The Wide Lens in Archaeology Allan Gilbert,Justin Lev-Tov,Paula Wapnish,2017-06-01 This book honors the memory of Brian Hesse a scholar of Near Eastern archaeology a writer of alliterative and punned publication titles and an accomplished amateur photographer Hesse specialized in zooarchaeology but he influenced a wider range of excavators and ancient historians with his broad interpretive reach He spent much of his career analyzing faunal materials from different countries in the Middle East including Iran Yemen and Israel and his publications covered themes particular to animal bone studies such as domestication ancient market economics as well as broader themes such as determining ethnicity in archaeology The essays in this volume reflect the breadth of his interests Most chapters share an Old World geographic setting focusing either on Europe or the Middle East The topics are diverse with the majority discussing animal bones as was Hesse s specialization but some take a nonfaunal perspective related to the problems with which Hesse grappled The volume is also broad in temporal scope ranging from Neolithic Iran to early Medieval England and it addresses theoretical matters as well as methodological innovations including taphonomy and the history of computers in zooarchaeology Several of the essays are direct revisits to inspirations from or extensions of Hesse s own research All the contributions reflect his intense interest in social questions about antiquity the theme of social archaeology informed much of Brian Hesse s thinking and it is why his work made such an impact on those working outside his own disciplinary research

Beyond Kinship Rosemary A. Joyce, Susan D. Gillespie, 2017-06-13 Beyond Kinship brings together ethnohistorians, archaeologists and cultural anthropologists for the first time in a common discussion of the social model of house societies proposed by Claude Lévi-Strauss. While kinship theory has been central to the study of social organization, an alternative approach has emerged that of seeing the house both as a physical and symbolic structure and a principle of social organization. The house stands as a model social formation that is distinguished by its attention to a number of material domains: land, the dwelling, ritual and nonritual objects. As the essays in this volume make clear, the focus on material culture and on place contributes to the ongoing convergence of anthropology and history and helps erase the artificial distinctions between prehistory and history. Contributions to the volume offer significant new interpretations of primary data as well as reconsidering classic ethnographic material. Beyond Kinship crosses the boundaries within anthropology, not only between cultural anthropology and archaeology but between structural, symbolic and materialist approaches and between American and British schools of anthropology. It is intended to advance the fruitful dialogue now taking place within the field.

Mammoths, Mastodons, and Elephants Gary Haynes, 1991 This study uses the ecology and behaviour of modern elephants to create models for reconstructing the life and death of extinct mammoths and mastodons. British Archaeological Abstracts, 1989 Archæozoologia, 1994 Vols for 1987 contain proceedings of the 5th International Conferences of Archaeozoology
