Color & Emotion Buddy Huang ,Evan Yanagi ,2015-10-01 By using the traditional Chinese theories of the Five Elements and Zi Wei Dou Shu we have explored the interrelationship between our personal elemental colors and their impact on our personal emotion In order to easily manage this relationship we have created the simple concept of a personal ID The personal ID does not represent citizens of a country but they are rather the number codes that derive precisely from the year month day hour and minute of our births and take into account the longitude and latitude of the birth place as well as the true solar time There are a total of nine numbers Through these nine numbers we can balance the five elemental energies to make us complete The same IDs are also attached to all products Therefore you can buy the products that match your elemental requirements The 109TM app helps you match the Yin and Yang attributes of the Five Elements and shop from our 109TM online shopping platform Color behind Bars Scott W. Bowman,2014-08-11 A diverse critical analysis of racial and ethnic disparities within the American criminal justice system that encourages critical thinking by providing various sides to the issues Low income African Americans Latin Americans and American Indians bear the statistical brunt of policing death penalty verdicts and sentencing disparities in the United States Why does this long standing inequity exist in a country where schoolchildren are taught to expect justice for all The original essays in this two volume set not only examine the deep rooted issues and lay out theories as to why racism remains a problem in our prison system but they also provide potential solutions to the problem The work gives a broad multicultural overview of the history of overrepresentation of ethnic minorities in our prison system examining white black disparities as well as racism and issues of ethnic based discrimination concerning other ethnic minorities This up to date resource is ideally suited for undergraduate students who are enrolled in criminal justice or racial ethnic studies classes and general readers interested in the U S criminal justice system Catalogue of the Private Art Collection of Thomas B. Supernatural Agents Ilkka Pyysiainen,2009-04-27 The cognitive science of religion is a rapidly growing field whose practitioners apply insights from advances in cognitive science in order to provide a better understanding of religious impulses beliefs and behaviors In this book Ilkka Pyysiainen shows how this methodology can profitably be used in the comparative study of beliefs about superhuman agents He begins by developing a theoretical outline of the basic modular architecture of the human mind and especially the human capacity to understand agency He then goes on to discuss examples of supernatural agency in detail arguing that the human ability to attribute beliefs and desires to others forms the basis of conceptions of supernatural agents and of such social cognition in which supernatural agents are postulated as interested parties in social life Beliefs about supernatural agency are natural says Pyysiainen in the sense that such concepts are used in an intuitive and automatic fashion Two dots and a straight line below them automatically trigger the idea of a face for example Given that the mind consists of a host of such modular mechanisms certain kinds of beliefs will always have a selective advantage over others Abstract theological concepts are usually elaborate versions of such simpler and more contagious folk conceptions Pyysiainen uses ethnographical and survey materials as well as doctrinal treatises to show that there are certain recurrent patterns in beliefs about supernatural agents both at the level of folk religion and of formal theology of the Nile (Complete) George Ebers, Half a lustrum had elapsed since Egypt had become subject to the youthful power of the Arabs which had risen with such unexampled vigor and rapidity It had fallen an easy prey cheaply bought into the hands of a small well captained troop of Moslem warriors and the fair province which so lately had been a jewel of the Byzantine Empire and the most faithful foster mother to Christianity now owned the sway of the Khalif Omar and saw the Crescent raised by the side of the Cross It was long since a hotter season had afflicted the land and the Nile whose rising had been watched for on the Night of Dropping the 17th of June with the usual festive preparations had cheated the hopes of the Egyptians and instead of rising had shrunk narrower and still narrower in its bed It was in this time of sore anxiety on the 10th of July A D 643 that a caravan from the North reached Memphis It was but a small one but its appearance in the decayed and deserted city of the Pyramids which had grown only lengthwise like a huge reed leaf since its breadth was confined between the Nile and the Libyan Hills attracted the gaze of the passers by though in former years a Memphite would scarcely have thought it worth while to turn his head to gaze at an interminable pile of wagons loaded with merchandise an imposing train of vehicles drawn by oxen the flashing maniples of the imperial cavalry or an endless procession wending its way down the five miles of high street The merchant who riding a dromedary of the choicest breed conducted this caravan was a lean Moslem of mature age robed in soft silk A vast turban covered his small head and cast a shadow over his delicate and venerable features The Egyptian guide who rode on a brisk little ass by his side looked up frequently and with evident pleasure at the merchant's face not in itself a handsome one with its hollow cheeks meagre beard and large aquiline nose for it was lighted up by a pair of bright eyes full of attractive thoughtfulness and genuine kindness But that this fragile looking man in whose benevolent countenance grief and infirmities had graven many a furrow could not only command but compel submission was legible alike in his thin firmly closed lips and in the zeal with which his following of truculent and bearded fighting men armed to the teeth obeyed his slightest sign His Egyptian attendant the head of the Hermeneutai the guild of the Dragomans of that period was a swarthy and surly native of Memphis whenever he accidentally came too close to the fierce looking riders of the dromedaries he shrunk his shoulders as if he expected a blow or a push while he poured out question and answer to the Merchant Haschim the owner of the caravan without timidity and with the voluble garrulity of his tribe

Landscapes of Wonder Nyanasobhano, 2013-05-30 To most of us there have come exceptional unworldly moments like unsuspected deeps in a stream when we fell through appearances fell through ourselves into an intuition of majesty and wonder Bhikkhu Nyanasobhano in Landscapes of Wonder Landscapes of Wonder deftly transports the spirit of Buddhist contemplation off the cushion and into the natural world With a lyricism and spiritual immediacy reminiscent of Thoreau and Emerson in eighteen meditational essays Bhikkhu Nyanasobhano considers Buddhist themes through the prism of nature The reflections captured in these satisfying literary explorations will appeal to all who appreciate contemplation of the natural world and our place in it

Hawthorne,1960-06-01 Look around and select a subject that you can see painted That will paint itself Do the obvious thing before you do the superhuman thing It may have been accidental but you knew enough to let this alone The good painter is always making use of accidents Never try to repeat a success Swing a bigger brush you don t know what fun you are missing For 31 years Charles Hawthorne spoke in this manner to students of his famous Cape Cod School of Art The essence of that instruction has been collected from students notes and captured in this book retaining the personal feeling and the sense of on the spot inspiration of the original classroom Even though Hawthorne is addressing himself to specific problems in specific paintings his comments are so revealing that they will be found applicable a hundred times to your own work The book is divided into sections on the outdoor model still life landscape the indoor model and watercolor Each section begins with a concise essay and continues with comments on basic elements general character color form seeing posture etc It is in the matter of color that students will especially feel themselves in the presence of a master guide and critic Hawthorne s ability to see color and more important to make the student see color is a lesson that will aid student painters and anyone else interested in any phase of art Although it does not pretend to be a comprehensive or closely ordered course this book does have much to offer It also represents the artistic insight of one of the finest painter teachers of the twentieth century An excellent introduction for laymen and students alike Time To read these notes and comments is in itself an education One cannot help but gain great help School Arts      Love and Other Technologies Dominic Pettman,2006 Can love really be considered another form of technology Dominic Pettman says it can although not before carefully redefining technology as a cultural challenge to what we mean by the human in the information age Using the writings of such important thinkers as Giorgio Agamben Jean Luc Nancy and Bernard Stiegler as a springboard Pettman explores the techtonic movements of contemporary culture specifically in relation to the language of eros Highly ritualized expressions of desire love in other words always reveal an era s attitude toward what it means to exist as a self among others For Pettman the articulation of love is a technique of belonging a way of responding to the basic plurality of everyone's identity a process that becomes increasingly complex as the forms of mediated communication from cell phone and text messaging to the mass media multiply and mesh together Wrestling the idea of love from the arthritic hands of Romanticism Pettman demonstrates the ways in which this dynamic assemblage the stirrings of the soul have always been a matter of tools devices prosthetics and media Love is after all something we make And love this book argues is not eternal but external Boulevard Stephen Jay Schwartz, 2011-10-04 Haunted by painful childhood events including the early death of his father LA detective Hayden Glass hides private struggles about his sex addiction while investigating the murder of a politician's daughter by a sexual predator
