Memory, Heritage, and Preservation in 20th-Century England David Strittmatter, 2023-03-09 This book explores commemoration practices and preservation efforts in modern Britain focusing on the years from the end of the First World War until the mid 1960s The changes wrought by war led Britain to reconsider major historical episodes that made up its national narrative Part of this process was a reassessment of heritage sites because such places carry socio-political meaning as do the memorials that mark them This book engages the four-way intersection of commemoration preservation tourism and urban planning at some of the most notable historic locations in England The various actors in this process from the national government and regional councils to private organizations and interested individuals did nothing less than engineer British national memory The author presents case studies of six famous British places namely battlefields Hastings and Bosworth political sites Runnymede and Peterloo and world's fairgrounds the Crystal Palace and Great White City In all three genres of heritage sites one location developed through commemorations and tourism while the other anti-sites simultaneously faltered as they were neither memorialized nor visited by the masses Ultimately the book concludes that the modern social and political environment resulted in the revival creation or erasure of heritage sites in the service of promoting British national identity A valuable read for British historians as well as scholars of memory public history and

Bush's reading list From the persistence of difference in Othello to the matter of character in Hamlet to the untimeliness of youth in Romeo and Juliet Garber discusses how these ideas have been reimagined in modern fiction theater film and the news and in the literature of psychology sociology political theory business medicine and law Shakespeare and Modern Culture is a brilliant recasting of our own mental and emotional landscape as refracted through the prism of the protean Shakespeare
