Lockwood inside and out From childhood friends to young lovers they shared an unbreakable bond But that didn't stop Ben from leaving town without saying good bye Twenty years later Emily now has a successful career a stubbornly independent grown daughter an ex husband who rarely tests her patience and a mother who often does But Emily also has a secret one that she buried long ago and tried to forget Then Ben returns and any sense of normalcy in her life is gone Seeing Ben does more than bring back memories Visions of her past begin playing before her eyes and show every choice she made in a revealing new light and a startling new angle For Emily seeing her life in rewind makes her realize she has hard choices to make for her future choices that could redefine everyone else's future as well Cold Intimacies Eva Illouz, 2013-04-23 It is commonly assumed that capitalism has created an emotional world dominated by bureaucratic rationality that economic behavior conflicts with intimate authentic relationships that the public and private spheres are irremediably opposed to each other and that true love is opposed to calculation and self interest Eva Illouz rejects these conventional ideas and argues that the culture of capitalism has fostered an intensely emotional culture in the workplace in the family and in our own relationship to ourselves She argues that economic relations have become deeply emotional while close intimate relationships have become increasingly defined by economic and political models of bargaining exchange and equity This dual process by which emotional and economic relationships come to define and shape each other is called emotional capitalism Illouz finds evidence of this process of emotional capitalism in various social sites self help literature women's magazines talk shows support groups and the Internet dating sites How did this happen What are the social consequences of the current preoccupation with emotions How did the public sphere become saturated with the exposure of private life Why does suffering occupy a central place in contemporary identity How has emotional capitalism transformed our romantic choices and experiences Building on and revising the intellectual legacy of critical theory this book addresses these questions and offers a new interpretation of the reasons why the public and the private the economic and the emotional spheres have become inextricably intertwined Public Library Catalog Juliette Yaakov, 2004 More than 8 000 books in the main volume More than 2 400 new titles in annual paperbound supplements More than 2 000 analytic entries for items in collections and anthologies The Secret of Orange Blossom Cake Rachel Linden, 2025-09-30 Heartfelt heartwarming joyful and uplifting You can't go wrong with a Rachel Linden book 1 New York Times bestselling author Debbie Macomber A magical cookbook and a summer on her family's Italian olive farm help a brokenhearted social media chef cook up a satisfying new life in this delectable novel from the bestselling author of Recipe for a Charmed Life Rising star Jules Costa loves re-creating vintage recipes for her popular online cooking show But when personal and professional disaster strikes her only chance to save her career is to complete her new cookbook before the end of the summer Panicked Jules returns to her family's beloved olive farm on the shores of Italy's stunning Lake Garda Seeking culinary inspiration she's hoping to convince her spunky eighty year old Nonna Bruna to share her precious collection of family recipes Jules's plans quickly go awry as she discovers that

The Memory of Lavender and Sage

Aimie K. Runyan, 2024-03-05. A standout voice in women's fiction, I was captivated from the very first line. Kristy Woodson Harvey, New York Times Bestselling Author of The Summer of Songbirds. Perhaps the secrets of her mother's past in this tiny French town hold the key to her own future. Food critic Tempsta Luddington has always felt like the odd person out in her family ever since she lost her beloved mother at the tender age of thirteen. When her workaholic father passes fifteen years later, Tempsta is not surprised that the majority of the considerable family money will pass to her dutiful younger brother, Wal. Still, she is left a modest remembrance from her mother, and for the first time, Tempsta has a world of choices before her. Lost in grief and hoping to reconnect with her memories and her mother's past, she uses the money to buy a ramshackle manor house in Sainte Colombe, a small village in Provence where her mother had grown up. But she is greeted with more questions than answers. Her welcome, especially by the town's stodgy mayor, is cold at best, and she finds herself wondering if the entire experiment was a mistake. Yet she stays, stubbornly sticking it out, slowly learning that her mother's legacy was more than just a nest egg. Through her mother and the village, Tempsta learns the value of community and friendship, the importance of self-confidence, and the power of love and trust. What's more, she sees for herself that there is magic and beauty in the everyday, even something as simple as a sprig of lavender and sage. For readers who love Under the Tuscan Sun and Chocolat, this is your next heartfelt, delightful read. Jennifer Moorman, bestselling author of The Baker's Man. A dreamy escape into Southern France from bestselling author Aimie K. Runyan. Perfect for fans of Katherine Center, Rebecca Serle, and Sarah Jio. Kate Quinn described Runyan's previous work as a moving tale of female solidarity and courage. Standalone novel of approximately 100,000 words. Includes discussion questions for book clubs.
