Quest for Hope in the Slum Community Scott Bessenecker, 2005 Humanity has existed on earth for thousands of years yet we are just now beginning to experience a kind of community that has never before existed the slum community As the number of slum communities and those living in them continue to rise at an alarming rate Christians need to examine their role in sharing the hope joy healing and servanthood of Christ to those in despair Quest for Hope in the Slum Community is a collection of the diverse dialog that exists in the area of urban transformation Everything from housing to street children along with a healthy collection of articles around a theology of urban poverty is addressed This material is designed to stimulate the imagination of those exploring the question of how to address with compassion and conviction the stark realities of urban poverty

The Kingdom of God Has No Borders Melani McAlister, 2018 In The Kingdom of God Has No Borders Melani McAlister offers a sweeping narrative of the last fifty years of evangelical history outside of the United States weaving a fascinating tale that upends much of what we know or think we know about American evangelicals

An Asian Introduction to the New Testament Johnson Thomaskutty, 2022-02-15 Understanding and assessing the New Testament writings from Asian viewpoints provides a unique and original outlook for interpretation of the Christian Scriptures To that end An Asian Introduction to the New Testament is the first book of its kind to take full account of the multireligious multiethnic multilingual multicultural and pluralistic contexts in which Asian Christians find themselves Into this already complex world issues of poverty casteism class structure honor and shame aspects colonial realities discrimination against women natural calamities and ecological crises and others add more layers of complexity Perceiving the New Testament in light of these realities enables the reader to see them in a fresh way while understanding that the Jesus Movement emerged from similar social situations Readers will find able guides in an impressive array of more than twenty scholars from across Asia Working with volume editor Johnson Thomaskutty the authors make a clear case the kernels of Christianity sprouted from Asian roots and we must read the New Testament considering those roots in order to understand it afresh today

Building a People of Power Robert C. Linthicum, 2015-09-15 Jesus never intended the church to become an institution he intended it to be a people of power transforming the world Power is the capacity ability and the willingness to act Most people and systems use power to dominate and control but others have used it relationally to liberate transform and even save Built around a biblical exploration of shalom Building a People of Power explains how local churches can use power to transform their communities and their cities Detailed power strategies are presented enabling churches to build productive relationships to address the primary issues of people they serve and to develop strong leaders faithful organizations and redeemed neighborhoods that live out shalom

The Globalizing Cities Reader Xuefei Ren, Roger Keil, 2017-10-12 The newly revised Globalizing Cities Reader reflects how the geographies of theory have recently shifted away from the western vantage points from which much of the classic work in this field was developed The expanded volume continues to make available many of the original and foundational works that underpin the research field while expanding coverage to familiarize students with new theoretical and epistemological positions as well as emerging research foci and horizons. It contains 38 new chapters including key writings on globalizing cities from leading thinkers such as John Friedmann, Michael Peter Smith, Saskia Sassen, Peter Taylor, Manuel Castells, Anthony King, Jennifer Robinson, Ananya Roy, and Fulong Wu. The new Reader reflects the fact that world and global city studies have evolved in exciting and wide-ranging ways and the very notion of a distinct global class of cities has recently been called into question. The sections examine the foundations of the field and processes of urban restructuring and global city formation. A large number of new entries focus on the emerging urban worlds of Asia, Latin America, and Africa, including Beijing, Bogotá, Cairo, Cape Town, Delhi, Istanbul, Medellín, Mumbai, Phnom Penh, Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, and Shanghai. The book also presents cases off the conventional map of global cities research such as smaller cities and less known urban regions that are undergoing processes of globalization. The book is a key resource for students and scholars alike who seek an accessible compendium of the intellectual foundations of global urban studies as well as an overview of the emergent patterns of early 21st century urbanization and associated sociopolitical contestation around the world. CGCT Toolkit Manual, WE International

,1999 The Death of Ramón González Angus Wright, 2010-07-22 The Death of Ramón González has become a benchmark book since its publication in 1990. It has been taught in undergraduate and graduate courses in every social science discipline: sustainable and alternative agriculture, environmental studies, ecology, ethnic studies, public health, and Mexican, Latin American, and environmental history. The book has also been used at the University of California, Santa Cruz as a model of interdisciplinary work and at the University of Iowa as a model of fine journalism and has inspired numerous other books, theses, films, and investigative journalism pieces. This revised edition of The Death of Ramón González updates the science and politics of pesticides and agricultural development. In a new afterword, Angus Wright reconsiders the book's central ideas within the context of globalization, trade liberalization, and NAFTA, showing that in many ways what he called the modern agricultural dilemma should now be thought of as a twenty-first century dilemma that involves far more than agriculture.
