Comprehensive Multicultural Education in the 21st Century Brandi Hinnant-Crawford, C. Spencer Platt, Christopher Newman, Adriel A. Hilton, 2019-04-01 Multicultural education has become its own discipline developed on the shoulders of the work of giants who argued its merit during the attacks of opponents who believed assimilation was the purpose of state sponsored education In an age of rising populism and nationalism throughout the Western world again questioned is the merit of multicultural education In the shadows of Brexit and an America First agenda where migration patterns across the world have led to demographic shifts it is evident even in the richest countries in the world that gaps in opportunity and subsequently achievement still exist Disparities in achievement lead some to question whether multicultural education works and others to revert to old notions that ethnically and linguistically marginalized students are in fact deficient The scholars here believe in the untapped potential of all children and illuminate how educational structures have muffled the cultivation of that potential Contributors argue the goals of multicultural education have not been achieved in part due to the piecemeal application of its tenants The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education and articulates what educators committed to equity inclusion and a more just society must do to ensure the goals of multicultural education survive in the current age The authors of these chapters bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education With the diverse cast of contributors and topics ranging from mathematics instruction to discipline practices this volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues of access access to curricular content access to opportunities to learn as well as impediments to access

Containing chapters that speak to discipline specific pedagogical practices the structures of schooling teacher education and research methodologies the collected work encourages scholars and practitioners to not be discouraged in the age of retrenchment Challenges to Multicultural Education in the 21st Century Sigrid Luchtenberg,2003

Multiculturalism in Higher Education C. Spencer Platt,Adriel A. Hilton,Christopher Newman,Brandi Hinnant-Crawford,2020-03-01 As the educational landscape of America continues to evolve and diversify college faculty and administrators must be cutting edge in their approaches to create a variety of educational experiences with a greater level of multicultural cognizance Unlike in previous generations higher education in the 21st Century is no longer a luxury reserved for the elite and wealthy but is an increasing necessity for access to labor markets Community colleges and universities are working hard to respond to the demands of the labor market by attempting to provide skills for jobs that may not yet exist Colleges and universities should aim to make all of their students feel welcome and a part of the campus being committed to celebrating differences Additionally filling faculty seats with varied races cultures perspectives and identities will aid in providing mentors and role models everyone can relate to These are some of the vital steps toward building a campus community that helps students develop a sense of belonging that allows them to persist and thrive in college The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education on college and university campuses The authors bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education This volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues ranging from the racial and ethnic diversity of the student and faculty bodies and important topics like disability issues to different educational contexts such as community colleges HBCUs and HSI institutions The Promise of Multiculturalism George N.

Katsiaficas,Teodros Kiros,1998 In personal narratives pedagogical interpretations and global and philosophical perspectives scholars from a broad range of disciplines and countries examine the concept of multiculturalism and it applies to autonomy identity and education Rather than portray a single version of the concept they provide an example of the rich debate among its proponents Some of the 16 papers which are not indexed comprised a special issue of New Political Science which is not identified Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Computer-Based Technology for Special and Multicultural Education Lenwood Gibson ,Festus Obiakor,2017-10-11 Computer Based Technology for Special and Multicultural Education is a comprehensive textbook for integrating computer technology into the classroom Experienced contributors discuss the growing role of technology in teaching students with exceptional learning needs Unlike the competition this textbook addresses classroom technology through multiple lenses special and multicultural education Special education teacher candidates at all levels will benefit from this in depth coverage of history terminology and research in computer based technology This background will help readers determine how and when to use technology for the most effective educational experience Topics include using the combination of computer hardware and specific software programs

Special Education in the 21st Century Margret A. Winzer, 2000 In the late 20th century a tidal wave of calls for reform and inclusion of special needs students swept over public special education The current debates over implementing these themes today are authoritatively addressed by 19 distinguished scholars in this thorough volume Organized into three cohesive sections it begins with the issues of educational reform and the emerging discourses of disability and integration in the inclusion movement Respective chapters appraise specific arguments for inclusion and the federal legislation and litigation surrounding and supporting special education The second part features the thorny issue of assessment the technological revolution in special education and the disposition of teacher training The third section scrutinizes the inclusion of various populations of students with exceptional needs particularly how teachers can make an easy transition from ideology to educational practice Special Education in the 21st Century sets the standard for extrapolating future directions by wisely weighing classroom practices for different groups and the technical problems of resources management social groupings instructional design and the supposition that teachers will automatically change to accommodate an even greater diversity of learners

Multicultural Education in an Age of Globalization Chinaka Samuel

DomNwachukwu, 2019 Multicultural Education in an Age of Globalization Compelling Issues for Engagement starts out with a discussion of western colonization of the 19th and 20th centuries and the residual effects of colonialism in the forms of colonial mindset of power dominance and white racial superiority that have continued to challenge the hopes of a peaceful and more harmonious exchange and interaction in the 21st century global communities Issues such as white privilege and cultural humility are discussed in depth Subsequently the idea of globalization and the concept of global citizenship are also addressed in light of their implications for multicultural education curriculum and practice in the 21st century classrooms The book identifies and discusses compelling issues that must be carefully addressed as we undertake multicultural
