The Government of Disasters Lydie Cabane, 2023-09-22 This book examines the history of disaster management in South Africa showing how experts professionals and policymakers have crafted and implemented disaster policies from the mid twentieth century to the present day It assesses the ways in which states become concerned with disasters the extent to which disaster management contributes toward state formation and who and what disaster management protects It also considers the ways in which the politics of protection continuously shift as political regimes change In telling the story of how policies surrounding disaster protection have evolved in South Africa the book demonstrates how the security apparatus that shaped disaster management was re oriented in the twenty first century towards development alongside bureaucratic reforms that aimed to democratize the state By examining the wider context of the globalization of disaster management it also highlights the often unrecognised role of experts from Africa Latin America and Asia in shaping global disaster policies The book will appeal to scholars and students of disaster governance public policy state formation and African politics

Chinese Aid and African Development D. Bräutigam, 1998-06-21 Since 1957 more than 45 African countries have received aid from China yet until recently little has been known about the effectiveness or impact of this assistance Bräutigam provides the first authoritative account of China's experience as an aid donor in rural Africa In a detailed and highly readable analysis the author draws on anthropology economics organization theory and political science to explain how China's domestic agenda shaped the design of its aid and how domestic politics in African countries influenced its outcome Comparative Constitutionalism and Good Governance in the Commonwealth John Hatchard, Muna Ndulo, Peter Slinn, 2004-07-08 The central role that good effective and capable governance plays in the economic and social development of a country is now widely recognised Using the Commonwealth countries of eastern and southern Africa this book analyses some of the key constitutional issues in the process of developing strengthening and consolidating the capacity of states to ensure the good governance of their peoples Utilising comparative material the book seeks to draw lessons both positive and negative about the problems of constitutionalism in the region and in doing so critically addresses the legal issues involved in seeking to make constitutions work in practice Globalising the Regional, Regionalising the Global: Volume 35, Review of International Studies Rick Fawn, 2009-04-30 A collection of leading international scholars examine the concept of regions from a range of perspectives and assess leading contemporary examples The Elusive Promise of NGOs in Africa S. Dicklitch, 1998-07-13 Dicklitch challenges the dominant discourse of neo liberalism which places NGOs and civil society at the forefront of democratization and development in Africa Based on nine months of field research in Uganda the study draws on evidence from the successfully liberalizing country and shows how NGO potential for democratization and development has been subverted by state directives structural and historical conditions as well as the internal limitations of NGOs Crises of Governance in Asia and Africa Sandra J. MacLean, Fahimul Quadir, 2017-07-12 This title was first published in 2001 Investigating the relations between ethnicity and governance in Asia and Africa and going well beyond traditional and orthodox treatments this volume is not only a stimulating text but also an invaluable tool for original and innovative research Racism and Public Policy Y. Bangura, R. Stavenhagen, 2005-04-05 In a time when racism is on the rise as a source of conflict and social justice has been increasingly demanded by the civic society this collection stands as a timely reminder that to ignore the racial factor in the globalization forces is as mistaken as eliminating class analysis The essays published here supplement the literature of comparative race relations from the standpoint of the theory of institutional racism and its effect on public policies such as immigration citizenship security and policing The United Nations in Southeast Asia and the South Pacific Roderic Alley, 2016-07-27 This study of the United Nations in Southeast Asia and the South Pacific evaluates the organization's role and performance in Cambodia and over refugees regarding human rights development environment and the needs of women within regional cooperation and as an instrument of state policy These cases illustrate how multilateral conduct through the United Nations provides a barometer indicating the intensity with which policy initiatives and values are sustained by relevant governmental interests alike In the regional settings considered conduct towards and within the UN has amplified unresolved value differences regarding relations with major powers sustainability and national identity Securing Sierra Leone, 1997-2013 Peter Albrecht, Paul Jackson, 2015-06-19 Between 1991 and 2002 Sierra Leone was wracked by a devastating civil war and the complete collapse of state institutions. Since then however the UK's contribution to post war reconstruction has been widely held up as an example of successful stabilisation and state building particularly of the country's security and justice institutions. Securing Sierra Leone 1997-2013 examines how the process of state building through security sector reform developed in Sierra Leone and the impact of this experience on international conceptualisations of such reform as well as on international interventions more broadly. The study is the most detailed of its kind based on a comprehensive analysis of UK engagement in Sierra Leone between 1997 and 2013 including a host of first hand accounts from key local and international actors. This monograph shows why the UK intervention in Sierra Leone has been a relative success. However it also questions the sustainability of state building efforts that are driven by concepts of the liberal state. In Sierra Leone critical challenges remain not least in the combination of a particular vision of what a state should look like and the unrealistic expectations of progress on the part of the international community.
