Real Thing Imitation And Authenticity In American Culture 1880 194:

The Real Thing Miles Orvell, 2014 The Real Thing Miles Orvell, 2014-08-25 In this classic study of the relationship between technology and culture Miles Orvell demonstrates that the roots of contemporary popular culture reach back to the Victorian era when mechanical replications of familiar objects reigned supreme and realism dominated artistic representation Reacting against this genteel culture of imitation a number of artists and intellectuals at the turn of the century were inspired by the machine to create more authentic works of art that were themselves real things The resulting tension between a culture of imitation and a culture of authenticity argues Orvell has become a defining category in our culture The twenty fifth anniversary edition includes a new preface by the author looking back on the late twentieth century and assessing tensions between imitation and authenticity in the context of our digital age Considering material culture photography and literature the book touches on influential figures such as writers Walt Whitman Henry James John Dos Passos and James Agee photographers Alfred Stieglitz Walker Evans and Margaret Bourke White and architect designers Gustav Stickley and Frank Lloyd Wright Lewis Hine as Social Critic Kate Sampsell-Willmann, 2009 A study of the great photographer as a progressive thinker and political activist The Culture of the Copy Hillel Schwartz, 2014-11-02 A novel attempt to make sense of our preoccupation with copies of all kinds from counterfeits to instant replay from parrots to photocopies The Culture of the Copy is a novel attempt to make sense of the Western fascination with replicas duplicates and twins In a work that is breathtaking in its synthetic and critical achievements Hillel Schwartz charts the repercussions of our entanglement with copies of all kinds whose presence alternately sustains and overwhelms us This updated edition takes notice of recent shifts in thought with regard to such issues as biological cloning conjoined twins copyright digital reproduction and multiple personality disorder At once abbreviated and refined it will be of interest to anyone concerned with problems of authenticity identity and originality Through intriguing and at times humorous historical analysis and case studies in contemporary culture Schwartz investigates a stunning array of simulacra counterfeits decoys mannequins and portraits ditto marks genetic cloning war games and camouflage instant replays digital imaging parrots and photocopies wax museums apes and art forgeries not to mention the very notion of the Real McCoy Working through a range of theories on biological mechanical and electronic reproduction Schwartz questions the modern esteem for authenticity and uniqueness The Culture of the Copy shows how the ethical dilemmas central to so many fields of endeavor have become inseparable from our pursuit of copies of the natural world of our own creations indeed of our very selves The book is an innovative blend of microsociology cultural history and philosophical reflection of interest to anyone concerned with problems of authenticity identity and originality Praise for the first edition The author brings his considerable synthetic powers to bear on our uneasy preoccupation with doubles likenesses facsimiles replicas and re enactments I doubt that these cultural phenomena have ever been more comprehensively or more creatively chronicled A book that gets you to see the world anew again The New

A Sense of Things Bill Brown,2010-12-28 In May 1906 the Atlantic Monthly commented that Americans live not merely in an age of things but under the tyranny of them and that in our relentless effort to sell purchase and accumulate things we do not possess them as much as they possess us For Bill Brown the tale of that possession is something stranger than the history of a culture of consumption It is the story of Americans using things to think about themselves Brown s captivating new study explores the roots of modern America s fascination with things and the problem that objects posed for American literature at the turn of the century This was an era when the invention production distribution and consumption of things suddenly came to define a national culture Brown shows how crucial novels of the time made things not a solution to problems but problems in their own right Writers such as Mark Twain Frank Norris Sarah Orne Jewett and Henry James ask why and how we use objects to make meaning to make or remake ourselves to organize our anxieties and affections to sublimate our fears and to shape our wildest dreams Offering a remarkably new way to think about materialism A Sense of Things will be essential reading for anyone interested in American literature and culture

Laws of Image Samantha Barbas,2015-09-30

Americans have long been obsessed with their images their looks public personas and the impressions they make This preoccupation has left its mark on the law The twentieth century saw the creation of laws that protect your right to control your public image to defend your image and to feel good about your image and public presentation of self These include the legal actions against invasion of privacy libel and intentional infliction of emotional distress With these laws came the phenomenon of personal image litigation individuals suing to vindicate their image rights Laws of Image tells the story of how Americans came to use the law to protect and manage their images feelings and reputations In this social cultural and legal history Samantha Barbas ties the development of personal image law to the self consciousness and image consciousness that has become endemic in our media saturated culture of celebrity and consumerism where people see their identities as intertwined with their public images The laws of image are the expression of a people who have become so publicity conscious and self focused that they believe they have a right to control their images to manage and spin them like actors politicians and rock stars

The Color of Race in America, 1900-1940 Matthew Pratt Guterl,2002-10-30 With the social change brought on by the Great Migration of African Americans into the urban northeast after the Great War came the surge of a biracial sensibility that made America different from other Western nations How white and black people thought about race and how both groups understood and attempted to define and control the demographic transformation are the subjects of this new book by a rising star in American history An elegant account of the roiling environment that witnessed the shift from the multiplicity of white races to the arrival of biracialism this book focuses on four representative spokesmen for the transforming age Daniel Cohalan the Irish American nationalist Tammany Hall man and ruthless politician Madison Grant the patrician eugenicist and noisy white supremacist W E B Du Bois the African American social scientist and advocate of social justice and Jean Toomer the American pluralist and novelist of the interior life Race politics and classification were their intense and troubling preoccupations in a world they did not create would not accept and tried to change America's Instrument Philip F. Gura, James F. Bollman, 1999 This handsome illustrated history traces the transformation of the banjo from primitive folk instrument to sophisticated musical machine and in the process offers a unique view of the music business in nineteenth century America Philip Gura and Jame Writing, Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture, 1880 - 1920 Emily Ennis, 2022-03-24 At the turn of the 20th century printing and photographic technologies evolved rapidly leading to the birth of mass media and the rise of the amateur photographer Demonstrating how this development happened symbiotically with great changes in the shape of British literature Writing Authorship and Photography in British Literary Culture 1880 1920 explores this co evolution showing that as both writing and photography became tools of mass dissemination literary writers were forced to re evaluate their professional and personal identities Focusing on four key authors Thomas Hardy Bram Stoker Joseph Conrad and Virginia Woolf each of which had their own private and professional connections to photographs this book offers valuable historical contexts for contemporary cultural developments and anxieties At first establishing the authors response to developing technologies through their non fiction personal correspondences and working drafts Ennis moves on to examine how their perceptions of photography extend into their major works of fiction A Laodicean Dracula The Secret Agent The Inheritors and The Voyage Out Reflecting on the first graphic revolution in a world where text and image are now reproduced digitally and circulated en masse and online Ennis redirects our attention to when image and text appeared alongside each other for the first time and the crises this sparked for authors how they would respond to increasingly photographic depictions of everyday life and in turn how their writing adapted to a distinctly visual mass media Modernist Fraud Leonard Diepeveen, 2019-02-05 Focusing on literature and visual art in the years 1910 1935 Modernist Fraud begins with the omnipresent accusations that modernism was not art at all but rather an effort to pass off patently absurd works as great art These assertions common in the time s journalism are used to understand the aesthetic and context which spawned them and to look at what followed in their wake Fraud discourse ventured into the aesthetic theory of the time to ideas of artistic sincerity formalism and the intentional fallacy In doing so it profoundly shaped the modern canon and its justifying principles Modernist Fraud explores a wide range of materials It draws on reviews and newspaper accounts of art scandals such as the 1913 Armory Show the 1910 and 1912 Postimpressionist shows and Tender Buttons to daily syndicated columns to parodies and doggerel to actual hoaxes such as Spectra and Disumbrationism to the literary criticism of Edith Sitwell to the trial of Brancusi s Bird in Space and to the contents of the magazine Blind Man including a defense of Duchamp s Fountain a poem by Bill Brown and the works of and an interview with the bafflingly unstable painter Louis Eilshemius In turning to these materials the book reevaluates how modernism interacted with the public and describes how a new aesthetic begins not as a triumphant explosion that initiates irrevocable changes but as an uncertain muddling and struggle with ideology Photography, Temporality, and Modernity Kris Belden-Adams, 2019-01-14 This book examines the photography's unique capacity to represent time with a degree of elasticity and abstraction Part object study part cultural philosophical history it examines the medium's ability to capture and sometimes defy time while also traveling as objects across time and space nexuses The book features studies of understudied widespread practices studio portraiture motion studies panoramas racing photo finishes composite college class pictures planetary photography digital montages and extended exposure images A closer look at these images and their unique cultural historical contexts reveals photography to be a unique medium for expressing changing perceptions of time and the anxiety its passage provokes

The Enchantments of Mammon Eugene McCarraher, 2019-11-12 An extraordinary work of intellectual history as well as a scholarly tour de force a bracing polemic and a work of Christian prophecy McCarraher challenges more than 200 years of post Enlightenment assumptions about the way we live and work The Observer At least since Max Weber capitalism has been understood as part of the disenchantment of the world stripping material objects and social relations of their mystery and magic In this magisterial work Eugene McCarraher challenges this conventional view Capitalism he argues is full of sacrament whether one is prepared to acknowledge it or not First flowering in the fields and factories of England and brought to America by Puritans and evangelicals whose doctrine made ample room for industry and profit capitalism has become so thoroughly enmeshed in the fabric of our society that our faith in the market has become sacrosanct Informed by cultural history and theology as well as management theory The Enchantments of Mammon looks to nineteenth century Romantics whose vision of labor combined reason creativity and mutual aid for salvation In this impassioned challenge to some of our most firmly held assumptions McCarraher argues that capitalism has hijacked our intrinsic longing for divinity and urges us to break its hold on our souls A majestic achievement It is a work of great moral and spiritual intelligence and one that invites contemplation about things we can't afford not to care about deeply Commonweal More brilliant more capacious and more entertaining page by page than his most ardent fans dared hope The magnitude of his accomplishment an account of American capitalism as a religion will stun even skeptical readers Christian

Century Detective Fiction and the Rise of Forensic Science Ronald R. Thomas, 1999 This is a book about the relationship between the development of forensic science in the nineteenth century and the invention of the new literary genre of detective fiction in Britain and America Ronald R Thomas examines the criminal body as a site of interpretation and enforcement in a wide range of fictional examples from Poe Dickens and Hawthorne through Twain and Conan Doyle to Hammett Chandler and Christie He is especially concerned with the authority the literary detective manages to secure through the devices fingerprinting photography lie detectors with which he discovers the truth and establishes his expertise and the way in which those devices relate to broader questions of cultural authority at decisive moments in the history of the genre This is an interdisciplinary project framing readings of literary texts with an analysis of contemporaneous developments in criminology the rules of evidence and modern scientific accounts of identity The Darkroom Anne Marsh,2003 Anne Marsh s treatise on the art of photography traces its theoretical underpinning from the early debates between the rationalists and the fantasists through psychoanalytical interpretations to the theatre of desire She investigates the role of photography in ghostly performances the masking of desire and high camp aesthetics through to performance art and the role of the photographer as a gender terrorist as in the work of Del LaGrace Volcano The study concludes with notable examples of postmodern photography as they have occurred in the Australian context This ground breaking work by a leading Monash University academic will interest all students of photography and followers of recent trends in art and art theory The Business of Tourism Philip Scranton,Janet F. Davidson,2007 The Business of Tourism transports readers from the foundations of mass leisure travel in 1860s Egypt to contemporary religious sight seeing in Branson Missouri from the Stalinist Soviet Union to post Soviet Cuba This collection of ten essays explores the enterprises institutions and technologies of tourist activity American Nietzsche Jennifer Ratner-Rosenhagen,2024-05-31 If you were looking for a philosopher likely to appeal to Americans Friedrich Nietzsche would be far from your first choice After all in his blazing career Nietzsche took aim at nearly all the foundations of modern American life Christian morality the Enlightenment faith in reason and the idea of human equality Despite that for more than a century Nietzsche has been a hugely popular and surprisingly influential figure in American thought and culture In American Nietzsche Jennifer Ratner Rosenhagen delves deeply into Nietzsche s philosophy and America s reception of it to tell the story of his curious appeal Beginning her account with Ralph Waldo Emerson whom the seventeen year old Nietzsche read fervently she shows how Nietzsche s ideas first burst on American shores at the turn of the twentieth century and how they continued alternately to invigorate and to shock Americans for the century to come She also delineates the broader intellectual and cultural contexts within which a wide array of commentators academic and armchair philosophers theologians and atheists romantic poets and hard nosed empiricists and political ideologues and apostates from the Left and the Right drew insight and inspiration from Nietzsche s claims for the death of God his challenge to universal truth and his insistence on the interpretive nature of all human thought and beliefs At the same time she explores how his image as an iconoclastic immoralist was put to work in American popular culture making Nietzsche an unlikely posthumous celebrity capable of inspiring both teenagers and scholars alike A penetrating examination of a powerful but little explored undercurrent of twentieth century American thought and culture American Nietzsche dramatically recasts our understanding of American intellectual life and puts Nietzsche squarely at its heart Metropolis in the Making Tom Sitton,William Deverell,2001-08 Informed by the rich new literature on contemporary Los Angeles Metropolis in the Making takes giant strides in illuminating the history of the present Looking back to the future this rich collection of historical essays fixes on the key formative moments of America s first decentralized industrial metropolis Not only would Carey McWilliams be pleased but so too will be every contemporary urbanist Edward W Soja author of Postmetropolis Critical Studies of Cities and Regions and co editor of The City Los Angeles and Urban Theory at the End of the Twentieth Century

The Red Rooster Scare Richard Abel, 1999-03-15 Only once in cinema history have imported films dominated the American market during the nickelodeon era in the early years of the twentieth century when the Path company's Red Rooster films could be found everywhere Through extensive original research Richard Abel demonstrates how crucial French films were in making going to the movies popular in the United States first in vaudeville houses and then in nickelodeons Abel then deftly exposes the consequences of that popularity He shows how in the midst of fears about mass immigration and concern that women and children many of them immigrants were the principal audience for moving pictures the nickelodeon became a contested site of Americanization Path's Red Rooster films came to be defined as dangerously foreign and alien and even feminine especially in relation to American subjects like westerns Their impact was thwarted and they were nearly excluded from the market all in order to ensure that the American cinema would be truly American The Red Rooster Scare offers a revealing and readable cultural history of American cinema's nationalization by one of the most distinguished historians of early cinema

The Color of Family Michael O'Malley, 2024-11-22 A uniquely blended personal family history and history of the changing definitions of race in America A zealous eugenicist ran Virginia's Bureau of Vital Statistics in the first half of the twentieth century misusing his position to reclassify people he suspected of hiding their true race But in addition to being blinded by his prejudices he and his predecessors were operating more by instinct than by science Their whole dubious enterprise was subject not just to changing concepts of race but outright error propagated across generations This is how Michael O'Malley a descendant of a Philadelphia Irish American family came to have colored ancestors in Virginia In The Color of Family O'Malley teases out the various changes made to citizens names and relationships over the years and how they affected families as they navigated what it meant to be white colored mixed race and more In the process he delves into the interplay of genealogy and history exploring how the documents that establish identity came about and how private companies like Ancestry.com increasingly supplant state and federal authorities and not for the better Combining the history of O'Malley's own family with the broader history of racial classification The Color of Family is an accessible and lively look at the ever shifting and often poisoned racial dynamics of the United States

Making Public Pasts Alan Gordon, 2001-10-24 Gordon shows that while individual memory is crucial to establishing and maintaining identity public memory is contested terrain official customs and traditions monuments historic sites and the celebration of anniversaries and festivals serve to order individual and collective perceptions of the past Public memory is therefore the product of competitions and ideas about the past that are fashioned in a public sphere and speak primarily about structures of power It conscripts historical events in a bid to guide shared memories into a coherent narrative that helps individuals negotiate their place in broader collective identities The contest over public memories involves an exclusiveness that packages others according to the ideological preferences of the dominant cultures Gordon shows that in Montreal ethnic class and gender voices strove to stake their own claims to legitimacy Rather than acknowledging a single past Montreal s many publics made and celebrated many public memories
