studies and energy policy      Culture, Political Economy and Civilisation in a Multipolar World Order Ray Silvius, 2016-10-04 This book seeks to understand how Russia's multifaceted rejection of American unipolarity and deterritorialised neo liberal capitalism has contributed to the gestation of the present multipolar moment in the global political economy. Analysing Western world order precepts via the actions of a powerful albeit precarious national political economy and state structure situated on the periphery of Western world order, Silvius explores the manner in which culture and ideas are mobilised for the purposes of national, regional and international political and economic projects in a post global age. The book explains and analyses the tensions of post Soviet Russia's integration into and simultaneous partial rejection of the capitalist global political economy. Provides an overview of the social, political and historical origins of Russian samobytnost uniqueness after the fall of the Soviet Union and demonstrates their significance to contemporary understandings of world order. Explores how structures of cultural difference and practices of cultural differentiation interact with the normative legacies of American hegemonic aspirations in contemporary world order structures. Evaluates how cultural and civilisational representations are mobilised for state projects and their corresponding regional and international dimensions within the global political economy. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Russian Foreign Policy, IPE and comparative political economy.      *Cyclopaedia of Political Science, Political Economy, and of the Political History of the
