Rimes Of A Reporter A Collection Of The:

Gentleman of the Press Paul Lancaster, 1992 A portrait of the American newspaper business during the Gilded Age focusing on the career of one its reporters Using Ralph s career as a narrative framework this book introduces him and his colleagues and re creates the journalistic world of the gaslight era A Sportswriter's Life Gerald Eskenazi, 2003 In 1959 Gerald Eskenazi dropped out of City College not for the first time and made his way to the New York Times That day the paper had two openings one in news and one in sports Eskenazi was offered either for thirty eight dollars a week He chose sports based on his image of the sports department as a cozier place than the news department Forty one years and more than eighty four hundred stories later New Yorkers know he made the right decision When Eskenazi started reporting sports journalism had a different look than it does today There was a camaraderie between the reporters and the players due in part to the reporters deference to these famous figures Unlike today journalists stayed out of the locker rooms and didn t ask questions about the players home lives or their feelings about matters other than the sports that they played In A Sportswriter s Life Eskenazi details how much sports and America have changed since then His anecdotes regarding famous and infamous sports figures from baseball great Joe DiMaggio to boxer Mike Tyson illustrate the transformation that American culture and journalism have undergone in the past fifty years Eskenazi gives a behind the scenes look into the journalistic techniques that go into crafting a story as well as the pitfalls reporters fall into There are cautionary tales of journalistic excess as well as moments of triumph such as the time Eskenazi got Joe Namath to open up to him by admitting he was a sportswriter who knew nothing about football Along the way Eskenazi discusses interviewing other reluctant subjects and writing under the intense pressure of a deadline A Sportswriter s Life is a revealing look at the people and events that were part of the history of sports from a perspective usually unavailable to the public Eskenazi s inside stories of sports are not always flattering but they are always amusing touching and revealing This entertaining volume will be enjoyed by anyone with an interest in reporting sports or just a good story Final Draft David Carr, 2020 A career spanning selection of the legendary reporter David Carr s writing for the New York Times Washington City Paper New York Magazine the Atlantic and more Throughout his 25 year journalistic career David Carr was noted for his sharp and fearless observations his uncanny sense of fairness and justice and his remarkable compassion and wit His writing was informed both by his own hardships as an addict and his intense love of the journalist s craft His range from media politics to national politics from rock n roll celebrities to the unknown civil servants who make our daily lives function was broad and often timeless Whether he was breaking exclusives about Amazon or mourning Philip Seymour Hoffman s death or taking aim at editors who valued political trivia over substance Carr s voice and concerns remain enormously influential and relevant In these hundred or so articles from a range of publications we read his stories with fresh eyes Edited by his widow Jill Rooney Carr and with an introduction written by one of the many journalists David Carr mentored and promoted Ta Nehisi Coates

Final Draft is a singular event in the world of writing news an art increasingly endangered in these troubled times The Southern Reporter and Other Stories John William Corrington,1981-04-01 The past isn't dead It isn't even the past William Faulker wrote The Southern Reporter constitutes a report on the collisions between a present that cannot find its voice and a past that reaches out incessantly into the lives of contemporary men and women An old Louisiana lawyer finds himself in California seeking a missing heir who is a physicist musician doctor theologian and a leader of a crazed and murderous santanistic cult A childless retired couple prepares treats for Halloween's children only to find that the children have taken on the character of their terrifying costumes An elderly lawyer dying of cancer is forced to recall an even greater pain and finds his own kind of salvation in the remembrance of love A court reporter who has spent his life recording the crimes and affairs of others at last cannot stand the flood of evil and visits his own justice on a man the jury has found innocent of rape A young boy is caught between his high spirited hell raising uncle and the deadly civilizing force of his mother The Southern Reporter penetrates the facade of contemporary life looking for its roots in the past not simply the past of its people but the looming imaginary structure of western history against which all of us lead our lives and die our deaths The search for images of order and the loss of them constitute the meaning of The Southern Reporter In the News Jerry W. Knudson,2001-02-01 This book provides rare and candid insights by those who experienced the reality of meeting a deadline and the pressures of space limitations and access to information Knudson has crafted a seamless narrative of journalism in America by tying together his own keen commentary on the evolution of news reporting with brief excerpts from those who actually did the reporting from colonial times through the Monica Lewinsky scandal Students will hear what the following notable journalists had to say about their craft and the coverage of contemporary events Benjamin Franklin's ambivalence about the colonial press extolling the watchdog concept of newspapers while abhorring the rough and tumble personal journalism of his day Frederick Douglass's vivid and literary description of his 1847 interview with John Brown Ida B Wells account of how her small newspaper a beacon for many African Americans was destroyed by an angry mob in 1892 Ida Tarbell's description of her meeting with John D Rockefeller Richard Harding Davis's 1911 Collier's excerpt in which he laments the shift from the resourceful and ingenious traditional correspondent to the thundering mob of reporters who descended on any event of significance Martha Gellhorn's experiences as a journalist who covered World War II for Collier's Ernie Pyle's portrait of what it was like to be a correspondent slogging with the troops through the Italian campaign in World War II David Brinkley recounting what it was like to be a veteran reporter during the JFK assassination and funeral The Washington Post's Vice President and Executive Editor Ben Bradlee discussing the impact of Watergate on news reporting Molly Ivins a Texas journalist whose first collection of columns remained on The New York Times bestseller list for over 12 months writes about media criticism The New Yorker's Jeffrey Toobin's examination of the O J Simpson trial and the phenomenon of selling information to the tabloids This book is an excellent text for courses on the history of journalism and

American social and cultural history Changing the News Wilson Lowrey, Peter J. Gade, 2012-01-25 Changing the News examines the difficulties in changing news processes and practices in response to the evolving circumstances and struggles of the journalism industry. It details the forces that shape and challenge journalism and journalistic culture and explains why journalists and their organizations respond to troubles, challenges, and uncertainties in the way they do. The Story Judith Miller, 2015-04-07 Judith Miller, star reporter for The New York Times, foreign correspondent in some of the most dangerous locations, Pulitzer Prize winner and longest jailed correspondent for protecting her sources, turns her reporting skills on herself in this memoir of high stakes journalism. Kirkus Reviews In The Story, Judy Miller turns her journalistic skills on herself and her controversial reporting which marshaled evidence that led America to invade Iraq. She writes about the mistakes she and others made on the existence in Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. She addresses the motives of some of her sources, including the notorious Iraqi Chalabi and the CIA. She describes going to jail to protect her sources in the Scooter Libby investigation of the outing of CIA agent Valerie Plame and how the Times subsequently abandoned her after twenty-eight years. Judy Miller grew up near the Nevada atomic proving ground. She got a job at The New York Times after a suit by women employees about discrimination at the paper and went on to cover national politics, head the paper's bureau in Cairo and serve as deputy editor in Paris and then deputy at the powerful Washington bureau. She reported on terrorism and the rise of fanatical Islam in the Middle East and on secret biological weapons plants and programs in Iraq, Iran, and Russia. Miller shared a Pulitzer for her reporting. She describes covering terrorism in Lebanon, being embedded in Iraq, and going inside Russia's secret laboratories where scientists concocted designer germs and killer diseases and watched the failed search for WMDs in Iraq. The Story vividly describes the real life of a foreign and investigative reporter. It is an account filled with adventure, told with bluntness and wryness. The Reporter's Notebook Dennis Bloodworth, 1988 A collection of essays and personal anecdotes on different facets of the journalist's trade. Write All about It! Steve Sherman, 2017-01-01

Supporting Safety of Journalists in Iraq Al Saraji, Ibrahim, UNESCO, 2019-12-31 Ten Days a Madwoman Deborah Noyes, 2017-02-07 The compelling and true story of how one truly dedicated journalist admitted herself to an asylum to write a groundbreaking exposé. Young Nellie Bly had ambitious goals, especially for a woman at the end of the nineteenth century when the few female journalists were relegated to writing columns about cleaning or fashion. But fresh off a train from Pittsburgh, Nellie knew she was destined for more and pulled a major journalistic stunt that skyrocketed her to fame: feigning insanity, being committed to the notorious asylum on Blackwell's Island, and writing a shocking exposé of the clinic's horrific treatment of its patients. Nellie Bly became a household name and raised awareness of political corruption, poverty, and abuses of human rights. Leading an uncommonly full life, Nellie circled the globe in a record seventy-two days and brought home a pet monkey before marrying an aged millionaire and running his company after his death. The Mirage Zay N. Smith, Pamela Zekman, 1979 Published two years after their award-winning newspaper series, this is the compelling day-by-day account of two Sun Times reporters who infiltrated the small businessman s world to expose corruption within the Chicago government Zekman and Smith bought The Mirage tavern then sat back and recorded the parade of city inspectors liquor vendors tradesmen and others with their sticky fingers extended With evidence in hand they shut down the bar and wrote a series of articles that have never been matched in intensity and long term effect The Mirage became synonymous with Chicago corruption The journalistic accolades also flowed in but the Zekman and Smith s bid for the biggest the Pulitzer Prize was torpedoed perhaps by jealous colleagues at another major metropolitan paper This edition includes a new afterword by the authors

Work and Other Sins Charlie LeDuff, 2004 Pulitzer Prize winning New York Times reporter Charlie LeDuff gives his incomparable take on the city and its denizens the bars the workingmen the gamblers the eccentrics the lonesome and the wise Work and Other Sins is filled to burst with stories of the fascinating one of a kind characters who populate the modern metropolis In these pages we meet a Long Island used car salesman a professional Santa the men who change the light bulbs atop the Empire State Building a Sinatra imitator a retired Harlem chorus line girl a lighthouse keeper a saloon priest Latin lovers a host of barroom regulars and myriad others all of whom present their take on working drinking gambling dying and countless other facts of life Charlie LeDuff takes us to the watering holes prisons veterans hospitals firehouses apartment buildings baseball fields and graveyards that make up the landscape of modern life Also included is LeDuff s acclaimed series of articles on Squad One the Brooklyn firehouse that suffered devastating losses on September 11 as well as his Pulitzer Prize winning piece on workers in a North Carolina slaughterhouse LeDuff captures the spirit of the people and places he profiles with a dead on feel for character and idiom and his signature wry wit But more than that LeDuff lets his characters speak for themselves What results is at turns riotous dirt under the nails contemplative salty joyous whiskey tinged an utterly unique vision of life in the Big Apple and beyond

The Lede Calvin Trillin, 2024-02-13 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A fascinating portrait of journalism and the people who make it told through pieces collected from the incomparable six decade career of bestselling author and longtime New Yorker writer Calvin Trillin The Lede contains profiles that are acknowledged classics of the form and will be studied until A I makes hash out of all of us Dwight Garner The New York Times LONGLISTED FOR THE PEN DIAMONSTEIN SPIELVOGEL AWARD I ve been writing about the press almost as long as I ve been in the game At some point it occurred to me that disparate pieces from various places in various styles amounted to a picture from multiple angles of what the press has been like over the years since I became a practitioner and an observer Calvin Trillin has reported serious pieces across America for The New Yorker covered the civil rights movement in the South for Time and written comic verse for The Nation But one of his favorite subjects over the years a superb fit for his unique combination of reportage and humor has been his own professional environment the American press In The Lede Trillin gathers his incisive often hilarious writing on reporting reporters and the media world that is their orbit He writes about a legendary crime reporter in Miami a swashbuckling New York Times reporter and an erudite film critic in Dallas who once a week transformed himself from an appreciator of the French nouvelle vague into a crude connoisseur of movies like Mother Riley Meets the Vampire There are pieces on the House of Lords aspirations of a North American press baron the paucity of gossip columns in Russia the embroilment of a weekly newspaper in a missing person case and the founding of a publication called Beautiful Spot A Magazine of Parking Uniting all of this is Trillin's signature combination of empathy humor and graceful prose The Lede is an unparalleled portrait of one of our fundamental American institutions from a master journalist

Foreign Correspondence John Hohenberg, 1995-06-01 This extensively revised edition reads like an adventure story about the vital role of the foreign correspondent throughout history From the roles of Winston Churchill and Georges Clemenceau to those of some of history's greatest war correspondents from Ernie Pyle to Peter Arnett Hohenberg himself a reporter of considerable standing distills the wars and historical moments that have shaped world politics In the second edition Hohenberg emphasizes the American experience particularly the recent role of television and daily newspaper correspondents in Vietnam the Gulf War and the post Cold War crises He also examines the role of the foreign correspondent in the future and the impact of new media technologies on this profession

The Paper's Papers Richard F. Shepard, 1996 In August of 1896 an ambitious publisher from Chattanooga Adolph Ochs bought the almost bankrupt New York Times Shepard who has been there for half of those hundred years draws on rarely seen material from The Times's vast private archive to show how Adolph Ochs and his successors built the country's greatest paper Illustrations

A Time of Change Harrison Evans Salisbury, 1988 The second volume of the author's personal memoirs as a reporter for the New York Times it covers the years 1954 to the present with material on China Russia and Vietnam

Treasure Hunt William Holmes Honan, 1998

My Times in Black and White Gerald M. Boyd, Robin D. Stone, 2010-02-01 An inspiring and riveting tale Patrik Henry Bass Senior Editor Essence After a career of many firsts journalist Gerald Boyd became the first black managing editor of the New York Times But the dream ended abruptly with Boyd's forced resignation in the wake of scandal over Jayson Blair a reporter who had plagiarized and fabricated news stories A rare inside view of power and behind the scenes politics at the nation's premier newspaper My Times in Black and White is the inspirational tale of a man who rose from urban poverty to the top of his field struggling against whitedominated media tearing down racial barriers and all the while documenting the most extraordinary events of the latter twentieth century

Son of the Times John W. Fountain, 2015-04-06 A collection of the works of award winning journalist and weekly columnist for the Chicago Sun Times John W Fountain He writes with intelligence compassion and eloquence about stuff that nobody in Chicago writes about but should He writes about his personal struggles with faith and organized religion This of course is a matter of central importance in the lives of so many Chicagoans but who else in a newspaper in Chicago or any city addresses the matter without apology or ironic distancing if at all The author writes about the world he grew up in stark poverty on Chicago's West Side and about how he rose above always honoring those who gave him a boost and showed him the way He writes about the challenges of fatherhood especially as a father to young black children who are sure to encounter the same giant obstacles and temptations he knew so well He writes as well with wit and humor about the everyday small stuff such as women s hairstyles and hot dogging professional football players John s general approach as a columnist is to mine the personal to find the universal a rather dangerous form of journalism that works only if done very well He does so beautifully well
