ministry. In this and later scriptures, these three act and interact in a salvific manner that can only be divine. This means that his Father and Spirit also suffer with Jesus in his death and with all creation as Jürgen Moltmann brilliantly explains, and accompany him in his resurrection. This also means that the creation exists in God as some feminists maintain and originated as the overflow of God's love and character into a realm which was hardly distant from God yet very different. In addition, this entails that every human self and the process of becoming a self as God's creations must be respected as indeed must all earthly creatures and the basic structures needed to form and maintain any society Theological developments in the last decade have done much to critique misguided biblical interpretations which would justify unbridled human exploitation and abuse of creation But work in exploring how an understanding of a trinitarian transcendent God results in creative and caring relationship between humanity and creation has been less developed In discussing these matters with Dr Finger I am convinced that his proposed work holds the promise of meeting an important need within global theological discussions today Further I know that Dr Finger is fully capable of accomplishing this project Thus from my vantage point where I have the opportunity of hearing theological discussions on these subjects from the major Christian traditions and from throughout the globe it is clear that Dr Finger s proposal will fill a theological void and enrich our search for truth Wesley Granberg Michaelson Executive Secretary Commission on Church and Society World Council of Churches 1988 1994 General Secretary Reformed Church in America 1994 2011 Grassroots Associations David Horton Smith, 2000-05-11 This volume explores the world of grassroots organizations and outlines their history while differentiating them from the more familiar paid staff nonprofit organizations David Horton Smith a leading scholar on the nonprofit and voluntary sector examines the available empirical research on the topic and analyzes the theoretical concepts that have come to define such associations He affords the reader a complete detailed description of the nature and characteristics of grassroots organizations their formation structure leadership life cycle effectiveness and their integral role in postmodern societies
