BY DORIANNE LAUX

I'm remembering again, the day we stood on the porch and you smoked while the old man told you about his basement full of wine, his bad heart and the doctor's warning, how he held the dusty bottle out to you, glad, he said, to give it away to someone who appreciated its value and spirit, the years it took to settle into its richness and worth. I'm watching again, each cell alive, as you reach for the wine, your forearm exposed below the rolled sleeve, the fine hairs that sweep along the muscle, glowing, lifting a little in the afternoon breeze.
I'm memorizing the shape of the moment:
your hand and the small bones lengthening beneath the skin as it tightens in the gripping, in the receiving of the gift, the exact texture and color of your skin, and the old man's face, reduced to its essence. That,
and the brief second when both of you had a hand on the bottle—the thing not yet given, not yet taken, but held between you, stoppered, full.
And my body is flooded again with an elemental joy, holding onto it against another day in the unknowable future when I'm given terrible news, some dark burden I'll be forced to carry. I know this is useless, and can't possibly work, but I'm saving that moment, for balance.

book contains the refereed proceedings of The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China on its Zhuhai campus October 27-29, 2016. The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures. The past decade or so in particular has witnessed remarkable progress concerning research on issues related to this topic. Given this dynamic, The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China, organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China, was held at the Zhuhai campus of Jinan University on October 27-29, 2016. This conference attracts a large number of translators, interpreters, and researchers providing a rare opportunity for academic exchange in this field. The 135 full papers accepted for the proceedings of The Second International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University China were selected from 350 submissions. For each paper, the authors were shepherded by an experienced researcher. Generally, all of the submitted papers went through a rigorous peer review process.

Text-book of Poetry Henry Norman Hudson, 1875      The Poetics of Epiphany in the Spanish Lyric of Today Judith Nantell, 2019-11-15. Drawing on the poetry of four major voices in the Spanish lyric of today, Judith Nantell explores the epistemic works of Luis Muñoz, Abraham Gragera, Josep M. Rodríguez, and Ada Salas, arguing that for them the poem is the fundamental means of exploring the nature of both knowledge and poetry. In this first interpretive analysis of the epistemic nature of their poetry, Nantell innovatively engages these poets, each of whom has contributed one of their own poems along with a previously unpublished explication of their chosen poem. Each also provides an original biographical sketch to support Nantell's development of a poetics of epiphany. Published by Bucknell University Press. Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press.

International Directory of Little Magazines & Small Presses Lenard V. Fulton, 2006      American Educational History Journal Shirley Marie McCarther, 2019-08-01. The American Educational History Journal is a peer-reviewed national research journal devoted to the examination of educational topics using perspectives from a variety of disciplines. The editors of AEHJ encourage communication between scholars from numerous disciplines, nationalities, institutions, and backgrounds. Authors come from a variety of disciplines including political science, curriculum, history, philosophy, teacher education, and educational leadership. Acceptance for publication in AEHJ requires that each author present a well-articulated argument that deals substantively with questions of educational history. AEHJ accepts papers of two types. The first consists of papers that are presented each year at our annual meeting. The second type consists of general submission papers received throughout the year. General submission papers may be submitted at any time. They will not, however, undergo the review process until January when papers presented at the annual conference are also due for review and potential publication.
