Birnbaum, 2017-07-05 Women Artists in Interwar France Framing Femininities illuminates the importance of the Socié des Femmes Artistes Modernes more commonly known as FAM and returns this group to its proper place in the history of modern art In particular this volume explores how FAM and its most famous members Suzanne Valadon Marie Laurencin and Tamara de Lempicka brought a new approach to the most prominent themes of female embodiment the self portrait motherhood and the female nude These women reimaged art's conventions and changed the direction of both art history and the politics of their contemporary art world FAM has been excluded from histories of modern art despite its prominence during the interwar years Paula Birnbaum's study redresses this omission contextualizing the group's legacy in light of the conservative politics of 1930s France The group's artistic response to the reactionary views and images of women at the time is shown to be a key element in the narrative of modernist formalism Although many FAM works are missing one reason for the lack of attention paid to their efforts Birnbaum's extensive research through archives press clippings and first hand interviews with artists families reclaims FAM as an important chapter in the history of art from the interwar years

German Incertitudes, 1914-1945 Klemens von Klemperer, 2001-03-30. The history of modern Germany has all too readily been seen in terms of an historical process that inevitably led to the horrors of National Socialism. As there are no certitudes in life, however, so there are none in German history. In this book, historian Klemens von Klemperer focuses on what he terms the German Incertitudes, namely the tensions between a realistic acceptance of disenchantment with the modern world and an insistence upon re-enchantment. Exploring this tension through a critical assessment of the ideas and writings of major German thinkers, von Klemperer seeks to account for both the achievements and the failings of German thought, society, and politics as responses to the challenge of modernity in the first half of the 20th century. In addition to individuals such as Nietzsche, Weber, Spengler, J. G. Böhme, and Heidegger, the author considers broader movements and ideas such as the concept of Gemeinschaft and the German expressionists, all in the wider context of Western intellectual currents. Rather than belaboring presumed German deviance from the European norms, von Klemperer explores the reasons why the sense of crisis in the face of modernity was singularly acute among Germans; he traces a spectrum of reactions extending from an acceptance of modern disenchantment to the quest for re-enchantment, which found an extreme manifestation in National Socialism.

Symbolist Art in Context Michelle Facos, 2009-03-31. The Symbolist art movement of the late 19th century forms an important bridge between Impressionism and Modernism. But because Symbolism emphasizes ideas over objects and events, it has suffered from conflicting definitions. In this book, Michelle Facos offers a comprehensive description of this challenging subject.

The Museum Age in Austria-Hungary Matthew Rampley, Markian Prokopovych, Nóra Veszprémi, 2021-02-15. This important critical study of the history of public art museums in Austria-Hungary explores their place in the wider history of European museums and collecting, their role as public institutions, and their involvement in the complex cultural politics of the Habsburg Empire. Focusing on institutions in Vienna, Cracow, Prague, Zagreb, and Budapest, The Museum Age in Austria-Hungary traces the evolution of museum culture over the long nineteenth century, from the 1784 installation of imperial art collections in the Belvedere Palace as a gallery open to the public, to the dissolution of Austria-Hungary after the First World War. Drawing on source materials from across the empire, the authors reveal how the rise of museums and display was connected to growing tensions between the efforts of Viennese authorities to promote a cosmopolitan and multinational social political and cultural identity on the one hand and on the other the rights of national groups and cultures to self expression They demonstrate the ways in which museum collecting policies practices of display and architecture engaged with these political agendas and how museums reflected and enabled shifting forms of civic identity emerging forms of professional practice the production of knowledge and the changing composition of the public sphere Original in its approach and sweeping in scope this fascinating study of the museum age of Austria Hungary will be welcomed by students and scholars interested in the cultural and art history of Central Europe New Perspectives on Br?cke Expressionism Christian Weikop,2017-07-05 New Perspectives on Br cke Expressionism Bridging History brings together highly renowned international art historians in a scholarly work that offers the first full length reassessment in English of the importance of the Br cke group to German modernism specifically and to international modernism more generally It challenges interrogates and updates existing orthodoxies in the field of Br cke studies by deploying new research combined with innovative interpretative approaches This is an exciting volume of essays with an interlinking tripartite structure that charts the significance of this pioneering German avant garde group in relation to various critical themes namely cultural and material identity collectivity and selfhood as well as defamation and rehabilitation The book is unique in the field in that it seeks to excavate specific historical research relating to the activities of the Br cke as a bohemian yet nonetheless enterprising artists community and considers the contributions of the key members in relation to the dynamics of that group rather than simply on an individual basis It thoroughly explores the historiography of the Br cke artists reception throughout the turbulent history of the twentieth century up until the present day Encyclopedia of American Folk Art Gerard C.
