The Court as a Stage Steven J. Gunn, A. Janse, 2006 European and English courtly culture and history reappraised through the prism of the court as theatre In the past half century court history has lost the air of frivolity that once relegated it to the margins of serious historical study and has rightfully taken a central part in the study of European states and societies in the age of personal monarchy Yet it has been approached from so many different angles and appropriated to so many different models that it can be hard to put all our new understandings together to achieve a proper perspective on the functions of the court as a whole This collection of essays uses the idea of the court as a stage for social and political interaction to re integrate different styles of court history focusing on courts in England and the Low Countries from the age of Richard II and Albert of Bavaria to that of Elizabeth I and Philip II Themes studied include the relationship between court politics and cultural change the social and political functions of court office holding the military judicial and propagandist roles of the court the economic relationships between courts and cities and the wider social and political significance of court rituals and traditions

Architectural Involutions Mimi Yiu, 2015-11-15 Taking the reader on an inward journey from fa ades to closets from physical to psychic space Architectural Involutions offers an alternative genealogy of theater by revealing how innovations in architectural writing and practice transformed an early modern sense of interiority As the English house underwent a process of inward folding replacing a logic of central assembly with one of dissemination the subject who negotiated this new scenography became a flashpoint of conflict in both domestic and theatrical arenas The book launches from a matrix of related platforms a term that in early modern usage denoted scaffolds stages and draftsmen s sketches to situate Alberti Shakespeare Jonson and others within a landscape of spatial and visual change Engaging theory with archival findings Mimi Yiu reveals an emergent desire to perform subjectivity to unfold an interior face to an admiring public

Music and the Reformation in England 1549-1660 Peter Le Huray, 1978-12-14 Presents issues that affected the course of music within the church of England during the reformation

The Poem and the Garden in Early Modern England Deborah Solomon, 2022-12-30 This book draws attention to the pervasive artistic rivalry between Elizabethan poetry and gardens in order to illustrate the benefits of a trans media approach to the literary culture of the period In its blending of textual studies with discussions of specific historical patches of earth The Poem and the Garden demonstrates how the fashions that drove poetic invention were as likely to be influenced by a popular print convention or a particular garden experience as they were by the formal genres of the classical poets By moving beyond a strictly verbal approach in its analysis of creative imitation this volume offers new ways of appreciating the kinds of comparative and competitive methods that shaped early modern poetics Noting shared patterns both conceptual and material in these two areas not only helps explain the persistence of botanical metaphors in sixteenth century books of poetry but also offers a new perspective on the types of contrastive illusions that distinguish the Elizabethan aesthetic With its interdisciplinary approach The Poem and the Garden is of interest to all students and scholars who study early modern poetics book history and garden studies

Garden and Grove John Dixon Hunt, 1996 This is a major work and I think Hunt's best Once picked up the book cannot be put down for it is an exciting exegesis of the continuing Italian influence upon English garden art Country Life

The Estates of the English Crown, 1558-1640 R. W. Hoyle, 2002-08-08 This collection of essays is the first full account of the largest estate in early modern England against which the fortunes of all other estates may be judged Previous accounts have tended to regard the Crown lands as a resource to be plundered by successive monarchs in times of need much of the monastic land confiscated by Henry VIII had been sold by the time of his death and the estates had mostly been liquidated to meet the demands of expenditure by 1640 It is not denied in these essays that the estates suffered from the attrition of periodic sale but the estates are also seen as a continuing enterprise of complexity and sophistication Each essay is concerned with the dialogue between the Exchequer and its local administrators and tenants The success and failure of initiatives launched by the Exchequer is illustrated by examples drawn from many communities throughout England

Privacy, Playreading, and Women's Closet Drama, 1550-1700 Marta Straznicky, 2004-11-25 Marta Straznicky offers a detailed historical analysis of early modern women's closet plays plays explicitly written for reading rather than public performance She reveals that such works were part of an alternative dramatic tradition an elite and private literary culture which was understood as intellectually superior to and politically more radical than commercial drama Elizabeth Cary Jane Lumley Anne Finch and Margaret Cavendish wrote their plays in this conjunction of the public and the private at a time when male playwrights dominated the theatres In her astute readings of the texts their contexts and their physical appearance in print or manuscript Straznicky has produced many fresh insights into the place of women's closet plays both in the history of women's writing and in the history of English drama Surrey Folk Tales Janet Dowling, 2011-11-30 Surrey's landscape shaped by the Devil's mischief and the whims of dancing Pharisees is home to a wealth of tales For Surrey is a place where dragons have stalked dripping poisoned saliva from their yellow teeth a place where horses have sprouted wings in order to rescue bewitched villagers a place where pumas with the gift of speech have prowled the countryside From the legends of Stephen Langton to the marvels of Captain Salvin and his flying pig Janet Dowling has vividly retold these myths and stories of Surrey and brought to life the county's heroes villains and saints Medieval and Renaissance Drama in England J.
