Realism and Consensus in the English Novel Elizabeth Deeds Ermarth, 1998 This acclaimed study explores how the common denominators of modernity neutral time and neutral space were constructed from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century Central to this development was the normalizing of a certain grammar of perspective evident across a range of practices from art to politics from science to philosophy from mathematics to cartography In particular it deals with the construction of historical time in narrative from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries with particular case studies of Defoe Richardson Austen Dickens George Eliot and Henry James

Realism and consensus in the English novel Elizabeth Deeds Ermarth, 1998 Annotation This acclaimed study explores how the common denominators of modernity neutral time and neutral space were constructed from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century Central to this development was the normalizing of a certain grammar of perspective evident across a range of practices from art to politics from science to philosophy from mathematics to cartography In particular it deals with the construction of historical time in narrative from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries with particular case studies of Defoe Richardson Austen Dickens George Eliot and Henry James

Sympathetic Realism in Nineteenth-Century British Fiction Rae Greiner, 2013-01-21 British realist novelists of the nineteenth century viewed sympathy not as a feeling but as a form of imaginative thinking useful in constructing their fiction Rae Greiner proposes that sympathy is integral to the form of the classic nineteenth century realist novel Following the philosophy of Adam Smith Greiner argues that sympathy does more than foster emotional identification with others it is a way of thinking along with them By abstracting emotions feelings turn into detached figures of speech that may be shared Sympathy in this way produces realism it is the imaginative process through which the real is substantiated In Sympathetic Realism in Nineteenth Century British Fiction Greiner shows how this imaginative process of sympathy is written into three novelistic techniques regularly associated with nineteenth century fiction metonymy free indirect discourse and realist characterization She explores the work of sentimentalist philosophers David Hume Adam Smith and Jeremy Bentham and realist novelists Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot Joseph Conrad and Henry James

Practicing History Gabrielle M. Spiegel, 2005 This essential new collection of key articles from critical thinkers and practicing historians focuses on where history is now in terms of its theory and practice For students teachers and historians alike this is an indispensable reader

The Novel and the New Ethics Dorothy J. Hale, 2020-11-24 For a generation of contemporary Anglo American novelists the question Why write has been answered with a renewed will to believe in the ethical value of literature Dissatisfied with postmodernist parody and pastiche a broad array of novelist critics including J M Coetzee Toni Morrison Zadie Smith Gish Jen Ian McEwan and Jonathan Franzen champion the novel as the literary genre most qualified to illuminate individual ethical action and decision making within complex and diverse social worlds Key to this contemporary vision of the novel s ethical power is the task of knowing and being responsible to people different from oneself and so thoroughly have contemporary novelists devoted themselves to the ethics of otherness that this ethics frequently sets the terms for plot characterization and theme In The Novel and the New Ethics literary critic Dorothy J Hale investigates how the contemporary emphasis on literature's social relevance sparks a new ethical description of the novel's social value that is in fact rooted in the modernist notion of narrative form This new ethics of the contemporary moment has its origin in the new idea of novelistic form that Henry James inaugurated and which was consolidated through the modernist narrative experiments and was developed over the course of the twentieth century In Hale's reading the art of the novel becomes defined with increasing explicitness as an aesthetics of alterity made visible as a formalist ethics In fact it is this commitment to otherness as a narrative act which has conferred on the genre an artistic intensity and richness that extends to the novel's every word

Tiny Individuals in the fiction of Doris Lessing Darshana Goswami, 2011 Doris Lessing who won the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2007 is one of the leading writers of our time Her corpus encompasses a wide range of themes and concerns such as female identity race relations and dystopic visions of the future This book makes a critical study of the different aspects of individual conscience as portrayed in the novels of Doris Lessing It provides the broader contexts which nurtured Lessing's talent and aspirations furnishes all the prominent biographical information and finally offers critical interpretations of the individual works Her novels studied here include The Grass is Singing The Children of Violence The Golden Notebook The Summer before the Dark and The Briefing for a Descent into Hell Contents Individual Conscience in The Grass is Singing Martha in Quest of Roots A Study of Identity Crisis in The Children of Violence The Golden Notebook From Alienation to Integration The Summer before the Dark Reconstruction of the Self Briefing for a Descent into Hell A Schizoid on a Celestial Mission Conclusion

Excitable Imaginations Kathleen Lubey, 2012-09-27 Excitable Imaginations offers a new approach to the history of pornography Looking beyond a counter canon of bawdy literature Kathleen Lubey identifies a vigilant attentiveness to sex across a wide spectrum of literary and philosophical texts in eighteenth century Britain Esteemed public modes of writing such as nationalist poetry moral fiction and empirical philosophy as well as scandalous and obscene writing persistently narrate erotic experiences desire voyeurism seduction orgasm The recurring turn to sexuality in literature and philosophy she argues allowed authors to recommend with great urgency how the risqué delights of reading might excite the imagination to ever greater degrees of educability on moral and aesthetic matters Moralists such as Samuel Richardson and Adam Smith like their licentious counterparts Rochester Haywood and Cleland purposefully evoke salacious fantasy so that their audiences will recognize reading as an intellectual act that is premised on visceral pleasure Eroticism in texts like Pamela and Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure in Lubey's reading did not compete with instructive literary aims but rather was essential to the construction of the self governing Enlightenment subject

Scandalous Fictions Jago Morrison, Susan Watkins, 2006-10-31 This study re-examines the twentieth century novel as a form shaped by its problematic often scandalous relation to the public sphere Discussing ten texts against the challenges of their milieus it considers twentieth century fiction as a tradition of transgression perennially caught between license and licentiousness erudition and sedition

Literature and Medicine Anna M. Elsner, Monika Pietrzak-Franger, 2024-01-18 The experiences of health and illness death and dying the normal and the pathological have always been an integral part of literary texts This volume considers how the two dynamic fields of medicine and literature have crossed over and how they have developed alongside one another It asks how medicine as both science and practice shapes the representation of illness and transforms literary form It considers how literary texts across genres and languages of disease have put forward specific conceptions of medicine and impacted its practice Taking into account the global multilingual and multicultural contexts this volume systematically outlines and addresses this double sidedness of the literature medicine connection Literature and Medicine covers a broad spectrum of conceptual thematic theoretical and methodological approaches that provide a solid foundation for understanding a vibrant interdisciplinary field

Corporate Romanticism Daniel M. Stout, 2016-12-01 Corporate Romanticism offers an alternative history of the connections between modernity individualism and the novel In early nineteenth century England two developments the rise of corporate persons and the expanded scale of industrial action undermined the basic assumption underpinning both liberalism and the law that individual human persons can be meaningfully correlated with specific actions and particular effects Reading works by Godwin Austen Hogg Mary Shelley and Dickens alongside a wide ranging set of debates in nineteenth century law and Romantic politics and aesthetics Daniel Stout argues that the novel a literary form long understood as a reflection of individualism s ideological ascent in fact registered the fragile fictionality of accountable individuals in a period defined by corporate actors and expansively entangled fields of action Examining how liberalism the law and the novel all wrestled with the moral implications of a highly collectivized and densely packed modernity Corporate Romanticism reconfigures our sense of the nineteenth century and its novels arguing that we see in them not simply the apotheosis of laissez fair individualism but the first chapter of a crucial and distinctly modern problem about how to fit the individualist and humanist terms of justice onto a world in which the most consequential agents are no longer persons

Feeling British Evan Gottlieb, 2007 Feeling British argues that the discourse of sympathy both encourages and problematizes a sense of shared national identity in eighteenth century and Romantic British literature and culture Although the 1707 Act of Union officially joined England and Scotland government policy alone could not overcome centuries of feuding and ill will between these nations Accordingly the literary public sphere became a vital arena for the development and promotion of a new national identity Britishness Feeling British starts by examining the political implications of the Scottish Enlightenment s theorizations of sympathy the mechanism by which emotions are shared between people From these philosophical beginnings this study tracks how sympathetic discourse is deployed by a variety of authors including Defoe Smollett Johnson Wordsworth and Scott invested in constructing but also in questioning an inclusive sense of what it means to be British

Character and Satire in Post War Fiction Ian

Gregson,2008-06-01 This book new in paperback offers new readings of novels by major British and American postwar novelists Jane Austen Darryl Jones,2017-03-14 This book offers a one volume study of Jane Austen that is both a sophisticated critical introduction and a valuable contribution to the study of one of the most popular and enduring British novelists Darryl Jones provides students with a coherent overview of Austen s work and an idea of the current state of critical debate Time, Religion and History William Gallois,2014-06-11 What is time How does our sense of time lead us to approach the world How did the peoples of the past view time This book answers these questions through an investigation of the cultures of time in Christianity Islam Buddhism Judaism and the Australian Dreamtime It argues that our contemporary world is blind as to the significance and complexity of time preferring to believe that time is natural and unchanging This is of critical importance to historians since the base matter of their study is time yet there is almost no theoretical literature on time in history This book offers the first detailed historiographical study of the centrality of time to human cultures It sets out the complex ways in which ideas of time developed in the major world religions and the manner in which such conceptions led people both to live in ways very different to our contemporary world and to make very different kinds of histories It goes on to argue that modern scientific descriptions of time such as Einsteins Theory of Relativity lie much closer to the complex understandings of time in religions such as Christianity than they do to our common sense notions of time which are centred on progress through a past present and future The Alchemy of Empire Rajani Sudan,2016-06-01 Named Top 6 South Asia studies publications of 2016 by the British Association for South Asian Studies The Alchemy of Empire unravels the non European origins of Enlightenment science Focusing on the abject materials of empire building this study traces the genealogies of substances like mud mortar ice and paper as well as forms of knowledge like inoculation Showing how East India Company employees deployed the paradigm of alchemy in order to make sense of the new worlds they confronted Rajani Sudan argues that the Enlightenment was born largely out of Europe s and Britain s sense of insecurity and inferiority in the early modern world Plumbing the depths of the imperial archive Sudan uncovers the history of the British Enlightenment in the literary artifacts of the long eighteenth century from the correspondence of the East India Company and the papers of the Royal Society to the poetry of Alexander Pope and the novels of Jane Austen The Food Plot in the Nineteenth-Century British Novel Michael Parrish Lee,2016-12-21 This book is about food eating and appetite in the nineteenth century British novel While much novel criticism has focused on the marriage plot this book revises the history and theory of the novel uncovering the food plot against which the marriage plot and modern subjectivity take shape With the emergence of Malthusian population theory and its unsettling links between sexuality and the food supply the British novel became animated by the tension between the marriage plot and the food plot Charting the shifting relationship between these plots from Jane Austen s polite meals to Bram Stoker s bloodthirsty vampires this book sheds new light on some of the best know works of nineteenth century literature and pushes forward understandings of narrative literary character biopolitics and the novel as a form From Austen to Zombies Michael Parrish Lee explores how the food plot conflicts with the marriage plot in nineteenth century literature and beyond and how appetite keeps rising up against taste and intellect Lee s book will be of interest to Victorianists genre theorists Food Studies and theorists of bare life and biopolitics Regenia Gagnier Professor of English University of Exeter In The Food Plot Michael Lee engages recent and classic scholarship and brings fresh and provocative readings to well worked literary critical ground Drawing upon narrative theory character study theories of sexuality and political economy Professor Lee develops a refreshing and satisfyingly deep new reading of canonical novels as he develops the concept of the food plot The Food Plot should be of interest to specialists in the novel and food studies as well as students and general readers Professor April Bullock California State University Fullerton USA

The Age of Distraction Robert Hassan,2017-09-08 Connections between time technology and the processes of reading and writing make clear the links between experiences of what appear to be quite different phenomena Reading and writing have functioned together in a particular way to build the world as we have known it for three thousand years These interacting processes have now been transformed at their core and are building a different world one where certainties of the previous era are disappearing and being displaced by what the author sees as a chronic and pervasive mode of cognitive distraction Robert Hassan offers a perspective permeated by a sense of history beginning with the invention of writing and the development of the skill of reading Together with technological developments these provide a unique view of the trajectory of modernity into late modernity and illustrate how the arc of progress has transformed New modes of time technology and reading and writing are helping create a faster world where we know less about more and forget what we know evermore quickly What is the time of a thought Is it possible to measure thinking Can we consider knowledge or information or reading and writing as having temporal rhythms These are questions Hassan tries to answer So unfamiliar are we to thinking in such terms that they sound impossible To a significant degree time thinking and many forms of knowledge are the fruits of subjective experience We connect experiences at superficial levels where people have different experiences that may be objectively the same but our interpretations will always diverge in respect of the reality we confront This intersection of philosophy and communication takes the reader into new realms of analysis

Brooklyn Fictions James Peacock,2014-11-20 Vast and diverse Brooklyn is often portrayed in literature as a place of traditional community values and face to face relations distinct from anonymous capital driven Manhattan Brooklyn Fictions discovers what such representations of the New York borough can teach us about diversity and the individual the local and the global Combining analysis of popular texts such as Sister Souljah s The Coldest Winter Ever with more canonical novels such as Jonathan Lethem s The Fortress of Solitude this study draws on the work of a variety of theorists on community and globalization and uses Brooklyn as a case study for an exploration of the complex relationship between romantic ideals of community and global economic forces With cities often depicted as sites of conflict and fear this is a crucial contribution to our understanding of the contemporary urban community and the ethical issues involved in conceptualizing and portraying it in literature
