concerned about corporate survival Professor Larry E Greiner Marshall School of Business University of Southern California USA The aspiration to adopt the right strategy still prevails over the business world But is there a single best strategy for a company Can an organization create sustainable competitive advantage from an off the peg strategy And are most companies likely to craft a strategy that genuinely creates uncontested market space and makes the competition irrelevant The answer to all these questions is probably No And the rising tide of companies like Dell CostCo Skype and Linux means that asking them at all may soon be futile While strategists have foundered in old paradigms a new breed of competitors has emerged Value destroyers Old style thinking understood value destruction when it was confined to an industry and driven by a new product or technology But what are the implications when the destruction stems from a new way of thinking from a strategy that simultaneously creates value The implications are enormous Every company in every industry is potentially at risk This risk or opportunity is precisely the reason for this book and its focus on exploring why and how some companies have bridged the gap between differentiator and cost leader strategies to emerge as winners in hypercompetitive markets and what this entails in terms of value destruction and creation Discounting organizations are here to stay are you

Pinedo, Sridhar Seshadri, 2012-12-06 Creating Value in Financial Services is a compilation of state of the art views of leading academics and practitioners on how financial service firms can succeed in today's competitive environment The book is based on two conferences held at New York University the first Creating Value in Financial Services held in March 1997 and the second Operations and Productivity in Financial Services in April 1998 The book is essentially designed to be a compendium of leading edge thinking and practice in the management of financial services firms There is no book today that has this focus It contains ideas that can apply to other service industries Topics addressed are increasingly important worldwide as the financial services industries consolidate and search for innovative new directions and ways to create value in a fiercely competitive environment Service Innovation: Organizational Responses To Technological Opportunities And Market Imperatives Joe Tidd, Frank Montgomery Hull, 2003-09-24 In the most advanced service economies services create up to three quarters of the wealth and 85% of employment and yet we know relatively little about managing innovation in this sector The critical role of services in the broadest sense has long been recognized but is still not well understood Most research and management prescriptions have been based on the experience of manufacturing and high technology sectors There is a clear need to distinguish which if any of what we know about managing innovation in manufacturing is applicable to services what must be adapted and what is distinct and different Such is the goal of this book This unique collection brings together the latest academic research and management practice on innovation in services and identifies a range of successful organizational responses to current technological opportunities and market imperatives The contributors include leading researchers consultants and practitioners in the field who provide rigorous yet practical insights into managing and organizing innovation in services Two themes help to integrate the contributions in this book That generic good practices exist in the management and organization of innovation in services which the authors seek to identify but that these must be adapted to different contexts specifically the scale and complexity of the tasks the degree of customization of the offerings and the uncertainty of the environment That innovation in services is much more than the application of information technology IT In fact the disappointing returns to IT investments in services have resulted in a widespread debate about the causes and potential solutions the so called productivity paradox in services Instead here the authors adopt a broader notion of innovation including technological organizational and market change The key is to match the configuration of organization and technology to the specific market environment a Practices and Principles in Service Design Qin Han, 2010

Public Service Logic Stephen Osborne, 2020-10-29 This book is based upon and extends the theoretical and empirical work of the author over the last decade It integrates material deriving from his previous conceptual and empirical work in this field together with new empirical evidence from emerging research Public Service Logic challenges the product dominant assumptions of the New Public Management NPM about the nature and management of public service delivery Whilst the NPM has led to some important developments in public management it has also had significant limitations and weaknesses The book presents an alternative to this as a framework for the future delivery and reform of public services globally It draws upon the extant literature in the field of service management to argue for a Public Service Logic PSL for the delivery of public services This situates public service delivery within the vibrant and influential field of service dominant research and theory It argues that effective public service management requires both that these services are understood as services not as products and that consequently public service management requires a focus on value creation as its overarching rationale. The book presents a major new framework of value creation for public service delivery as a basis for public service reform, explores the role of service managers and staff and of citizens and service users in this value creation process and evaluates the implications of this new framework for both the strategic and operational management of public service delivery, their performance management and the development and innovation of new forms of public services. It will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of public management and public administration as well as to policy makers and public service managers.
