SCIENTIFIC /
TECHNICAL PAPER

ABSTRACT

Scientific and technical papers have certain characteristics. Some characteristics are associated with the quality of the scientific or technical content while others are related to the quality of writing. The first part of this report presents these characteristics while the second part focuses on the structure and contents of papers in detail.

Part 1: Characteristics of Scientific and Technical Papers

The important characteristics of scientific and technical papers are originality, accuracy, conciseness, clarity, correctness, structure, comprehensiveness, consistency, and target readers.

1. Originality

Originality is the most important characteristic for publication of papers in scientific and technical journals. Editors and reviewers accept or reject a manuscript based on the presence or absence of its originality. The followings are acceptable definitions of originality [1]:

- Presenting a major piece of new research findings for the first time,
- Extending or elaborating on an existing piece of work,
- Developing a new product or improving an existing one,
- Reinterpreting an existing theory in a different context,
- Demonstrating originality by testing someone else's idea,
- Conducting empirical work that has not been done before,
- Examining the previous work from a new angle to produce new knowledge,
- Synthesising information in a new or different way to add to knowledge,
- Providing a new interpretation using existing /known information,
- Applying existing ideas/ a particular technique in a new area,
- Developing a new research tool or technique or algorithm,
- Conducting a study on a previously unresearched area or topic,
- Producing a critical analysis of something not previously examined.

Original work can be the outcome of basic or applied research. The purpose of basic research is to create new knowledge or understanding without considering the overall practical applicability whereas an applied research is concerned with practical applications of knowledge to solve problems.

The Office of Research Integrity, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services [2], has defined research misconduct which means of fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. Wikipedia has reported several cases of misconduct including 61 cases from biomedical sciences and 6-7 cases, each from chemistry, physics and social sciences [3].

2. Accuracy

Accuracy in technical writing refers to factual and correct information, free from bias or subjectivity. Researchers must be fair and honest in reporting facts without any distortion. The methods must be replicable to check the validity or verify results. It is important to always report the facts about a particular experiment, even if unexpected results were obtained. It is wrong and unethical to falsify information and data. An inaccurate writing does not command respect and confidence from the readers.

3. Structure

The basic structure of scientific papers is presented in Part-2 of this report.

4. Comprehensiveness

A comprehensive paper explores a topic thoroughly and presents the details in a proper structure so that the paper is complete and informative.

5. Clarity

The paper must be clear and straightforward so that it is easier for the target readers to understand. The author needs to adhere to the subject matter and to convey facts in clear terms. The following suggestions can improve clarity while writing and editing the manuscripts [4]:
