Once and for All Delmore Schwartz, 2016-04-28 The publication of this book restores a missing chapter in the history of twentieth century American literature With his New Directions debut in 1938 the twenty five year old Delmore Schwartz was hailed as a genius and among the most promising writers of his generation Yet he died in relative obscurity in 1966 wracked by mental illness and substance abuse Sadly his literary legacy has been overshadowed by the story of his tragic life Among poets Schwartz was a prototype for the confessional movement made famous by his slightly younger friends Robert Lowell and John Berryman While his stories and novellas about Jewish American experience laid the groundwork for novels by Saul Bellow whose Humboldt's Gift is based on Schwartz's life and Philip Roth Much of Schwartz's writing has been out of print for decades This volume aims to restore Schwartz to his proper place in the canon of American literature and give new readers access to the breadth of his achievement Included are selections from the in print stories and poems as well as excerpts from his long unavailable epic poem Genesis a never completed book length work on T S Eliot and unpublished poems from his archives Collected Critical Writings Geoffrey Hill, 2009 The Collected Critical Writings gathers more than forty years of Hill's published criticism in a revised final form and also adds much new work It will serve as the canonical volume of criticism by Hill the pre eminent poet critic whom A N Wilson has called probably the best writer alive in verse or in prose In his criticism Hill ranges widely investigating both poets including Jonson Dryden Hopkins Whitman Eliot and Yeats and prose writers such as Tyndale Clarendon Hobbes Burton Emerson and F H Bradley He is also steeped in the historical context political poetic and religious of the writers he studies Most importantly he brings texts and contexts into new and telling relations neither reducing texts to the circumstances of their utterance nor imagining that they can float free of them A number of the essays have already established themselves as essential reading on particular subjects such as his analysis of Vaughan's The Night his discussion of Gurney's poetry and his critical account of The Oxford English Dictionary Others confront the problems of language and the nature of value directly as in Our Word is Our Bond Language Suffering and Value and Poetry and Value In all his criticism Hill reveals literature to be an essential arena of civic intelligence

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 7, Modernism and the New

Criticism George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 The history of the most hotly debated areas of literary theory including structuralism and deconstruction      Gates of Eden: American Culture in the Sixties Morris Dickstein, 2015-02-23 Widely admired as the definitive cultural history of the 1960s this groundbreaking work finally reappears in a new edition The turbulent 1960s almost from its outset produced a dizzying display of cultural images and ideas that were as colorful as the psychedelic T shirts that became part of its iconography It was not however until Morris Dickstein's landmark Gates of Eden first published in 1977 that we could fully grasp the impact of this raucous decade in American history as a momentous cultural epoch in its own right as much as Jazz Age America or Weimar Germany From Ginsberg and Dylan to Vonnegut and Heller this lasting work brilliantly re-creates not only the intellectual and political ferment of the decade but also its disillusionment What results is an inestimable contribution to our understanding of twentieth century American culture

The American Poet at the Movies Laurence Goldstein, 1995 A timely and engaging exploration of cinema's influence on verse a treat for poetry lovers and film buffs alike      Deconstructing Post-WWII New York City Robert Bennett, 2013-12-02 Situating post WWII New York literature within the material context of American urban history this work analyzes how literary movements such as the Beat Generation the New York poets and Black Arts Movement criticized the spatial restructuring of post WWII New York City      Republic of Dreams Ross Wetzsteon, 2007-11-01 If the twentieth century was the American century it can be argued that it was more specifically the New York century and Greenwich Village was the incubator of every important writer artist and political movement of the period From the century's first decade through the era of beatniks and modern art in the 1950s and 60s Greenwich Village was the destination for rebellious men and women who flocked there from all over the country to fulfill their artistic political and personal dreams It has been called the most significant square mile in American cultural history for it holds the story of the rise and fall of American socialism women's suffrage and the commercialization of the avant garde One Villager went so far as to say that everything started in the Village except Prohibition and in the 1940s the young actress Lucille Ball said The Village is the greatest place in the world What other community could claim a spectrum ranging from Henry James to Marlon Brando from Marcel Duchamp to Bob Dylan from Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney to Abbie Hoffman The story of the Village is in large part the stories old Villagers have told new Villagers about former Villagers and to tell its story is in large part to tell its legends Republic of Dreams presents the remarkable outrageous often interrelated biographies of the giants of American journalism poetry drama radical politics and art who flocked to the Village for nearly half a century among them Eugene O'Neill whose plays were first produced by the Provincetown Players on Macdougall Street for whom Edna St Vincent Millay also wrote Jackson Pollock who moved to the Village from Wyoming in 1930 and was soon part of the group of 8th Street painters who would revolutionize Western painting E.E. Cummings who lived for years on Patchin Place as did Djuna Barnes Max Eastman who edited the groundbreaking literary and political journal The Masses which introduced Freud to the American public and also published Sherwood Anderson Amy Lowell Upton Sinclair Maksim Gorky and John Reed's reporting on the Russian Revolution Republic of Dreams is beautifully researched outspoken wise hip exuberant a monumental definitive history that will endure for decades to come     Henry Miller Lawrence J. The Shadow in the Garden James Atlas,2017-08-22 The biographer so often in the shadows kibitzing casting doubt proving facts comes to the stage in this funny poignant endearing tale of how writers lives get documented James Atlas the celebrated chronicler of Saul Bellow and Delmore Schwartz takes us back to his own childhood in suburban Chicago where he fell in love with literature and early on found in himself the impulse to study writers lives We meet Richard Ellmann the great biographer of James Joyce and Atlas's professor during a transformative year at Oxford We get to know Atlas's first subject the self doomed poet Delmore Schwartz And we are introduced to a bygone cast of intellectuals such as Edmund Wilson and Dwight Macdonald the tall pines as Mary McCarthy once called them cut down now according to Atlas by the merciless pruning of mortality and of course the elusive Bellow a metaphysician of the ordinary Atlas revisits the lives and works of the classical biographers the Renaissance writers of what were then called lives Samuel Johnson and the obsessive Boswell and the Victorian masters Mrs Gaskell and Thomas Carlyle And in what amounts to a pocket history of his own literary generation Atlas celebrates the biographers who hoped to glimpse an image of them as fleeting as a familiar face swallowed up in a crowd With black and white illustrations throughout     Affect, Psychoanalysis, and American Poetry

John Steen,2018-07-12 Poetry has often been defined by its closure its condensation of meaning and value into discrete self referential textual objects Affect Psychoanalysis and American Poetry challenges the dominant metaphor of poetic containers by turning to recent poetic texts that represent the contagious and uncontainable feelings of anxiety grief shame and rage From modernists Wallace Stevens to mid century poets Randall Jarrell Robert Creeley and Ted Berrigan and finally to contemporary practitioners Aaron Kunin and Claudia Rankine John Steen argues that new poetic techniques arise from the poetic productivity of negative affects and that a new model of poetic value can be found in poems that are instead of containers permeable social spaces of intimacy attachment and withdrawal Drawing from object relations psychoanalysis queer theory and affect theory Affect Psychoanalysis and American Poetry finds poetry's singularity in its unique capacity to represent anew the transmissible relational and uncontainable valences of feeling that structure and destabilize social life

Ezra Pound Eric Homberger,2013-07-04 This set comprises 40 volumes covering nineteenth and twentieth century European and American authors These volumes will be available as a complete set mini boxed sets by theme or as individual volumes This second set compliments the first 68 volume set of Critical Heritage published by Routledge in October 1995

The Politics of Irony in American Modernism Matthew Stratton,2013-11-01 Shortlisted for the 2015 Modernist Studies Association Book Prize This book shows how American literary culture in the first half of the twentieth century saw irony emerge as a term to describe intersections between aesthetic and political practices Against conventional associations of irony with political withdrawal Stratton shows how the term circulated widely in literary and popular culture to describe politically engaged forms of writing It is a critical commonplace to acknowledge the difficulty of defining irony before stipulating a particular definition as a stable point of departure for literary cultural and political analysis This book by contrast is the first to derive definitions of irony inductively showing how writers employed it as a keyword both before and in opposition to the institutionalization of New Criticism It focuses on writers who not only composed ironic texts but talked about irony and satire to situate their work politically Randolph Bourne Benjamin De Casseres Ellen Glasgow John Dos Passos Ralph Ellison and many others
