

How policy works

- You elect a National Executive Council to pass interim policy between conferences
- In between National Conferences the Zone Committees, led by the VPs implement the policy that you have set
- They are held to account on this work by the NEC 6 times a year and by you at Zone Conferences and National Conference

Quebec In A New World The National Executive Council Of The Parti Quibecois

Christian Lammert

Quebec In A New World The National Executive Council Of The Parti Quibecois:

Quebec in a New World Parti québécois, National Executive Council of the Parti Québécois, 1994 Published on the cusp of an election call in 1994 this book was written for the public by the Parti Qu b cois and outlines what could be expected from a PQ government The party sets out its position on business and economic development social policy culture and gender It defines sovereignty and sets out the steps necessary to attain it The party tells its readers its position on the boundaries of a sovereign Quebec on dividing the debt on aboriginal issues and economic association with Canada Quebec in a New World remains a useful primer of the policies held by the official embodiment of the sovereigntist movement Secession and Self Gregory Millard, 2008 The possibility of Quebec s departure has long haunted Canadian politics and English speaking Canadians have resisted such a break But why and how does Quebec s membership in the existing constitutional order matter to Canadians outside Quebec Secession and Self goes beyond debates over the economic and institutional effects of Quebec separation to look at the normative dimensions of resistance to secession Drawing from Charles Taylor James Tully and many others Gregory Millard explores the central role Quebec plays in ideas of what makes Canada worthwhile He argues that a break with Quebec would impair Canada s ability to realize ideals such as liberalism fraternity and developmental accounts of citizenship and would undercut attempts to locate Canadian identity in narratives of history and place In lieu of a single argument against the departure of Quebec Millard considers the variety and richness of the affirmations involved in Quebec in Canada as a particular kind of multinational state Taking into account the many efforts to grapple with one of the deepest challenges in Canadian history Secession and Self provides an insightful account of the variegated ties between Canada Quebec and visions of the good Understanding Ethnic Conflict Raymond Taras, Rajat Ganguly, 2015-08-07 Understanding Ethnic Conflict provides all the key concepts needed to understand conflict among ethnic groups Including approaches from both comparative politics and international relations this text offers a model of ethnic conflict s internationalization by showing how domestic and international actors influence a country s ethnic and sectarian divisions Illustrating this model in five original case studies the unique combination of theory and application in Understanding Ethnic Conflict facilitates more critical analysis of contemporary ethnic conflicts and the world s response to them Economic Nationalism in a Globalizing World Eric Helleiner, Andreas Pickel, 2018-08-06 Is economic nationalism an outdated phenomenon in light of globalization Economic Nationalism in a Globalizing World demonstrates the enduring and even heightened economic significance of national identities and nationalism in the current age The volume s contributors pioneers in the reinterpretation of economic nationalism explore diverse ways in which national identities and nationalism continue to shape contemporary economic policies and processes The authors examine the question in a range of geographical contexts and issues European Union food politics competitiveness strategies in New Zealand East Asian development strategies Japanese liberalization monetary politics in Quebec and Germany and post Soviet economic reforms

Together the cases explore the policy breadth of nationalism. It is not just a protectionist ideology but is in fact associated with a wide variety of economic policies including support for economic liberalization and globalization. Geopolitics at the End of the Twentieth Century Nurit Kliot, David Newman, 2013-11-05. An excellent examination of how the collapse of the Soviet Union and the impact of globalization have brought about changes not only to the territorial configuration, sovereignty of states and their boundaries but also to traditional notions of state boundaries, sovereignty and social order. These essays focus on the key regional and geopolitical characteristics of this global reordering with an emphasis on Eastern Europe and South Asia. They discuss the territorial reordering which is taking place at the level of the state as boundaries are redemarcated in line with ethno-territorial demands as borders are transversed by the movement of peoples, information and finance and as the lines of territorial demarcation are perceived not only in terms of their fixed characteristics but as part of a process through which regional and ethnic identities continue to be formed and reformed. Each section ends with articles which focus on literature on geopolitics and boundaries. This is an invaluable addition to our understanding of contemporary world affairs.

Seeking a New Canadian Partnership F. Leslie Seidle, Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1994. This document presents asymmetrical and confederal options regarding a new partnership. Topics covered are brinkmanship and renewal of Canadian federalism toward a multinational federalism, flexibility within the present constitutional framework and the challenge of diversity.

On the Land Bruce W. Hodgins, Kerry A. Cannon, 1995-06-30. It is from the land that the Native peoples of Canada draw their strength. If the people of Quebec claim a right to sovereignty, Inuit of Quebec argue their right of self-determination empowers them with the choice to remain part of Quebec of Canada or to secede on their own. The James Bay Cree consider Hydro-Quebec's mad plans to engineer and dam the vast ecosystem where they have lived for centuries an affront to their own right to control their land. The Labrador Innu are struggling with both the federal and provincial governments to protect their traditional hunting territories from threats imposed by military training flights and mineral exploration. All of these are challenges. As the Native peoples of Canada are meeting them, asserting their right to make choices for themselves, they stand steadfastly on the land from which flow their inherent rights to self-determination. We are not willing to be bystanders and spectators. We are not willing to have our political status once again determined by others. Zebedee Nungak, President of Makivik representing Inuit of Northern Quebec. Great Whale is only a symptom. The attempted dispossession of my people and the purported extinguishment of our rights is the cause. Matthew Coon Come, Grand Chief of the Grand Council of the Cree. The real solution to the problems that face the Innu people is recognition by Canada and Newfoundland of our rights, rights to our land and our way of life. We can not and will not settle for anything less. Daniel Ashini, Director of Innu Rights and Environment for the Innu Nation.

The Global Emergence of Gay and Lesbian Politics Barry D. Adam, Duyvendak and Willem, Jan Willem Duyvendak, Andre Krouwel, 2009-03-16. Rich accounts of gay and lesbian groups on five continents.

Changing Canada Wallace Clement, Leah F. Vosko, 2003 Changing Canada examines political transformations welfare state restructuring international boundaries and contexts the new urban experience and creative resistance The authors question dominant ways of thinking and promote alternative ways of understanding and explaining Canadian society and politics that encourage progressive social change They examine how the evolution of capitalism is producing new types of transformations and new forms of resistance and show that aspects of the state and the wider society are being contested They also discuss the often paradoxical or contradictory effects of various social forces such as the liberating but also constraining features of new communications technologies new employment norms and new household forms Contributors include Laurie E Adkin University of Alberta Caroline Andrew University of Ottawa Pat Armstrong York University William Carroll University of Victoria Elaine Coburn Stanford University William D Coleman McMaster University Mary Cornish senior partner with Cavalluzzo Hayes Shilton McIntyre Cornish Judy Fudge York University Christina Gabriel Carleton University Sam Gindin York University Joyce Green University of Regina Eric Helleiner Trent University Robert G Hollands University of Newcastle Jane Jenson Universit de Montr al Roger Keil York University Stefan Kipfer York University Fuyuki Kurasawa York University Laura Macdonald Carleton University Rianne Mahon Carleton University Wendy McKeen Dalhousie University Elizabeth Millar consultant Nelligan O'Brien and Payne Law Firm and Labour Consulting Group Vincent Mosco Carleton University Susan Phillips Carleton University Ann Porter York University Tony Porter McMaster University Daniel Salee Concordia University Vic Satzewich McMaster University Jim Stanford Canadian Auto Workers Union Toronto Mel Watkins emeritus University of Toronto and Lloyd L Wong University of Calgary The Canadian Forum ,1994

Includes critical reviews Beyond the Impasse Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1998 Efforts to reform the Canadian constitution have only resulted in a serious impasse fostered by demands for change from Quebec and reticence from English Canada This book looks at the potential for achieving reconciliation through a new partnership between Quebec and Canada in a series of papers that examine the stakes for both Canada and Quebec in opting for a modified relationship that is neither the status quo nor complete separation Two papers in part 1 lay the conceptual groundwork concerning the constituent elements of partnership Papers in part 2 deal with the economic union in the context of a renewed partnership Four papers in part 3 examine issues concerning rights recognition and citizenship in a Quebec Canada partnership Part 5 broadens the discussion to the international arena and includes a comparative international scan of partnership models The final part distills the two editors separate conclusions on how to move beyond the impasse based on the studies presented
