Questioning Romanticism:

Questioning Romanticism John B. Beer, 1995 Romanticism is notoriously hard to define There are indeed those who believe that a concept which has by now been projected through so many perspectives has become so miasmic in the process that the very term should be dropped from the critical vocabulary This volume demonstrates its continuing importance as a necessary point of focus In Questioning Romanticism John Beer assembles eleven original essays which consider various aspects of contemporary critical practice and Romantic literature While providing a coherent reconstruction of Romantic literary theory the collection offers a diverse and expansive sense of Romanticism's concerns addressing topics such as mimesis phenomenology gender language metaphor and aesthetics The contributors are Martin Aske John Beer Drummond Bone Frederick Burwick A C Goodson Nigel Leask Philip Martin Anne Mellor Lucy Newlyn Tilotama Rajan and Susan Wolfson Questioning Romanticism is a very strong and important collection of essays by scholars of international reputation They are focused on the attempt to rethink the philosophical aesthetic linguistic and social grounds of Romantic theory Rather than seeking to present Romanticism as a unified school of thought the essays in this collection suggest that the Romantic desire to achieve a unified theory of life and literature must be read against an equally strong assertion of questioning irony and uncertainty By drawing on the differing views of a wide range of contemporary Romantic theorists feminism language theory hermeneutics reader response formalism phenomenology aesthetics the collection provides a comprehensive yet diverse focus on the broad ranging concerns that shaped how Romantic writers theorized their writing It is unique in its primary focus on reconstructing the historical complexities the productive uncertainties and the shifting ground of Romantic theory Alan Bewell University of Toronto

Tomko, 2010-11-17 The debate over extending full civil rights to British and Irish Catholics not only preoccupied British politics but also informed the romantic period's most prominent literary works This book offers the first comprehensive interdisciplinary study of Catholic Emancipation one of the romantic period's most contentious issues and painting and the general system of Romantic arts Features 35 essays in all from leading scholars in America Australia Britain France Italy and Switzerland The Romanticism of Contemporary Theory Justin Clemens, 2017-03-02 Using Phillipe Lacoue Labarthe and Jean Luc Nancy's groundbreaking study of the persistence of German Idealist philosophy as his starting point Justin Clemens presents a valuable study of the links between Romanticism and contemporary theory The central contention of this book is that contemporary theory is still essentially Romantic despite all its declarations to the contrary and despite all its attempts to elude or exceed the limits bequeathed it by Romantic thought The argument focuses on the ruses of Romanticism's indefinable character under two main rubrics Contexts and Interventions The first three chapters investigate Contexts examining some of the broad trends in the historical and institutional development of Romantic criticism the second section Interventions comprises close readings of the work of Jacques Lacan Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Ian Hunter and Alain Badiou In the first chapter Clemens identifies and traces the development of two interlocking recurrent themes in Romantic criticism the Romantic desire to escape Romanticism and the problem posed to aesthetico philosophical thought by the modern domiciliation of philosophy in the university He develops these themes in the second chapter by examining the link forged between aesthetics and the subject in the work of Immanuel Kant In the third chapter Clemens shows how the Romantic problems of the academic institution and aesthetics were effectively bound together by the philosophical diagnosis of nihilism Chapter Four focuses on two key moments in the work of Jacques Lacan his theory of the mirror stage and his formulas of sexualization and demonstrates how Lacan returns to the grounding claims of Kantian aesthetics in such a way as to render him complicit with the Romantic thought he often seems to contest In the following chapter taking Deleuze and Guattari's notion of multiplicity as a guiding thread Clemens links their account to their professed anti Platonism showing how they find themselves forced back onto emblematically Romantic arguments Chapter Six provides a close reading of Sedgwick's most influential text Epistemology of the Closet Clemens reading localizes her practice both in the newly consolidated academic field of Queer Theory and in a conceptual genealogy whose roots can be traced back to a particular anti Enlightenment strain of Romanticism Clemens next turns to the professedly anti Romantic arguments of Ian Hunter a major figure in the ongoing re writing of modern histories of education In the final chapter he examines the work of the contemporary French philosopher Alain Badiou Clemens argues that if Badiou's hostility to the diagnosis of nihilism his return to Plato and mathematics and his expulsion of poetry from philosophical method all place him at a genuine distance from dominant Romantic trends even this attempt admits ciphered Romantic elements This study will be of interest to literary theorists philosophers political theorists and cultural studies scholars Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray, 2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate

"Romanticism" - and Byron Peter Cochran,2009-03-26 Romanticism and Byron is a book in two parts In the first part Dr Cochran examines Romanticism and shows that it is a word meaning anything and therefore nothing It is an academic construct created by academics and has no basis in the writings of the early nineteenth century Its continued use argues Dr Cochran is a modern marketing phenomenon solely In the second part Dr Cochran examines the life and work of Byron in the non romantic context of his contemporaries He shows how Byron s antithetical nature created problems when he was forced into compromising situations with friends who were close to parts of his mind yet irreconcilable with one another This mobility argues Cochran was often an embarrassment for Byron s social life but of great benefit to his creativity This part of the book features chapters on Shelley Scott Blake Keats Coleridge and Wordsworth and is notable for the amount of original archive documentation with which Cochran illustrates his theme Romanticism Carmen Casaliggi,Porscha

Women and Romanticism 5V Roxanne Eberle, 2022-07-30 Demonstrating the breadth and scope of women's writing in the Romantic period this collection covers a variety of topics ranging across polemical treatises private correspondence philosophical and historical disquisitions and poetry and prose fiction Helping to contextualise the areas discussed the collection includes a general introduction by the editor which traces the history of criticism in the field and thus current definitions of Women and Romanticism before going on to discuss the contents of each volume Inspiration in the Age of Enlightenment Sarah Eron, 2014-03-20 Inspiration in the Age of Enlightenment reconsiders theories of apostrophe and poetic authority to argue that the Augustan age created a new form of inspiration one that not only changed the relationship of literary production to authority in the modern period but also crucially contributes to defining the movement of secularization in literature from the Renaissance to Romanticism Seeking to redefine what we mean by secularization in the early stages of modernity Eron argues that secularization's link to enthusiasm or inspiration often associated with Romanticism begins in the imaginative literature of the early eighteenth century If Romantic enthusiasm has been described through the rhetoric of transport or unworlding then Augustan invocation appears more akin to a process of worlding in its central aim to appeal to the social other as a function of the eighteenth century belief in a literary public sphere By reformulating the passive structure of ancient invocation and subjecting it to the more dialogical methods of modern apostrophe and address authors such as the Third Earl of Shaftesbury Alexander Pope Henry Fielding and Anna Laetitia Barbauld formally revise inspiration in a way that generates a new and distinctive representation of the author In this context inspiration becomes a social gesture an apostrophe to a friend or judging spectator or an allusion to the mental or aesthetic faculties of the author himself his genius Articulating this struggle toward modernity at its inception this book examines modern authority at the moment of its extraordinariness when it was still tied to the creative energies of inspiration to the revelatory powers that marked the awakening of a new age an era and an ethos of Enlightenment
