encounters with wildlife and wild weather stories of being lost and found rescues and unusual incidents Revealing a larger context are historical accounts of events such as Moses Schallenger's winter on Donner Pass and pioneer efforts like the old Naches Road that ended up creating access to today's trails Native American myths and legends such as that of Lost Lake near Mount Hood and selections from highly regarded environmental writers who have captured the region in print including Mary Austin in The Land of Little Rain John Muir in The Mountains of California and Barry Lopez in Crossing Open Ground Readers will also enjoy a few more surprising contributions from the likes of Mark Twain and Ursula Le Guin For this digital edition of the PCT READER we combined our two print volumes into a single robust ebook that features stories from both the CALIFORNIA and OREGON WASHINGTON volumes Because the two volume set is a compilation of old and new essays however the editors were not able to obtain digital publication rights for some of the previously published material So while this combination ebook includes all the newly commissioned stories as well as many other pieces for which the editors did have digital access there are approximately four contributions from each of the printed books that do not appear here

The Tsimshian Margaret Seguin, 1993 This volume examines Tsimshian culture from the prehistoric period to the recent past and includes contributions from such diverse perspectives as archaeology linguistics and social anthropology The contributors demonstrate a balance between current fieldwork and careful archival analysis as they build on the voluminous materials that are a legacy of the scholarship of such major figures as Boas Barbeau Tate and Garfield The book includes chapters on the crest system and participation of the Tsimshian in the non Native economy of the region and introduces much original material on shamanism basket making and feasting Falconer's Quest (Heirs of Acadia Book #5) T. Davis Bunn, Isabella Bunn, 2007-04-01 Davis and Isabella Bunn combine their complementary skills and experiences in crafting the compelling stories of the HEIRS OF ACADIA historical fiction series John Falconer a hero readers can believe in was introduced in Book 3 The Noble Fugitive Along with Book 4 The Night Angel these last three novels of the series can be appreciated on their own John Falconer known to most as simply Falconer is a large powerfully built man whose gentle spirit shines through the physical and emotional scars of his previous life as a slave trader His redemption has brought him full circle to the anti slavery cause and a personal mission to free every slave he possibly can After the events recounted in The Night Angel Falconer settles in a Moravian community on the Underground Railroad He cherishes his new wife Ada and her son Matt whom he loves as his own Falconer finally has discovered peace within and without When the unimaginable happens he and Matt face a loss so searing they can barely endure another day Falconer finds himself back on board ship this time with a father's responsibilities and an assignment of rescue rather than capture His course takes him from the eastern seaboard of America to France from Marseilles to the shores of North Africa But enormous danger risk of failure and even death challenge him on the high seas and in the desert's strongholds He has conquered many of life's storms but none as vast as this All the while those inner bondages that have gripped as powerfully as iron chains are gradually loosening their
