Along the High Road, 2004 The road between Espanola and Taos New Mexico commonly referred to as the High Road to Taos covers a distance of about fifty miles and passes through many northern frontier settlement towns. Because of the speed limit and road conditions a trip along this road usually takes three hours although some drivers do it in less. They drive serpentine roads, look at quaint houses and magnificent scenery and depart content that they have driven through a fascinating area. But the High Road is more than just a scenic road trip; it is a journey through the lives of the people past and present who tied to the earth, fiercely independent and staunchly Catholic, settled a hostile land, created a new life for themselves and became the moral fiber of New Mexico. This book gives readers a brief glimpse into the lives, beliefs, and arts of these people and offers suggestions about sights and accommodations for travelers willing to take enough time to discover the beauty and mysteries hidden in the small towns.

Along the High Road
MARGARET NAVA a native of Illinois spent twenty years traveling throughout the American Southwest researching and writing hundreds of local and national magazine articles about natural science, anthropology, spirituality, and Hispanic and Native American traditions. However, the lure of the Land of Enchantment as New Mexico is called was strong and several years ago she left the Midwest behind. These days Margaret and her dog Sauza can be found traveling around the state looking for little known or unusual travel destinations.

Potters at Work in Ancient Corinth Eleni Hasaki, 2022-02-22 An unparalleled assemblage of Archaic black figure painted pinakes (plaques) was uncovered near Penteskouphia, a village west of ancient Corinth over a century ago. The pinakes represented by over 1 200 fragments and their depictions of gods, warriors, animals, and the potters themselves provide a uniquely rich source of information about Greek art, technology, and society. In this volume, the findspot of the pinakes is identified in a contribution by Ioulia Tzonou and James Herbst, and the assemblage as a whole is fully contextualized within the Archaic world. Then, by focusing specifically on the images of potters at work, the author illuminates the relationship between Corinthian and Athenian art, the technology used in ancient pottery production, and religious anxiety in the 6th century B.C. The first comprehensive register of all known Penteskouphia pinakes complements the well-illustrated discussion.
