Liminal Landscapes Hazel Andrews, Les Roberts, 2012-05-04 Ideas and concepts of liminality have long shaped debates around the uses and practices of space in constructions of identity particularly in relation to different forms of travel such as tourism migration and pilgrimage and the social cultural and experiential landscapes associated with these and other mobilities The ritual performative and embodied geographies of borderzones non places transitional spaces or spaces in between are often discussed in terms of the liminal yet there have been few attempts to problematize the concept or to rethink how ideas of the liminal might find critical resonance with contemporary developments in the study of place space and mobility Liminal Landscapes fills this void by bringing together variety of new and emerging methodological approaches of liminality from varying disciplines to explore new theoretical perspectives on mobility space and socio cultural experience By doing so it offers new insight into contemporary questions about technology surveillance power the city and post industrial modernity within the context of tourism and mobility The book draws on a wide range of disciplinary approaches including social anthropology cultural geography film media and cultural studies art and visual culture and tourism studies It brings together recent research from scholars with international reputations in the fields of tourism mobility landscape and place alongside the work of emergent scholars who are developing new insights and perspectives in this area This timely intervention is the first collection to offer an interdisciplinary account of the intersection between liminality and landscape in terms of space place and identity It therefore charts new directions in the study of liminal spaces and mobility practices and will be valuable reading for range of students researchers and academics interested in this field
