Realisms of the Avant-Garde Moritz Baßler, Benedikt Hjartarson, Ursula Frohne, David Ayers, Sascha Bru, 2020-09-21 The historical avant gardes defined themselves largely in terms of their relationship to various versions of realism At first glance modernism primarily seems to take a counter position against realism yet a closer investigation reveals that these relations are more complex This book is dedicated to the links between realism modernism and the avant garde in their international context from the late 19th century up to the present day As You Like It William Shakespeare, 2015-01-22 Contains the complete scripts a running synopsis of the action explanations of unfamiliar words and a variety of classroom tested activities

Bachman, Don Richard Cox, 2003 In the midst of a Victorian culture ingrained with strict social etiquette and societal norms Wilkie Collins composed novels that contained asocial even anarchic impulses A contemporary of Dickens Collins creates a world more Kafkaesque than Dickensian a world populated by doppelgangers secret selves oddballs and grotesques The essays of Reality's Dark Light The Sensational Wilkie Collins purposefully work to expand Collins's legacy beyond The Woman in White and The Moonstone they move well past the simplistic view of Collins's works as sensation novels detective novels or even popular fiction all labels that carry with them pejorative connotations This collection represents the range of Collins's aesthetic project from various critical perspectives New methodological and theoretical approaches are applied both to his most popular and to his lesser known works giving the reader a broader picture of this multifaceted and undervalued writer The Editors Maria K Bachman in an assistant professor of English at Coastal Carolina University Her articles have appeared in Victorian Newsletter Literature and Psychology The Dickensian and Dickens Studies Annual Don Richard Cox is a professor of English and associate dean at the University of Tennessee His books include Sexuality and Victorian Literature Tennessee Arthur Conan Doyle and Charles Dickens s The Mystery of Edwin Drood An Annotated Bibliography He is the coeditor with Maria Bachman of an edition of Wilkie Collins s final novel Blind Love Hells Clouds Isaiah Lawrence, 2014-03-05 Diane Sane an eighteen year old female from Venice Italy discovering appalling recordings on surveillance cameras which were hidden in her parent s household As a disturbed homeless person she runs from home then suffers from a strange reaction of bleeding from her flesh near a cathedral A stranger Evelyn meets and informs her that they are test subjects by cruel highly intelligent scientists Thus Diane discovers that she is not the only person with knowledge beyond scientists Also she discovers that she can kill people with a single glance or stare Every six hours she has the urge to murder her next victim Knowing

Children Michael Siegal, 2013-05-13 It has often been maintained that young children s knowledge is limited to perceptual appearances In this preoperational stage of development there are profound conceptual limitations in that they have little understanding of numerical and causal relations and are incapable of insight into the minds of others Their apparent inability to perform well on traditional developmental measures has led researchers to accept a model of the young child as plagued by conceptual deficits These ideas have had a major impact on educational programs Many have accepted the view that the young are not ready for instruction and that their memory and understanding is vulnerable to distortion especially in subjects such as mathematics and science However the second edition of this book provides further evidence that children s stage like performance can frequently be reinterpreted in terms of a clash between the conversational worlds of adults and children In many settings children may not share an adult s well meaning purpose or use of words in questioning Under these conditions they do not disclose the depth of their memory and understanding and may respond incorrectly even when they are certain of the right answer In this light a different model of development emerges with significant implications for instruction in educational health and legal settings It attributes more competence to young children than is frequently recognized and reflects the position that development in evolutionarily important domains is guided by implicit constraints on learning It proposes that attention to young children s conversational experience is a powerful means to illustrate what they know
