Screen World 2002:

Designing for Small Screens Studio 7.5, 2005-10 The design of interactive applications or presentations on small screens can be challenging for the designer Not all design concepts that are valid on larger screens can be implemented on the small screen A multitude of different devices with dissimilar technical specifications fall under the category of small screen interfaces Devices in this category differ in size and type of their display in the nature of their physical interaction and in their performance This book equips the student or practitioner with the appropriate tools with which to develop functional concepts and realise good designs for small screens In order to tackle and visualise complex design issues each of the ten chapters in this book is structured in three segments The first section is dedicated to theoretical reflection and an overview of the fundamental design options that relate to the specific issue in question The second section offers examples of good working practice and application of the theory described and the final section offers useful background information such as an explanation of the technical terms that will help you to make informed design decisions Selling points shows professional designers and students how to develop functional concepts and good design for the small screen and pertinent subject given advancing technology in mobile phones palm top computers and other small screen devices Readership both professional designers and students alike Authors Professor Carola Zwick studied at the University of Arts Berlin where she gained an MA in Industrial Design In 1993 she joined the teaching body at the University of Arts Berlin as an Assistant Professor and together with Burkhard Schmitz she initiated the media group ID 5 within the design course Carola Zwick has been teaching interface design at the University of Applied Sciences Magdeburg Stendal since 1998 Professor Burkhard Schmitz studied at the University of Arts in Berlin where he too gained an MA in Industrial Design In 1989 he became Professor for Media Design at the University of Applied Sciences Schwabisch Gmund In 1993 he returned once more to the University of Arts Berlin where he has taught Interactive Systems since Dipl Designer Kerstin Kuhl studied at the University of Applied Sciences Dessau where she gained a diploma in Graphic Design The Masterpieces & ABC Series Osian's (Firm), 2007 Sales catalog of an art collection World Politics on Screen Mark A. Sachleben, 2014-03-04 Increasingly resistant to lessons on international politics society often turns to television and film to engage the subject Numerous movies made in the twentieth and twenty first centuries reflect political themes that were of concern within the popular cultures of their times For example Norman Jewison's The Russians Are Coming The Russians Are Coming 1966 portrays the culture of suspicion between the United States and the Soviet Union during the Cold War while several of Alfred Hitchcock's movies as well as the John Wayne film Big Jim McLain 1952 and John Milius's Red Dawn 1984 helped to raise and sustain skepticism about the Soviet Union World Politics on Screen Understanding International Relations through Popular Culture uses films and television shows like these as well as contemporary including 24 The Simpsons South Park and The Daily Show to guide readers to a deeper understanding of enduring issues in international politics In this unique and insightful volume author

Mark Sachleben demonstrates that popular culture reflects societal beliefs about the world and that the messages captured on television and film transcend time and place Using films such as Secret Ballot 2001 Under the Bombs 2007 and Wall E 2008 he addresses topics such as international relations and diplomacy the study of war nuclear weapons poverty immigration and emigration human rights and genocide An engaging read for students and for anyone with a general interest in politics and popular culture World Politics on Screen succeeds in its argument by illuminating unexplored assumptions about international policy

Sovereign Screens Kristin L. Dowell, 2020-04-01 While Indigenous media have gained increasing prominence around the world the vibrant Aboriginal media world on the Canadian West Coast has received little scholarly attention As the first ethnography of the Aboriginal media community in Vancouver Sovereign Screens reveals the various social forces shaping Aboriginal media production including community media organizations and avant garde art centers as well as the national spaces of cultural policy and media institutions Kristin L Dowell uses the concept of visual sovereignty to examine the practices forms and meanings through which Aboriginal filmmakers tell their individual stories and those of their Aboriginal nations and the intertribal urban communities in which they work She explores the ongoing debates within the community about what constitutes Aboriginal media how this work intervenes in the national Canadian mediascape and how filmmakers use technology in a wide range of genres including experimental media to recuperate cultural traditions and reimagine Aboriginal kinship and sociality Analyzing the interactive relations between this social community and the media forms it produces Sovereign Screens offers new insights into the on screen and off screen impacts of Aboriginal media

Edwardians on Screen Katherine Byrne, 2015-09-22 This book explores television's current fascination with the Edwardian era By exploring popular period dramas such as Downton Abbey it examines how the early twentieth century is represented on our screens and what these shows tell us about class gender and politics both past and present American Television on British Screens P. Rixon, 2006-05-02 This work explores how American programmes have become an important part of British television culture since the 1950 s moving from schedule fillers to cornerstones and must see attractions The book analyses popular and industrial discourses the changing roles of such programmes on British screens and interviews with key British broadcasters

Skype: Bodies, Screens, Space Robyn Longhurst, 2016-09-13 Despite the popularity of Skype with video many of us are still figuring out how to do it Interviews reveal that we can now run the programme but we are less certain about how to perform in front of the webcam Seeing ourselves in the box on the side can feel strange We are not quite sure which bits of our bodies to display on the screen how much to move around the room or move the device around the room Is it acceptable to use Skype with video at a funeral in crowded spaces or while in bed This book addresses how people are emotionally and affectually connecting with others audio synchronously on the screen in a variety of different spatial contexts Topics include Skype with video being used by grandparents to connect with grandchildren friends and family using it for special occasions and partners using it for romance and sex Theories addressing bodies gender queerness phenomenology and orientation inform the research It concludes that while Skype does not offer some kind of utopian future it does open up possibilities for existing power relations to be filtered through new lines of sight site which are shaping what bodies can do and where

Bubbles and Machines Micky Lee, 2019-05-23 Are financial crises embedded in IT Can gender studies offer insights into financial reporting Feminist theories and Science and Technology Studies STS can enrich a critique of financial crises in capitalism as the author argues their critical political economic approaches to communication can help in understanding because they historicize technology and economy and how these are materially embedded Current literature has neglected finance and capital s gendered aspect even the ideology of a crisis This book develops four themes women as resources in financial markets and as producers of values gender ideology and unequal distribution machine production and distribution of financial information and the varied actuality of markets Working with case histories of tulipmania microcredit Wall Street reporting and the role of screens Bubbles and Machines argues that rather than calling financial crises human made or inevitable they should be recognized as technological The Cell Phone Reader Anandam P. Kavoori, Noah Arceneaux, 2006 The Cell Phone Reader offers a diverse eclectic set of essays that examines how this rapidly evolving technology is shaping new media cultures new forms of identity and media centered relationships The contributors focus on a range of topics from horror films to hip hop from religion to race and draw examples from across the globe The Cell Phone Reader provides a road map for both scholars and beginning students to examine the profound social cultural and international impact of this small device Virtual Architecture: Modeling and Creation of Real-Time 3D Interactive Worlds Mohd Fairuz Shiratuddin, Kevin Kitchens, Desmond Fletcher, 2008-12-30 This book was written to support the development of art assets and virtual environments for Serious Games and Architectural Visualization It caters to those who do not have any experience with 3D modeling texturing and scene building in a real time virtual environment This book focuses on utilizing Autodesk's 3DS Max as the 3D modeling tool Allegorithmic's MapZone as the texture creation tool and Terathon's C4 Engine as the real time virtual environment scene builder Many of the chapters in this book were written independent of one another to allow students to explore and use their creativity and imagination in creating their own virtual environments
