Reason and Belief in the Age of Roscelin and Abelard Constant J. Mews, 2024-10-28 The previous collection by Constant J Mews focused on the work and thought of Peter Abelard 1079 1142 the present volume looks more broadly at Abelard s intellectual and religious context in the Latin West and at his teacher the controversial nominalist philosopher and theologian Roscelin of Compi gne It opens with surveys of educational theory and practice in the 12th century schools Mews next explores the widespread movement in the period which sought to explain religious belief in terms accessible to reason and the background to accusations of heresy made by monks troubled by new attempts to interpret Christian belief both within and outside a school environment Five related studies then deal with previously unedited texts by Roscelin of Compi gne and St Anselm that throw new light on the importance of the philosopher and theologian who exercised a major influence on Peter Abelard

Reason and Belief in the Age of Roscelin and Abelard C. J. Mews, 2002 The papers that comprise this collection synthesise the author s research into the dynamism of thinking about reason and belief in northern France from the time of St Anselm until the mid twelfth century

Micro Middle Ages Paul Edward Dutton, 2023-10-30 Micro Middle Ages brings together five microhistorical case studies focusing on small or seemingly inconsequential evidence that leads to broader conclusions about medieval history and the way we do and understand history in general Paul Dutton provides an overview of microhistorical approaches and theorizes about its use in pre modern history As opposed to studying history from above or history from below Dutton shows the advantages for historians of doing history from the inside out starting from some single overlooked but potentially knowable thing delving deep inside and then reattaching it to its time and place Such an approach has one abiding advantage its insistence on being grounded in the particularity of the evidence The book highlights what the microhistorical is its conceptual and practical challenges Dutton argues that the attention to the micro has always been with us and is a constitutive cognitive part of who we are as human beings

Cistercian Stories for Nuns and Monks Martha G. Newman, 2020-11-27 Around the year 1200 the Cistercian Engelhard of Langheim dedicated a collection of monastic stories to a community of religious women Martha G Newman explores how this largely unedited collection of tales about Cistercian monks illuminates the religiosity of Cistercian nuns As did other Cistercian storytellers Engelhard recorded the miracles and visions of the order s illustrious figures but he wrote from Franconia in modern Germany rather than the Cistercian heartland His extant texts reflect his interactions with non Cistercian monasteries and with Langheim s patrons rather than celebrating Bernard of Clairvaux Engelhard was conservative interested in maintaining traditional Cistercian patterns of thought Nonetheless by offering to women a collection of narratives that explore the oral qualities of texts the nature of sight and the efficacy of sacraments Engelhard articulated a distinctive response to the social and intellectual changes of his period In analyzing Engelhard s stories Newman uncovers an understudied monastic culture that resisted the growing emphasis on the priestly administration of the sacraments and the hardening of gender distinctions Engelhard assumed that monks and nuns shared similar interests and concerns and he addressed his audiences as if they occupied a space neither fully sacerdotal nor completely lay neither scholastic nor unlearned and neither solely male nor only female His exemplary narratives depict the sacramental value of everyday objects and behaviors whose efficacy relied more on individual spiritual formation than on sacerdotal action By encouraging nuns and monks to imagine connections between heaven and earth Engelhard taught faith as a learned disposition Newman s study demonstrates that scholastic questions about signs sacraments and sight emerged in a narrative form within late twelfth century monastic communities

Logical Fictions in Medieval Literature and Philosophy Virginie

Greene,2014-10-23 In the twelfth and thirteenth centuries new ways of storytelling and inventing fictions appeared in the French speaking areas of Europe This new art still influences our global culture of fiction Virginie Greene explores the relationship between fiction and the development of neo Aristotelian logic during this period through a close examination of seminal literary and philosophical texts by major medieval authors such as Anselm of Canterbury Ab lard and Chr tien de Troyes This study of Old French logical fictions encourages a broader theoretical reflection about fiction as a universal human trait and a defining element of the history of Western philosophy and literature Additional close readings of classical Greek philosophers Plato and Aristotle and modern analytic philosophy including the work of Bertrand Russell and Rudolf Carnap demonstrate peculiar traits of Western rationalism and expose its ambivalent relationship to fiction Poverty and Devotion in Mendicant Cultures 1200-1450 Constant J Mews,Anna Welch,2016-07-15 Ever since the time of Francis of Assisi a commitment to voluntary poverty has been a controversial aspect of religious life This volume explores the interaction between poverty and religious devotion in the mendicant orders between the thirteenth and fifteenth centuries While poverty has often been perceived more as a Franciscan than as a Dominican emphasis this volume considers its role within a broader movement of evangelical renewal associated with the mendicant transformation of religious life At a time of increased economic prosperity reformers within the Church sought new ways of encouraging identification with the person of Christ This volume considers the paradoxical tension between voluntary poverty as a way of emulating Christ and involuntary poverty as situation demanding a response from those with the means to help the poor Drawing on history literature and visual arts it explores how the mendicant orders continued to transform religious life into the time of the renaissance The papers in this volume are organised under three headings prefaced with an introductory essay by the editors Poverty and the Rule of Francis exploring the interpretation of poverty in the Franciscan Order Devotional Cultures considering aspects of devotional life fostered by mendicant religious communities Franciscan Augustinian and Dominican Preaching Poverty on the way poverty was promoted and practiced within the Dominican Order in the later Middle Ages and Renaissance Studies in Scholasticism Marcia L. Colish,2024-10-28 Spanning thirty years the papers brought together in this volume reflect three of Professor Colish s interests as a historian of medieval scholastic thought The first group of studies represent investigations that flowed into and out of the research on Peter Lombard d 1161 and his contemporaries that culminated in her book Peter Lombard 1994 Following the publication of that work she next sought to discover how Peter s theology became mainstream Paris theology in the period between Lombard s death and the early 13th century resulting in the second group of papers in this collection Finally the last two papers offer reflections on broader interpretive issues considering ways in which medievalists ought to reconsider their general understanding of the story lines of high medieval intellectual history Medieval Philosophy of Religion Graham Oppy,N. Renaissance The History of Western Philosophy of Religion 2 shows how Christian Islamic and Jewish thinkers explicated and defended their religious faith in light of the philosophical traditions they inherited from the ancient Greeks and Romans The enterprise of faith seeking understanding as it was dubbed by the medievals themselves emerges as a vibrant encounter between a complex synthesis of the Platonic Aristotelian and Hellenistic traditions of antiquity on the one hand and the scholastic and monastic religious schools of the medieval West on the other Medieval Philosophy of Religion will be of interest to scholars and students of Philosophy Medieval Studies the History of Ideas and Religion while remaining accessible to any interested in the rich cultural heritage of medieval religious thought

Mediaeval and Renaissance Logic Dov M. Gabbay, John Woods, 2008-03-14 Starting at the very beginning with Aristotle's founding contributions logic has been graced by several periods in which the subject has flourished attaining standards of rigour and conceptual sophistication underpinning a large and deserved reputation as a leading expression of human intellectual effort It is widely recognized that the period from the mid 19th century until the three quarter mark of the century just past marked one of these golden ages a period of explosive creativity and transforming insights It has been said that ignorance of our history is a kind of amnesia concerning which it is wise to note that amnesia is an illness It would be a matter for regret if we lost contact with another of logic's golden ages one that greatly exceeds in reach that enjoyed by mathematical symbolic logic This is the period between the 11th and 16th centuries loosely conceived of as the Middle Ages The logic of this period does not have the expressive virtues afforded by the symbolic resources of uninterpreted calculi but mediaeval logic rivals in range originality and intellectual robustness a good deal of the modern record The range of logic in this period is striking extending from investigation of quantifiers and logic consequence to inquiries into logical truth from theories of reference to accounts of identity from work on the modalities to the stirrings of the logic of relations from theories of meaning to analyses of the paradoxes and more While the scope of mediaeval logic is impressive of greater importance is that nearly all of it can be read by the modern logician with at least some prospect of profit The last thing that mediaeval logic is is a museum piece Mediaeval and Renaissance Logic is an indispensable research tool for anyone interested in the development of logic including researchers graduate and senior undergraduate students in logic history of logic mathematics history of mathematics computer science and AI linguistics cognitive science argumentation theory philosophy and the history of ideas Provides detailed and comprehensive chapters covering the entire range of modal logic Contains the latest scholarly discoveries and interpretative insights that answer many questions in the field of logic

Friendship and Faith: Cistercian Men, Women, and Their Stories, 1100-1250 Brian Patrick McGuire, 2024-10-28

In these articles Professor McGuire explores the riches of the Cistercian exemplum tradition These texts are made up of brief stories often with a miraculous content which provided moral support for novices and monks in Cistercian abbeys all over Europe in the High Middle Ages The Cistercians have been seen mainly in terms of their great writers like Bernard of Clairvaux and the impressive buildings they left behind But Cistercian literature also provides us with more humble insights from daily life shedding light on questions of sexuality anger depression and bonds of friendship also between monks and nuns They bring a freshness of insight and immediate experience and their seeming naivety lets us be aware of monks commitment to each other in individual and community bonds In Cistercian storytelling the Gospel's message meets an historical context and bears witness to a transformation of Christian life and idealism while at the same time allowing us precious insights into how ordinary men and women not just monks and nuns lived and thought

The Beginnings of Christian Theology in Arabic Sidney H. Griffith, 2024-12-11 The articles in this collection complement those in Professor Griffith's previous volume Arabic Christianity in the Monasteries of 9th Century Palestine studying the first efforts of Christians living in the early Islamic world to respond to the religious challenges of Islam In particular the author shows how Christian apologists who wrote in Arabic adopted in defense of Christian doctrines the modes of discourse kalam then employed by Muslim controversialists mutakallimun to advance the claims of Islam The writers whose works are studied here developed a truly Christian ilm al kalam that is to say a science of defending Christianity in an Arabic idiom borrowed largely from Muslims Heresy, Philosophy and Religion in the Medieval West Gordon Leff, 2024-10-28 The papers in this volume fall into four sections The first part deals more generally with heresy religious movements and the Church while the second focuses on Wyclif covering his path to dissent his religious doctrines and a doctrinal comparison with Hus Philosophical themes come to the fore in the third section which has papers on the decline of scholasticism in the 14th century and on the trivium and also includes hitherto unpublished essays on the theology of Augustine s two cities and on Ockham and nominalism The final part with another two papers published here for the first time discusses Christian Augustinian and Franciscan concepts of man and the concepts of natural rights according to Ockham and the Franciscans Anselm of Canterbury and the Desire for the Word Eileen C. Sweeney, 2012-04 Sweeney discusses the tensions of prayerful meditations and argumentative essays in Anselm s writings in a cumulative and comparative interpretation
