The Retrospective Review (1820-1828) and the Revival of Seventeenth Century Poetry Jane Campbell, 2006-01-01 This essay had its beginning in an investigation of changing attitudes to seventeenth century Pre Restoration poetry during the English Romantic period In the course of that research Jane Campbell discovered that a relatively little known periodical the Retrospective Review which was published in London from 1820 to 1828 appeared to have played an interesting part in the rehabilitation of the poets of the earlier period This book then is an attempt to outline the history of this review to place it against its literary background and to assess its role in the critical re evaluation of the poets of the earlier seventeenth century an age to which the Retrospective s contributors and their contemporaries looked with fascination as well as with an affectionate feeling of kinship

Nardo, 1991-09-03 This book argues that play offered Hamlet John Donne George Herbert Andrew Marvell Robert Burton and Sir Thomas Browne a way to live within the contradictions and conflicts of late Renaissance life by providing a new stance for the self Grounding its argument in recent theories of play and in a historical analysis that sees the seventeenth century as a point of crisis in the formation of the western self the author demonstrates how play helped mediate this crisis and how central texts of the period enact this mediation
