Questioning Technology A Critical Anthology:

Questioning Technology John Zerzan, Alice Carnes, 1991      Against Technology Steven E. Jones, 2013-01-11 This book addresses the question of what it might mean today to be a Luddite that is to take a stand against technology Steven Jones here explains the history of the Luddites British textile workers who from around 1811 proclaimed themselves followers of Ned Ludd and smashed machinery they saw as threatening their trade Against Technology is not a history of the Luddites but a history of an idea how the activities of a group of British workers in Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire came to stand for a global anti technology philosophy and how an anonymous collective movement came to be identified with an individualistic personal conviction Angry textile workers in the early nineteenth century became romantic symbols of a desire for a simple life certainly not the original goal of the actions for which they became famous Against Technology is in other words a book about representations about the image and the myth of the Luddites and how that myth was transformed over time into modern neo Luddism

Re-Visioning the American Psyche Ipek S. Burnett, 2023-12-07 The United States is at a crossroads Moving away from the stalemate of political polarization and culture wars requires reflection critical thinking and imagination This book of collected essays brings together leaders in Jungian and archetypal psychology to forge this path by offering a comprehensive look at the American psyche Re Visioning the American Psyche examines the myths images and archetypal fantasies ingrained in the collective consciousness and unconscious in the United States The volume tends to manifest symptoms in political institutions social conflicts and cultural movements Using various interpretative processes from psychoanalytic to literary and to participatory it reflects on the meaning of democratic participation the psychological cost of wars and violence intergenerational trauma due to racism the emotional dimensions of political polarization deep seated oppositional thinking in patriarchal structures frailty of the American Dream and more With its rich scope interdisciplinary scholarship and critical engagement with historical and current affairs this book will be of great interest to those in Jungian and depth psychology as well as sociology politics cultural studies and American studies As a timely contribution with an international appeal it will engage readers who are invested in better understanding psychology's capacity to respond to social cultural and political realities

The Self-destruction of the West Damien François, 2007 Voilà d sormais plus de 10 000 ans que la civilisation occidentale s est install e et voilà 10 000 ans qu elle viole le sens m me de la nature la vie En s appropriant sans concession ce qui l'entourait l'homme de l'Ouest a vu son horizon ployer sous la charge de la destruction qu'il lui avait lui-même réalisée. Sommes-nous des lycanthropes ou des vampires. Ces monstres si terrifiants qui sortent de notre imagination sont-ils en réalité la copie de notre comportement d'ivrogne. Prédicateurs nous sommes sans remords les énergies qui nous entourent. Jusqu'où ira-t-on.

The Culture of Nature Alexander Wilson, 1991. In this celebrated work Alexander Wilson examines environments built over the past fifty years as humans have continued to discover, exploit, protect, restore, and sometimes re-enchant a natural world in convulsion. Extensively illustrated.

International Handbook of Self-Study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices J. John Loughran, Mary Lynn Hamilton, Vicki Kubler LaBoskey, Tom L. Russell, 2007-07-03. The International Handbook on Self-study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices is of interest to teacher educators, teacher researchers, and practitioner researchers. This volume offers an encyclopaedic review of the field of self-study, examines in detail self-study in a range of teaching and teacher education contexts, outlines a full understanding of the nature and development of self-study, explores the development of a professional knowledge base for teaching through self-study, purposefully represents self-study through research and practice, illustrates examples of self-study in teaching and teacher education.

Greening the Media Richard Maxwell, Toby Miller, 2012-05-25. Greening the Media rethinks media technologies from an ecological perspective, developing a new approach to historical and social analysis of information and communication technology.

Thinking Constructively About Science, Technology, and Society Education Dennis W. Cheek, 1992-01-01. This book defines STS (science, technology, and society) education and discusses current thinking about its conceptual evolution. It synthesizes a broad range of research and thought in the history and philosophy of science and technology, STS studies, and education as they are informed by the dual perspectives of cognitive and social psychology. A model for STS curriculum development in science, social studies, or technology education is presented with well-chosen examples. The book includes an extensive and invaluable bibliography that will enable students, teachers, and researchers to explore the richness of this emerging field.

Lamalif: A Critical Anthology of Societal Debates in Morocco during the "Years of Lead" (1966-1988) Brahim El Guabli, Ali Alalou, 2022-11-17. The LAMALIF anthology presents a wide variety of articles from LAMALIF, Morocco's longest-serving Francophone journal. Active between 1966 and 1988, LAMALIF covered the most critical periods of Moroccan history and engaged in crucial debates about democratization, feminism, culture, education, Third World relations, and decolonization. However, LAMALIF was not just a journal; it was a real school where Morocco's, North Africa's, and the developing world's emerging and established writers, artists, and thinkers found a space to disseminate their ideas and address readerships across different cultures and geographical areas in French. This anthology is the first comprehensive translation into English of a wide selection of LAMALIF's articles covering literary and art criticism, as well as critical theory, feminism, Islam, and emigration. In addition to making available to Anglophone readerships articles about transnational solidarities and connections between North Africa and the rest of the world, LAMALIF anthology historicizes this sociocultural and political project within the painful period of authoritarianism in Morocco and reveals how culture worked as a trenchant weapon in the struggle against repression and silence Social Anarchism ,1999

Research Anthology on Developing Critical Thinking Skills in Students Management Association, Information Resources,2020-10-02 Learning strategies for critical thinking are a vital part of today s curriculum as students have few additional opportunities to learn these skills outside of school environments Therefore it is essential that educators be given practical strategies for improving their critical thinking skills as well as methods to effectively provide critical thinking skills to their students The Research Anthology on Developing Critical Thinking Skills in Students is a vital reference source that helps to shift and advance the debate on how critical thinking should be taught and offers insights into the significance of critical thinking and its effective integration as a cornerstone of the educational system Highlighting a range of topics such as discourse analysis skill assessment and measurement and critical analysis techniques this multi volume book is ideally designed for teachers instructors instructional designers curriculum developers education professionals administrators policymakers researchers and academicians Darshana international ,1990 Technology and the Philosophy of Religion David Lewin,2010-09-13 The last one hundred years has seen unimaginable technological progress transforming every aspect of human life Yet we seem unable to shake a profound unease with the direction of modern technology and its ideological siblings global capitalism and massive consumption Philosophers such as Marcuse Borgmann and especially Heidegger have developed important analyses of technological society however in this book David Lewin argues that their ideas have remained limited either by their secular context or by the narrow conception of religion that they do allow This study guides the reader along the newly formed paths of the philosophy of technology arguing that where those paths come to an abrupt end a religious discourse is needed to articulate the ultimate concerns that drive technological action It calls for a meditation on the central insight of many religious traditions that in an ultimate sense we know not what we do To acknowledge that we know not what we do is the first step towards a theology of technology that draws upon insights from the mystical theological tradition as well as from recent developments in the continental philosophy of religion
