Reception Of Ossian In Europe:

The Reception of Ossian in Europe Howard Gaskill, 2004-12-01 James Macpherson's Poems of Ossian said to be translations from the Gaelic of a third century bard caused a sensation on their first appearance in the early 1760s. Contrary to the impression often conveyed in literary histories enthusiasm for the poetry of the Homer of the North cannot be dismissed as a short lived fad for its appeal lasted a century or more both at home and abroad. There is hardly a major Romantic poet on whom it failed to make a significant impact. In the words of Sir Walter Scott it succeeded in giving a new tone to poetry throughout all Europe and its influence was ubiquitous from Poland to Portugal from Paris to Prague. The essays brought together here consider the reception of Ossian in England Scotland Wales and Ireland as well as in a wide range of European countries. In some the focus is on individual writers for instance Goethe Schiller Chateaubriand Espronceda in others there is a broader sweep and a survey of reception in a national literary culture is offered for instance Hungary Russia Sweden. One of the two essays on Ossian in Italy at last gives Macpherson's influential epigone John Smith his due. Consideration is also given to Ossian's significance for the rise of historicism and to non literary forms of reception in music and art. The essays here range from poetry and the novel to science writing philosophy visual art opera and melodrama from France and Germany to Italy and Bosnia Folklore and Nationalism in Europe During the Long Nineteenth Century Timothy Baycroft, David Hopkin, 2012-07-25 Using an interdisciplinary approach this book brings together work in the fields of history literary studies music and architecture to examine the place of folklore and representations of the people in the development of nations across Europe during the 19th century The Czech Manuscripts David L. Cooper, 2023-10-15 The Czech Manuscripts is dedicated to one of the most important literary forgeries on the model of Macpherson's Ossianic poetry. The Queen's Court and Green Mountain Manuscripts discovered in 1817 and 1818 went on to play an outsized role in the Czech National Revival functioning as founding texts of the national mythology and serving as sacred works in the long period when they were considered genuine A successful literary forgery tells a lot about what a culture wants and needs at a particular moment One fascinating aspect of this story is how a successful fake was able to function in an integral way as part of the Czech cultural revival of the nineteenth century both because it played to expectations and nationalist values and because it met real cultural needs in many ways better than genuine historical literary works and artefacts Also fascinating is the vainglorious V clav Hanka a prolific and dedicated forger who was likely the center of the conspiratorial ring that created the manuscripts and who went on as the librarian of the Czech National Museum to alter a number of others David Cooper analyzes what made the Manuscripts a convincing imitation of their Serbian and Russian models He looks at how translation shaped their composition and at the benefit of examining them as pseudotranslations and investigates the quasi religious rituals and commemorative practices that developed around them The Czech Manuscripts brings the Czech experience into the broader developments of European history

The Antiquarians of the Nation Francesca Zantedeschi, 2019-01-03 In the nineteenth century the search for the artistic architectural and written monuments promoted by the French State with the aim to build a unified nation transcending regional specificities also fostered the development of local or regional identitary consciousness In Roussillon this distinctive consciousness relied on a basically cultural concept of nation epitomised mainly by the Catalan language Roussillon being composed of Catalan counties annexed to France in 1659 In The Antiquarians of the Nation Francesca Zantedeschi explores how the works of Roussillon's archaeologists and philologists who retrieved and enhanced the Catalan specificities of the region contributed to the early stages of a national Catalan cultural revival and galvanised the implicit debate between French national history and incipient regional studies

Texts in Multiple Versions Luigi Giuliani, Herman Brinkman, Geert Lernout, Marita Mathijssen, 2006 Texts in multiple versions constitute the core problem of textual scholarship For texts from antiquity and the medieval period the many versions may be the result of manuscript transmission requiring editors and readers to discriminate between levels of authority in variant readings produced along the chain of copying For texts of all periods and particularly for more modern authors there may also be multiple authorial versions These are of particular importance for genetic criticism as they offer a window on the author's thinking through the developing work The different contexts in which multiple versions may occur different languages different genres different cultures ranging in this collection from ancient Greek texts to novels by Cervantes and Aub dramatic texts from Portugal and Germany poetry from The Netherlands and Lithuania scientific texts from the 19th century provide further layers of complexity The histories of countries are reflected in the histories of editing In Europe this can be seen particularly in the great period of nation building of the 19th century Essays in this volume survey editorial activity in The Netherlands Belgium and Germany in the nineteenth century concluding that nation building and scholarly editing are twinned As a nation searches for its own identity textual scholarship is pressed into service to find and edit the texts on which to establish that identity The two strands of this volume multiple versions of texts editions and national histories testify to the centrality of textual editing to many fields of research There is material here for literary scholars historians and for readers interested in texts from Ancient Greece to modernist classics

Stepping Westward Nigel Leask, 2020-02-27 Stepping Westward is the first book dedicated to the literature of the Scottish Highland tour of 1720-1830 a major cultural phenomenon that attracted writers and artists like Pennant Johnson and Boswell William and Dorothy Wordsworth Coleridge Scott Hogg Keats Daniell and Turner as well as numerous less celebrated travellers and tourists Addressing more than a century's worth of literary and visual representations of the Highlands the book casts new light on how the tour developed a modern literature of place acting as a catalyst for thinking about improvement landscape and the shaping of British Scottish and Gaelic identities It pays attention to the relationship between travellers and the native Gaels whose world was plunged into crisis by rapid and forced social change At the book's core lie the best selling tours of Pennant and Dr Johnson associated with attempts to improve the intractable Gaidhealtachd in the wake of Culloden Alongside the Ossian craze and Gilpin's picturesque their books stimulated a wave of home tours from the 1770s through the romantic period including writing by women like Sarah Murray and Dorothy Wordsworth The incidence of published Highland Tours many lavishly illustrated peaked around 1800 but as the genre reached exhaustion the romantic Highlands were reinvented in Scott's poems and novels coinciding with steam boats and mass tourism but also rack renting sheep clearance and emigration Thor Martin Arnold,2011-08-04 Modern Irish and Scottish Literature

Richard Alan Barlow,Richard Barlow,2023 Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Connections Contrasts Celticisms explores the ways Irish and Scottish literatures have influenced each other from the 1760s onwards Although an early form of Celticism disappeared with the demise of the Celtic Revivals of Ireland and Scotland the Celtic world and the Celtic temperament remained key themes in central texts of Irish and Scottish literature well into the twentieth century Richard Barlow examines the emergence development and transformation of Celticism within Irish and Scottish writing and identifies key connections between modern Irish and Scottish authors and texts By reading works from figures such as James Macpherson Walter Scott Sydney Owenson Augusta Gregory W B Yeats Fiona Macleod James Joyce Samuel Beckett Hugh MacDiarmid Sorley MacLean and Seamus Heaney in their political and cultural contexts Barlow provides a new account of the characteristics and phases of literary Celticism within Romanticism Modernism and beyond Counterfactual

Romanticism Damian Walford Davies,2019-09-18 Innovatively extending counterfactual thought experiments from history and the social sciences to literary historiography criticism and theory Counterfactual Romanticism reveals the ways in which the shapes of Romanticism are conditioned by that which did not come to pass Exploring various modalities of counterfactual speculation and inquiry across a range of Romantic period authors genres and concerns this collection offers a radical new purchase on literary history on the relationship between history and fiction and on our historicist methods to date and thus on the Romanticisms we think we have inherited Counterfactual Romanticism provides a ground breaking method of re reading literary pasts and our own reading presents in the process literary production texts and reading practices are unfossilised and defamiliarised Feminine Enlightenment DeLucia JoEllen DeLucia,2015-02-11 Revises established understandings of British women writers contributions to Enlightenment narratives of social and historical progress Drawing on original archival research A Feminine Enlightenment argues that women writers shaped Enlightenment conversations regarding the role of sentiment and gender in the civilizing process By reading women's literature alongside history and philosophy and moving between the eighteenth century and Romantic era JoEllen DeLucia challenges conventional historical and generic boundaries Beginning with Adam Smith's Theory of Moral Sentiments 1759 she tracks discussions of the women's progress from the rarified atmosphere of mid eighteenth century Bluestocking salons and the masculine domain of the Scottish university system to the popular Minerva Press novels of the early nineteenth century Ultimately this study positions feminine genres such as the Gothic romance and Bluestocking poetry usually seen as outliers in a masculine Age of Reason as essential to understanding emotion's role in Enlightenment narratives of progress. The effect of this study is twofold: to show how developments in women's literature reflected and engaged with Enlightenment discussions of emotion, sentiment, and commercial and imperial expansion; and to provide new literary and historical contexts for contemporary conversations that continue to use the women's progress to assign cultures and societies around the globe a place in universalizing schemas of development.

Key Features:

- Establishes the centrality of gender to Enlightenment discussions of social and historical development.
- Uncovers evidence of women writers' participation in the Scottish Enlightenment's theorization of sentiment and historical progress.
- Provides literary and historical background for ongoing discussions of the history of emotion and the study of affect.

Enlightenment Travel and British Identities Mary-Ann Constantine, Nigel Leask, 2017-04-15

Weaving together science, history, antiquarianism, and art, this stimulating collection of essays amply demonstrates Thomas Pennant's centrality to a broad range of British Enlightenment debates and discourses, especially those relating to Britain's so-called Celtic Fringe.
