Richard Neutra and the Search for Modern Architecture Thomas S. Hines, Richard Joseph Neutra, 1994-01-01 An important contribution to the understanding of modernist culture in the United States and a perceptive analysis of the achievement of a major American architect with a European background and an international reputation William Jordy Brown University This study part biography and part architectural analysis is a modern masterpiece of architectural history The prose is lucid and sometimes elegant very much like the work of Richard Neutra which it so brilliantly examines Peter Gay Yale University An important contribution to the understanding of modernist culture in the United States and a perceptive analysis of the achievement of a major American architect with a European background and an international reputation William Jordy Brown University Richard Neutra: 1961-66 Richard Joseph Neutra, 1966 Richard Neutra's Miller House

Richard Neutra, Promise and Fulfillment, 1919-1932 Richard Joseph Neutra, 1986 The correspondence between Richard and Dione Neutra recounts the difficult early years and the developing philosophy of a man who would change the look of architecture But as Thomas S Hines Neutra's biographer makes clear the book does far more than trace the development of two artistic young people What you have here is not only valuable material about the making of an architectural career and of a salutary and interesting marriage but documents of European and American social and cultural history in the early twentieth century The letters and diary entries describe the period that followed World War I with the unbelievable inflation in Germany and the Great Depression in America The settings range from imperial Vienna to imperial Japan and from the nightmare of Ellis Island to a dream house in Los Angeles Along the way are fascinating glimpses of and comments from such architects as Gropius Mies van der Rohe Schindler and Wright that further document Richard Neutra's concepts approaches and attitudes his frustrations and achievements Running as a charming counterpoint to these intellectual themes is the story of a romance that was to endure for half a century for many of the letters are first and foremost love letters that chronicle the Neutra's meeting courtship and first ten years of marriage The book is generously illustrated by both personal photographs and photographs of Neutra's work Richard Neutra, 1892-1970 Barbara Mac Lamprecht, 2009 Born and raised in Vienna Richard Neutra 1892-1970 came to America early in his career settling in California His influence on post war architecture is undisputed the sunny climate and rich landscape being particularly suited to his cool sleek modern style Neutra had a keen appreciation for the relationship between people and nature his trademark plate glass walls and ceilings which turn into deep overhangs have the effect of connecting the indoors with the outdoors Neutra's ability to incorporate technology aesthetics science and nature into his designs his recognition as one of Modernist architecture's greatest talents

 Fernández-Cobián, 2014-10-02 The identity of places of worship is one of the most difficult problems faced by religious architecture at the start of this new millennium Contemporary globalising experiences demand peremptorily a reflection both conceptual and situational on the origin of objects people and institutions Nevertheless the chance of these migration flows annihilating already existing religious identities is perceived as a problem This problem is directly linked to the survival of architecture as a system carrying a material representation of the divine and constituting a self reference system for the community of believers Therefore it is important to define the extent to which the new religious architecture has given room to an abstract type of formal experimentation which is disconnected from social reality Does this architecture maintain its bridging sacramental value or on the contrary has it given way to the conceptualist trends still alive in the artistic world Is metaphor a valid concept for the Christian religion Is there an essential aspect linking this architecture to the centuries old tradition of the Catholic Church Different architectural pedagogical exhibition and formal initiatives have arisen in recent years and it is necessary to get to know them with the purpose of understanding where contemporary religious architecture is heading in its eternal search for a permanent identity Richard Neutra Richard Joseph Neutra, 1950 Richard
