J. McEldowney,2006 Publisher description New Zealand in World Affairs: 1972-1990 Bruce Brown,1977 The eighteen years from 1972 to 1990 encompassed a near revolution in New Zealand s foreign relations In the early seventies New Zealand s approaches to Asia were piecemeal decolonisation in the Pacific had just begun apartheid remained firmly entrenched in South Africa and New Zealand s trade arrangement with Australia was distinguished as much by the bickering it produced as by its limited trading advantages By 1990 all of these things had changed all of them dramatically Back cover

commentary A communist in the family brings together Alley s story and that of his author cousin Elspeth Sandys In 2017 Sandys travelled to China with other family members to mark the ninetieth anniversary of Rewi s arrival in Shanghai in 1927 One strand of this book follows that journey and charts Sandys impressions of modern China Another tells the story of Rewi s early life in an insightful meditation on the complex and always elusive relationship between memory and writing By placing the man Rewi and his work in the context of his time Sandys is able to illuminate the life of this extraordinary New Zealander in a way that is both historically vivid and relevant to the world of today Her focus on the role poetry played in his life both his own and that of the Chinese poets he translated so prolifically provides moving glimpses of the man behind the myth Threaded through A communist in the family are Sandys evolving insights into a nation that looms ever larger in the day to day realities of New Zealand and the world Print version In the Lap of Tigers John Cleverley,2000-02-22 Founded in the forested mountains of China s remote Jiangxi Province in 1958 the Communist Labor University along with some 100 branch campuses introduced uneducated farmers and peasants to basic agricultural science and farming techniques through an innovative work study program until 1980 Drawing on a wealth of archival materials John Cleverley here explores the inner workings of this unique Chinese institution and the direct personal involvement in its affairs by the nation s key communist leaders including Mao Zedong Zhou Enlai Zhu De and Deng Xiaoping The community would survive the dictates of political agriculture famine and pestilence and the Cultural Revolution thus mirroring higher education s own cycle of expansion contraction and division Yet the university could not avoid the bitter factional politics and deadly power plays of the 1970s Open to the charge that it was a utopian experiment another of Mao s great follies its undoing was part of the larger canvas of China s shift from a Maoist vision to Deng s philosophy of pragmatic socialism This fascinating story illuminates the internal and external politics of an innovative educational enterprise from both an institutional and personal perspective In the process the book underscores the larger issues of educational reform and political and social change in China China in Australasia James Beattie,Richard Bullen,Maria Galikowski,2019-04-18 Drawing on expertise in art history exhibition studies and cultural studies as well as politics and international relations China in Australasia presents significant new perspectives on the role of art in the cultural diplomacy of the People s Republic of China The book tells the forgotten story of the loan exchange and gifting of Chinese art museum exhibitions and the use of Chinese arts more broadly in growing diplomatic relations with Australia and New Zealand from 1949 to the present day Its scope includes pre modern modern and contemporary sculpture painting and peasant art as well as ancient artefacts performance arts and gardens In considering the geopolitical connections opened by the arts this book presents new insights into some of the ways in which China often in conjunction with local supporters sought to present itself to the people of Australia and New Zealand It also considers how for their part New Zealanders and Australians worked to expand understandings of their powerful northern neighbour within changing political contexts The first of its kind this book length interdisciplinary study of Chinese soft diplomacy in

Australasia will be invaluable to students and scholars of Chinese studies cultural diplomacy museum studies and art history
