Kelly, 2012-10-01 God is beyond time but every person is firmly planted in it History impacts us endlessly including the ways we understand the church and its teachings This has been the case since the time of the earliest believers In History and Heresy Joseph F Kelly considers heresies and the historical forces that shaped them In his customarily engaging style he demonstrates that historical forces and human beings of particular historical eras play a major role in how both orthodoxy and heresy come into being and how they are understood Far from reducing orthodoxy and heresy to historical forces he shows rather that a grasp of the historical context of both is essential in understanding them and especially in determining what might be orthodox or heretical the Natural History of Metaphor David LaRocca,2013-09-26 Metaphors are ubiquitous and yet or for that very reason go largely unseen We are all variously susceptible to a blindness or blurry vision of metaphors yet even when they are seen clearly we are left to situate the ambiguities connotations and contradictions they regularly present logically aesthetically and morally David LaRocca s book serves as a set of reminders of certain features of the natural history of our language especially the tropes that permeate and define it As part of his investigation LaRocca turns to Ralph Waldo Emerson s only book on a single topic English Traits 1856 which teems with genealogical and generative metaphors blood birth plants parents family names and race In the first book length study of English Traits in over half a century LaRocca considers the presence of metaphors in Emerson s fertile text a unique work in his expansive corpus and one that is regularly overlooked As metaphors are encountered in Emerson s book and drawn from a long history of usage in work by others a reader may realize or remember what is inherent and encoded in our language but rarely seen how metaphors circulate in speech and through texts to become the lifeblood of thought History and Progress of AFCRL, Jan. 1961-June 1962 Air Force
