Painting Zero Degree Carlos Basualdo, Ellen Tepfer, 2000 Contributions by Judith Richards Ellen Tepfer Carlos Basualdo Painting degree zero [published on the occasion of the exhibition held at Cranbrook Museum of Art, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 5 February - 2 April 2000; Fred Jones Jr. Art Museum, Norman, Okla., 20 September - 26 November 2000; Cleveland Center for Contemporary Art, Cleveland, Ohio, Spring 2002]. Cranbrook Museum of Art (Bloomfield Hills, Mich.), 2000 The PressureWashingBusiness. com Guide to Running Your Own Pressure Washing Business PressureWashingBusiness.com, 2008 Abstract Expressionism Joan M. Marter, 2007 A collection of essays that discuss abstract expressionist art Beholding Ken Wilder, 2020-05-14 Beholding considers the spatially situated encounter between artwork and spectator It argues that artworks created for specific places or conditions structure a reciprocal encounter which is completed by the presence of a beholder These are works which demand the beholder's share but not as Ernst Gombrich famously claimed to sustain an illusion Rather Beholding reconfigures Gombrich's notion of the beholder's share as a set of licensed imaginative and cognitive projections Each chapter frames a particular work of art from the remit of a complementary theoretical text The book establishes a transhistorical notion of the spatially situated encounter and considers the role of the architectural host in bringing the beholder's orientation into play The book engages a diverse range of practices from Renaissance painting and group portraiture to intermedia practices of installation and performance art Written within the broad remit of reception aesthetics the book proposes a phenomenological theory of beholding argued through an in depth examination of artworks and their spatial contexts selected for their explanatory potential These various encounters allocate different constitutive roles to the beholder bringing not only spatial and temporal orientation into play but also a repertoire of anticipated ideas and beliefs Architecture and Abstraction Pier Vittorio Aureli, 2023-11-07 A landmark study of abstraction in architectural history theory and practice that challenges our assumptions about the meaning of abstract forms In this theoretical study of abstraction in architecture the first of its kind Pier Vittorio Aureli argues for a reconsideration of abstraction its meanings and its sources Although architects have typically interpreted abstraction in formal terms the purposeful reduction of the complexities of design to its essentials Aureli shows that abstraction instead arises from the material conditions of building production In a lively study informed by Walter Benjamin Karl Marx Alfred Sohn Rethel and other social theorists this book presents abstraction in architecture not as an aesthetic tendency but as a movement that arises from modern divisions of labor and consequent social asymmetries These divisions were anticipated by the architecture of antiquity which established a distinction between manual and intellectual labor and placed the former in service to the latter Further abstractions arose as geometry used for measuring territories became the intermediary between land and money and eventually produced the logic of the grid In our own time architectural abstraction serves the logic of capitalism and embraces the premise that all things can be exchanged even experience itself is a commodity To resist this turn Aureli seeks a critique of architecture that begins not by scaling philosophical heights but by standing at the ground level of material practice Haecceities: Essentialism, Identity, and Abstraction Jeffrey Strayer, 2017-01-23 Haecceities: Essentialism, Identity, and Abstraction is both an artistic and philosophical examination of the limits of Abstraction in art and of kinds of radical identity that are determined in the identification of those limits Building on his work Subjects and Objects Strayer shows how the fundamental conditions of making and apprehending works of art can be used in concert with language thought and perception as material for producing the more Abstract and radical artworks possible Certain limits of Abstraction and possibilities of radical identity are then identified that are critically and philosophically considered They prove to be so extreme that the concepts artwork abstraction identity and object in art philosophy and philosophy of art have to be reconsidered Museum Skepticism David Carrier, 2006-05-31 Prominent art historian looks at the birth of the art museum and contemplates its future as a public institution Fruits of Her Plume: Essays on Contemporary Russian Women's Culture Helena Goscilo, 2015-05-20 The 1980s witnessed the ascendancy of Russian women in multiple spheres of artistic creation including literature film and painting This volume may thus be said to engage not only women's artistic production but indeed the best and most colourful of recent Russian culture Treating contemporary Russian women's creativity it approaches women's texts films and canvasses from a range of perspectives from anti-gendered to feminist Some of the essays introduce writers not previously well studied others challenge conventional interpretations and assumptions while still others yield original viewpoints through novel juxtapositions In addition to offering insights into the various artists under analysis the essays map the wide terrain of issues and methodologies proliferating in cultural criticism today and mirror the diversity that is one of the most appealing features of women's creativity in contemporary Russia Force Magnifier Michael Betancourt, 2020-04-20 What exactly does AI automate Betancourt begins with the obvious answer human labor and ends with the nature of value created in capitalism His analysis was written for a lecture at the Aspen Institute Germany's Third Annual Berlin AI Conference Humanity Enabled AI the Great Economic Awakening in March 2020 The great decoupling of labor from productivity and value suggests the potential for a post-labor economy and the expansion of the society of leisure formerly reserved for only the dominant social classes This book concerns the social cultural and economic barriers to the development of a fairer egalitarian and more democratic society in terms of a broad kaleidoscopic array of tendencies including the gamification of social activity by social credit the role of marketing in popular media the authoritarian usurpation of democracy in the smart city and the proposal of universal basic income as a palliative for the replacement of human labor by machinery Opposition to the emergence of the society of leisure is not economic but cultural a confluence of religious and social prohibitions on leisure that simultaneously devalue demonize and disenfranchise labor this emergent conflict is the cultural significance of AI About the author Michael Betancourt is a critical theorist and research artist whose work is concerned with the cultural impacts of digital technology and capitalist ideology He has written more than thirty books including The Critique of Digital Capitalism The Digital Agent versus Human Agency The History of Motion Graphics and Glitch Art in Theory and Practice His writing has been translated into Chinese French German Greek Italian Japanese Persian Portuguese and Spanish These publications complement his movies which have been screened internationally in art fairs film festivals and museums Brutal Aesthetics Hal Foster, 2023-10-17 How artists created an aesthetic of positive barbarism in a world devastated by World War II the Holocaust and the atomic bomb In Brutal Aesthetics leading art historian Hal Foster explores how postwar artists and writers searched for a new foundation of culture after the massive devastation of World War II the Holocaust and the atomic bomb Inspired by the notion that modernist art can teach us how to survive a civilization become barbaric Foster examines the various ways that key figures from the early 1940s to the early 1960s sought to develop a brutal aesthetics adequate to the destruction around them With a focus on the philosopher Georges Bataille the painters Jean Dubuffet and Asger Jorn and the sculptors Eduardo Paolozzi and Claes Oldenburg Foster investigates a manifold move to strip art down or to reveal it as already bare in order to begin again What does Bataille seek in the prehistoric cave paintings of Lascaux How does Dubuffet imagine an art brut an art unscathed by culture Why does Jorn populate his paintings with human animals What does Paolozzi see in his monstrous figures assembled from industrial debris And why does Oldenburg remake everyday products from urban scrap A study of artistic practices made desperate by a world in crisis Brutal Aesthetics is an intriguing account of a difficult era in twentieth century culture one that has important implications for our own Published in association with the Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts National Gallery of Art Washington DC Please note All images in this ebook are presented in black and white and have been reduced in size Painting as Model Yve-Alain Bois, 1993-05-04 Informed by both structuralism and poststructuralism these essays by art critic and historian Yve Alain Bois seek to redefine the status of theory in modernist critical discourse Warning against the uncritical adoption of theoretical fashions and equally against the a priori rejection of all theory Bois argues that theory is best employed in response to the specific demands of a critical problem The essays lucidly demonstrate the uses of various theoretical approaches in conjunction with close reading of both paintings and texts Deleuze on Music, Painting, and the Arts Ronald Bogue, 2003 This text provides a systematic overview and introduction to Deleuze's writings on music and painting and an assessment of their position within his aesthetics as a whole Peter Selz Paul J. Karlstrom, 2012-01-02 This absorbing biography often conveyed through Peter Selz's own words traces the journey of a Jewish German immigrant from Hitler's Munich to the United States and on to an important career as a pioneer historian of modern art Paul J. Karlstrom illuminates key historical and cultural events of the twentieth century as he describes Selz's extraordinary career from Chicago's Institute of Design New Bauhaus to New York's Museum of Modern Art during the transformative 1960s and as founding director of the University Art Museum at UC Berkeley Karlstrom sheds light on the controversial viewpoints that at times isolated Selz from his colleagues but nonetheless affirmed his conviction that significant art was always an expression of deep human experience The book also links Selz's long life story featuring close relationships with such major art figures as Mark Rothko, Dore Ashton, Willem de Kooning, Sam Francis and Christo with his personal commitment to political engagement

A New Ireland in Brazil, 2008 Making Images Move Gregory Zinman, 2020-01-03 Making Images Move reveals a new history of cinema by uncovering its connections to other media and art forms In this richly illustrated volume Gregory Zinman explores how moving image artists who worked in experimental film pushed the medium toward abstraction through a number of unconventional filmmaking practices including painting and scratching directly on the film strip, deteriorating film with water, dirt and bleach and applying materials such as paper and glue This book provides a comprehensive history of this tradition of handmade cinema from the early twentieth century to the present opening up new conversations about the production, meaning and significance of the moving image From painted film to kinetic art and from psychedelic light shows to video synthesis Gregory Zinman recovers the range of forms, tools and intentions that make up cinema's shadow history, deepening awareness of the intersection of art and media in the twentieth century and anticipating what is to come

Learning Java with Games Chong-wei Xu, 2018-11-16 This innovative approach to teaching Java language and programming uses game design development as the method to applying concepts Instead of teaching game design using Java projects are designed to teach Java in a problem solving approach that is both a fun and effective Learning Java with Games introduces the concepts of Java and coding then uses a project to emphasize those ideas It does not treat the object oriented and procedure and loop parts of Java as two separate entities to be covered separately but interweaves the two concepts so the students get a better picture of what Java is After studying a rich set of projects the book turns to build up a Three layer Structure for Games as an architecture template and a guiding line for designing and developing video games The proposed three layer architecture not only merges essential Java object oriented features but also addresses loosely coupled software architecture

Design Strategies for Reimagining the City Linda Matthews, 2022-06-24 Design Strategies for Reimagining the City is situated between projective geometry, optical science and architectural design It draws together seemingly unrelated fields in a series of new digital design tools and techniques underpinned by tested prototypes The book reveals how the relationship between architectural design and the ubiquitous urban camera can be used to question established structures of control and ownership inherent within the visual model of the Western canon Using key moments from the broad trajectory of historical and contemporary representational mechanisms and techniques it describes the image's impact on city form from the inception of linear perspective geometry to the digital turn The discussion draws upon combined fields of digital geometry, the pictorial adaptation of human optical cues of colour, brightness and shape and modern image capture technology webcams mobile phones and UAVs to demonstrate how the permeation of contemporary urban space by digital networks calls for new architectural design tools and techniques A series of speculative drawings and architectural interventions that apply the new design tools and techniques complete the book Aimed at researchers academics and upper level students in digital design and theory it makes a timely contribution to the ongoing and broadly debated relationship between representation and architecture
