Recapturing Anthropology Working In The Present:

Recapturing Anthropology Richard Gabriel Fox, 1991-01-01 The ten papers in this volume offer different versions of how and where anthropologists might work usefully in today's world converging on the issue of how anthropology can best recapture the progressive character its basic concepts such as culture once had Together the authors demonstrate that a reinvigorated anthropology must recognize how the profession labors under an existing intellectual discipline with its own political and economic history on a global shop floor RECAPTURING ANTHROPOLOGY, 2003 Reclaiming a Scientific Anthropology Lawrence A. Kuznar, 2008-09-05 Lawrence Kuznar makes a compelling case that it is even more important today a decade after the publication of the first edition of Reclaiming a Scientific Anthropology for anthropology to return to its roots in empirical science Black, Jewish, and Interracial Katya Gibel Azoulay, 1997-10-13 A study on being Black and Jewish in the United States Author discusses bi racialism and how and why African Americans of Jewish descent identify themselves with other groups who have had a history of legal political and racial discrimination such as Colonial Inscriptions Carolyn Martin Shaw, 1995 Marking Evil Amos Goldberg, Haim Hazan, 2015-05-01 Talking about the Holocaust has provided an international language for ethics victimization political claims and constructions of collective identity As part of a worldwide vocabulary that language helps set the tenor of the era of globalization This volume addresses manifestations of Holocaust engendered global discourse by critically examining their function and inherent dilemmas and the ways in which Holocaust related matters still instigate public debate and academic deliberation It contends that the contradiction between the totalizing logic of globalization and the assumed uniqueness of the Holocaust generates continued intellectual and practical discontent The Anthropological Turn in Literary Studies Jürgen Schläeger, 1996 Critical Essays Emmanuel Nelson, 2013-09-13 This pioneering work is the first book to systematically explore the literature of gay and lesbian writers of color in the United States Critical Essays challenges the marginalization and tokenization of gay men and lesbians of color in the dominant academic discourses by focusing exclusively on the imaginative work of representative Native American Asian American Latino a and African American gay and lesbian writers As the first book offering a scholarly assessment of ethnic gay and lesbian writing in the U S Critical Essays simultaneously defies ethnic and mainstream homophobia as well as straight and gay lesbian racism This deliberate counter to the dominant white discourse of gay and lesbian literature offers a lively contribution to the debate on the intersections of race ethnicity gender sexuality and class in American literature A wide range of critical approaches including historical readings cultural analysis and deconstructive criticism is employed to the works of such major literary figures as Audre Lorde James Baldwin John Rechy Paula Gunn Allen and Gloria Anzald a These thought provoking chapters disrupt the complacent notion of a unified gay lesbian community by questioning the presumed similarities of persons who share sexual identity Some of the specific topics explored in Critical Essays include post coloniality and gay lesbian identities emerging Asian American gay and lesbian writers redefining the

Harlem Renaissance from gay perspectives contemporary African American gay male performance art relocating the gay Filipino This groundbreaking volume will be of immense interest to undergraduate graduate and advanced scholars in Gay and Lesbian studies Women's studies African American studies Asian American studies Latino studies and Native American studies It will also serve students and scholars as a valuable introduction to the diversity of authors that comprise twentieth century American literature

Counterworks Richard Fardon, 2003-12-16 Globalization is often described as the spread of western culture to other parts of the world How accurate is the depiction of cultural flow In Counterworks ten anthropologists examine the ways in which global processes have affected particular localities where they have carried out research They challenge the validity of anthropological concepts of culture in the light of the pervasive connections which exist between local and global factors everywhere Rather than assuming that the world is culturally diverse this book proposes that culture is itself a representation of the similarities and difference recognized between forms of social life The authors address issues of globalization in terms of diverse histories and traditions of knowledge which may include the construction of difference as cultural In its attention to specific local situations such as Bali Cuba Bolivia Greece Kenya and the Maoris in New Zealand Counterworks argues that the apparent opposition between strong westernizing global forces and weak concept of culture which supposes cultures to be integrated and possessed of essential properties needs rethinking in a contemporary world where a marked sense of culture has become a wide spread property of people's social knowledge The book will have wide appeal to anthropologists to students of comparative studies in history religion and language and to anyone interested in the phenomenon of postmodernism
