Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 1992 Library of Congress Subject Headings: A-E Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, 1989 Creating Consumers Carolyn M. Goldstein, 2012-05-28 Home economics emerged at the turn of the twentieth century as a movement to train women to be more efficient household managers At the same moment American families began to consume many more goods and services than they produced To guide women in this transition professional home economists had two major goals to teach women to assume their new roles as modern consumers and to communicate homemakers needs to manufacturers and political leaders Carolyn M Goldstein charts the development of the profession from its origins as an educational movement to its identity as a source of consumer expertise in the interwar period to its virtual disappearance by the 1970s Working for both business and government home economists walked a fine line between educating and representing consumers while they shaped cultural expectations about consumer goods as well as the goods themselves Goldstein looks beyond 1970s feminist scholarship that dismissed home economics for its emphasis on domesticity to reveal the movement's complexities including the extent of its public impact and debates about home economists relationship to the commercial marketplace Basic Microwaving Barbara Methven, 1988 Consolidated Library of Modern Cooking and Household Recipes Christine Terhune Herrick, 1904 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
