In impassioned poetry Wanda Coleman takes a look at the embattled lives of African Americans particularly in Los Angeles. The Theory Girls performance script If You Were like the Heroine in a Country and Western song is both detailed expose and black comedy framing the relationship between Aileen Wuornos and Arlene Pralle, the born again Christian who became enamored of Wuornos after her conviction within the context to Hollywood's fascination for women with guns. The Tourism Encounter Florence Babb, 2010-08-30. This book considers the recent growth of tourism in transitional societies in Latin America and the Caribbean. Research in Cuba, Mexico, Nicaragua, and Peru reveals that tourism often takes up where social transformation leaves off and may even benefit from the formerly off-limits status of nations that have undergone periods of conflict or rebellion. The Secret Meaning of Things Lawrence Ferlinghetti, 1969. The Secret Meaning of Things is Lawrence Ferlinghetti's fourth book of poems. Literature and the Bible David Bevan, 1993. Art and Revolution in Latin America, 1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01. In this uniquely wide-ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy. The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910-40, in Cuba 1959-89, and in Nicaragua 1979-90 were defining moments in twentieth-century life in the Americas. Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement's artistic project by whom, how, and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies. In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders. The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution's attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico, Cuba, and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation. Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art, one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were. In addition, the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire. The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art, ideology, and class within a revolutionary process. After Revolution Florence E. Babb, 2010-01-01. Nicaragua's Sandinista revolution 1979-1990 initiated a broad program of social transformation to improve the situation of the working class and poor women and other non-elite groups through agrarian reform, restructured urban employment, and wide access to health care, education, and social services. This book explores how Nicaragua's least powerful citizens have fared in the years since the Sandinista revolution as neoliberal governments have rolled back these state-supported reforms and introduced measures to promote the development of a market driven economy Drawing on ethnographic research conducted throughout the 1990s Florence Babb describes the negative consequences that have followed the return to a capitalist path especially for women and low income citizens In addition she charts the growth of women s and other social movements neighborhood lesbian and gay indigenous youth peace and environmental that have taken advantage of new openings for political mobilization Her ethnographic portraits of a low income barrio and of women s craft cooperatives powerfully link local cultural responses to national and global processes
