Managing Coastal Tourism Resorts Sheela Agarwal, Gareth Shaw, 2007-10-19 This book aims to develop a global perspective on the management issues facing coastal resorts It does so by drawing on examples from a range of economies and environments written by key experts The major management themes highlighted include the processes of restructuring attempts to develop sustainable agendas and environmental issues of developing resorts in sensitive areas Geographies of Myth and Places of Identity Marco Benoit Carbone, 2022-01-13 Turning to a region of South Italy associated with Greater Greece and the geographies of Homer's Odyssey Marco Benoit Carbone delivers a historical and ethnographic treatment of how places defined in public imagination and media by their associated histories become sites of memory and identity as their landscape and mythologies turn into insignia of a romanticised antiquity For the ancient Greeks Homer had set the marine monsters of the Odyssey in the Strait between Calabria and Sicily Since then this passage has been glowing with the aura of its mythological landmarks Travellers and tourists have played Odysseus by re-enacting his journey Scholars and explorers have explained the myths as metaphors of whirlpools and marine fauna The iconic Strait and village of Scilla have turned into place myths and playgrounds defined by the region's heritage Carbone observes the enduring impact of Hellas on the real Strait today The continuous rekindling of cultural and visual traditions of place in the arts media travel and tourism have intersected with philhellenic historiographies shaping local policies public histories views of development and forms of Hellenicist identity Elements of society have celebrated the landscape of the Odyssey appropriated Homer as their imagined heirs and purported themselves as the original Europeans pandering to outdated ideological appropriations of classical antiquity and exclusionary West-centric views of the Mediterranean California Mission Landscapes Elizabeth Kryder-Reid, 2016-11-30 Nothing defines California and our nation's heritage as significantly or emotionally says the California Mission Foundation as do the twenty-one missions that were founded along the coast from San Diego to Sonoma Indeed the missions collectively represent the state's most iconic tourist destinations and are touchstones for interpreting its history Elementary school students today still make model missions evoking the romanticized versions of the 1930s Does it occur to them or to the tourists that the missions have a dark history California Mission Landscapes is an unprecedented and fascinating history of California mission landscapes from colonial outposts to their reinvention as heritage sites through the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Illuminating the deeply political nature of this transformation Elizabeth Kryder Reid argues that the designed landscapes have long recast the missions from sites of colonial oppression to aestheticized and nostalgia-drenched monasteries She investigates how such landscapes have been appropriated in social and political power struggles particularly in the perpetuation of social inequalities across boundaries of gender race class ethnicity and religion California Mission Landscapes demonstrates how the gardens planted in mission courtyards over the past 150 years are not merely anachronistic but have become potent ideological spaces The transformation of these sites of conquest into physical and metaphoric gardens has reinforced the marginalization of indigenous agency and diminished the contemporary consequences of colonialism And yet importantly this book also points to the potential to create very different visitor experiences than these landscapes currently do Despite the wealth of scholarship on California history until now no book has explored the mission landscapes as an avenue into understanding the politics of the past tracing the continuum between the Spanish colonial period emerging American nationalism and the contemporary heritage industry Diasporic Choices Renata Seredynska-Abou Eid,2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 This volume examines the complex and inter disciplinary issue of diaspora in the context of globalisation and contributing social historical and cultural factors of the modern world Each chapter offers a distinct point of view and a particular way of understanding diasporas in numerous cultures and societies in different parts of the globe The collection consists of a series of detailed analyses of aspects ranging from diasporic representations in the cinema literature and poetry to diasporic projections in current socio political and international matters Each chapter provides an individual examination of a particular aspect of diaspora in order to frame a bigger picture of modern diasporic choices Tourism, Diasporas and Space Tim Coles,Dallen J. Timothy,2004-08-02 Diasporas result from the scattering of populations and cultures across geographical space and time Transnational in nature and unbounded by space they cut across the static territorial boundaries more usually deployed to govern tourism In a vibrant inter disciplinary collection of essays from leading scholars in the field this book introduces the main features and constructs of diasporas and explores their implications for the consumption production and practices of tourism Three sets of mutually reinforcing relationships are explored experiences of diaspora tourists the settings and spaces of diaspora tourism the production of diaspora tourism Addressing the relationship between diasporic groups and tourism from both a consumer and producer perspective examples are drawn from a wide spectrum of diasporic groups including the Chinese Jewish Southeast Asian Croatian Dutch and Welsh Until now there has been no systematic and detailed treatment of the relationships between diasporas their consumptions and the tourist experience However here Coles and Timothy provide a unique navigation of the nature of these inter connections which is ideal for students of tourism sociology cultural studies The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Tourism Alan A. Lew,C. Michael Hall,Allan M. Williams,2014-06-03 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Tourism presents a collection of readings that represent an essential and authoritative reference on the state of the art of the interdisciplinary field of tourism studies Presents a comprehensive and critical overview of tourism studies across the social sciences Introduces emerging topics and reassesses key themes in tourism studies in the light of recent developments Includes 50 newly commissioned essays by leading experts in the social sciences from around the world Contains cutting edge perspectives on topics that include tourism s role in globalization sustainable tourism and the state s role in tourism development Sets an agenda for future tourism research and includes a wealth of bibliographic references The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies

Peter Howard,Ian Thompson,Emma Waterton,Mick Atha,2013-02-15 Landscape is a vital synergistic concept which opens up ways of thinking about many of the problems which beset our contemporary world such as climate change social alienation environmental degradation loss of biodiversity and destruction of heritage As a concept landscape does not respect disciplinary boundaries Indeed many academic disciplines have found the concept so important it has been used as a qualifier that delineates whole sub disciplines landscape ecology landscape planning landscape archaeology and so forth In other cases landscape studies progress under a broader banner such as heritage studies or cultural geography Yet it does not always mean the same thing in all of these contexts The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies offers the first comprehensive attempt to explore research directions into the many uses and meanings of landscape The Companion contains thirty nine original contributions from leading scholars within the field which have been divided into four parts Experiencing Landscape Landscape Culture and Heritage Landscape Society and Justice and Design and Planning for Landscape Topics covered range from phenomenological approaches to landscape to the consideration of landscape as a repository of human culture from ideas of identity and belonging to issues of power and hegemony and from discussions of participatory planning and design to the call for new imaginaries in a time of global and environmental crisis Each contribution explores the future development of different conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as recent empirical contributions to knowledge and understanding Collectively they encourage dialogue across disciplinary barriers and reflection upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape This Companion provides up to date critical reviews of state of the art perspectives across this multifaceted field embracing disciplines such as anthropology archaeology cultural studies geography landscape planning landscape architecture countryside management forestry heritage studies ecology and fine art It serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike engaging in the field of landscape studies

Tourism and the Branded City Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, John G. Gammack, 2016-02-24 Comparing the major Pacific Rim cities of Sydney Hong Kong and Shanghai this book examines world city branding Whilst all three cities compete on the world s stage for events tourists and investment they are also at the centre of distinct film traditions and their identities are thus strongly connected with a cinematic impression Using an interdisciplinary approach this book not only analyses the city branding of these cities from the more widely researched perspectives of tourism marketing and regional development but also draws in cultural studies and psychology approaches which offer fresh and useful insights to place branding and marketing in general The authors compare and contrast qualitative and quantitative original data as well as critically analyzing current texts and debates on city branding In conclusion they argue that city branding should contribute not only to regional development and identity but also to sustainable economic well being and public happiness

Tourism as a Pathway to Hope and Happiness Tej Vir Singh, Richard Butler, David A. Fennell, 2022-12-05 Tourism is often viewed as a phenomenon that brings out the worst in human nature Self interest overuse of resources injustice and cultural erosion are but a few examples This book explores the contrasting view that tourism can be a pathway to hope and happiness The chapters address areas including wellbeing positive psychology hopeful tourism mindfulness peace responsible tourism and spirituality The volume examines the role of tourism in preserving natural wonders and architectural masterpieces bringing out the best in tourists and locals and adding economic value if planned developed and managed sustainably It will be a useful resource for students and researchers in tourism psychology and philosophy

White Space Daniel J. Keyes, Luis L.M. Aguiar, 2021-12-15 Much attention has been paid to race in the Canadian metropolis but how are the workings of whiteness manifested in the rural urban White Space analyzes the dominance of whiteness in the Okanagan Valley of British Columbia to expose how this racial notion sustains forms of settler privilege today Contributors to this perceptive collection critique the cultural economics of whiteness and white supremacy The first half documents the historical construction of whiteness how settlers and their ancestors have sought to exalt pioneers by erasing non whites from the region s heritage while Indigenous people resist this white out The second half explores the persistence of whiteness as an organizing principle in the neoliberal deindustrialized present White Space moves beyond appraising whiteness as if it were a solid and unshakable category. Instead, it offers a powerful demonstration of how the concept can be re-envisioned, resisted, and reshaped in contexts of economic change.

Lifestyle Mobilities Tara Duncan, Scott A. Cohen, Maria Thulemark, 2016-05-06

Being mobile in today's world is influenced by many aspects, including transnational ties, increased ease of access to transport, growing accessibility to technology, knowledge, and information, and changing socio-cultural outlooks and values. These factors can all engender a re-formation of our everyday life, and moving as and for lifestyle has in many ways become both easier and much more complex. This book highlights the crossroads between concepts of lifestyle and the growing body of work on mobilities. The study of lifestyle offers a lens through which to study the kinds of moorings, dwellings, repetitions, and routines around which mobilities become socially, culturally, and politically meaningful. Bringing together scholars from geography, sociology, tourism, history, and beyond, the authors illustrate the breadth and richness of mobilities research through the concept of lifestyle. Organised into four sections, the book begins by dealing with aspects of bodily performance through lifestyle mobility. Section two then looks at how we can use mobile methods within social research, whilst section three explores issues surrounding ideas of mobility, immobility, and belonging. Finally, section four draws together a number of chapters that focus on the complexities of identity within mobility. Often drawing on ethnographic research, contributors all share one common feature: they are at the forefront of research into lifestyle mobilities.
